

MADAME DE BEAUSSET, a Russian lady, dressed as a Russian Sister of Mercy, was chatting with Miss Effie Cassatt.

SELLING RAG-RABBITS. She is Miss Nora Ward Rhoads.

SOLD FLOWERS. Mrs. W. Standley Stokes (left) and Mrs. Frederic H. Strawbridge, Jr.

HOUSE DE LUXE ON WHEELS. Pearl Doles Bell, the novelist, is at the window of the automobile house, as they arrived in Philadelphia from New York yesterday.

SOME OF THE BUSY FOLKS AT THE FLOWER MARKET IN RITTENHOUSE SQUARE YESTERDAY

ITS LAST ABODE. Gambling paraphernalia being unloaded by city employees near the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where it was burned.

A HAREM GIRL. Miss Dorothy Coulser will appear in "Let's Go" at the Academy of Music Monday evening.

THE VARSITY CREW. They were with many other U. of P. athletes who circled Franklin Field.

GEORGE GORDON. A member of the Central High School relay team—the winners in the high school event.

IN WRESTLING EXHIBITION. Mike Dorizas (top) and "Chief" Myers.

PHOTOGRAPHED AT THE ANNUAL MAY DAY JUBILEE HELD BY PENN STUDENTS ON FRANKLIN FIELD YESTERDAY

DR. EMERY R. JOHNSON, dean of the Wharton School, talks on the railroad situation in an Editorial Page interview.

SOME PIPE. Photographed with Representative Roy C. Fitzgerald, of Dayton, O., at his Washington office. The Congressman says the pipe was once owned by the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria.

EPHAPHY PLAYERS. They presented "Going Up" at their hall, Twelfth and Jackson streets, last night and will repeat the performance tonight. The telephone operator is Miss Margaret Butts.

IN the group are George Redd, Miss Grace Bozarth and James Healy (left to right).

PREPARING FOR CUTTER RACE. The battleship Arizona crew, one of the several U. S. Navy crews who will compete for the Lieutenant Commander Richard M. Elliott Cup, in the "American Henley."

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

MISS MARY BOYD, 2041 Arch street, operating an automatic armature winding machine at the Electro Dental Manufacturing Company, Thirty-third and Arch streets. She winds twenty a day.

IN DANCING CARNIVAL. Mary Ploucher, of Frankford, appeared in the Lingo dancing carnival, held at the Frankford Theatre.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

THIRTY-TWO YEARS A PATROLMAN. He is John Volmer, stationed at Twelfth and Walnut streets. Volmer spends a few weeks gunning each year.

IN MAY FESTIVAL. Miss Marion Belz, as Fairy Queen, and Miss Lynore McNulty, as Beauty, appeared for the benefit of the American Catholic Historical Society at the Bellevue-Straford.

Miss Lynore McNulty, as Beauty, appeared for the benefit of the American Catholic Historical Society at the Bellevue-Straford.