

LEGION POST HELPS HONOR HERO DEAD

Hear Sermon by Dr. Tomkins Urging Continued Armament for U. S. at Present

SERVICE IN HOLY TRINITY

In a ceremony honoring the soldiers and sailors of the United States who died in the great war and former conflicts, the Veterans Corps, First Infantry, N. G. P. and the members of the Walter M. Gearty Post of the American Legion yesterday paraded from the First Regiment Armory to Holy Trinity Church, Nineteenth and Walnut streets and attended an impressive service. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of the church and chaplain of the corps. The parade formed at the armory early in the afternoon at Broad and Callowhill streets and marched down

Broad to Locust street and up to Rittenhouse Square. A halt was made at the Union League to place a wreath of flowers at the base of the statue of "The Comrade of '61." Members of the 103d Combat Engineers joined the marchers at the armory at the start of the parade. The men wore in uniform but unarmed. The church was filled with relatives of the veterans and of those who fell in the war. In his address Dr. Tomkins deprecated the moves for disarmament as long as the world remained in its present unsettled condition. "I would like to see this country lead in disarmament," he said, "but as long as there are evil men in the world there must be force. The only way to combat wickedness, revolution and kindred social evils is with force. "Some day the peace for which our boys died will come, but the day is not yet here and the time for disarmament is inopportune until it does." Members of the 395th Signal Battalion, Eightieth Division, will hold a reunion and banquet at the Hotel Lorraine next Saturday evening, May 28. The battalion served in the St. Mihiel and Argonne sectors and were active in maintaining wire communication between headquarters and the front lines under shell fire. On Thursday and Friday of this week the Henry H. Houston Post, No. 3, will assist the G. A. R. in patriotic exercises in the schools of Germantown and Chestnut Hill. Sunday, the 29th, the post, with Ellis Post, No. 6, G. A. R., will go to Ivy Hill and Holy Sepulcher Cemeteries and decorate the graves of war dead. The post will also co-operate with the G. A. R. in the celebration of Memorial Day in Germantown and Chestnut Hill. The Womans, N. J., Post of the American Legion scored a profound success Saturday evening when it gave a Far East dance. The "hop" was voted by the 300 dancers, who added to the brilliance of the affair, as not had a one dull moment throughout the entire evening. Four hours of merry and lulling entertainment was the award of those who took part.

Fall Breaks Man's Collarbone
James Van Cleeve, giving Fox Chase as his home, applied at Cooper Hospital, Camden, this morning for treatment of a fractured collarbone. He told physicians he had fallen from a second-story window in Ocean City, but was unable to give any details.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By Lee Pape

I ran all the way home yesterday, hoping I wouldn't be late for supper on account of having bin late so often lately, and I opened the front door and peeked in, and everybody was in the dining room eating already, me shutting the door agen easy, thinking Heck.

Wich jest then Puds Simkins started to go past, me saying, Hay Puds, do me a favor will you, Puds 'll hide and you ring my front bell and whoever comes to the door tell them I was unavoidably detained, and then they'll inspect me to be late and then 'll go in a little later and it will be all rite. And I hid in the next store vestibule peeking out, and Puds rang the bell and me opened the door, Puds saying, How do you do, Mrs. Potts, Benny is being unavoidably detained.

Wats that, how do you meen, wat on erth is the matter? sed ma, and Puds sed, Nothing, he's jest unavoidably detained and he cant help it.

O, something dreadful has happened to him, I know it, tell me immediately, tell me the worst, dont stand there gawking, speak out, wats happened to him? sed ma, shaking Puds by the shoulder hard as anything, and Puds sed, Nothing, he fell down a short hole but he expects to be out eny minit now.

O, is he badly hurt, this is terrible, wat hole, wats, dont stand there gawking I tell you, sed ma. And she keep on shaking Puds and Puds didnt know etts to say so he didnt say it.

me thinking, G, heck, this is fearsome. And I came out of the next store vestibule saying, Hello ma, heer I am. Wat were you doing in there, how dare you, wat do you meen by giving me such a scare? sed ma. And she gave me a feare track and I quick went in the house on account of being pushed in and had to go to bed rite after supper and rite before dissett.

THIEF USES S'OUT
It Provides Ingress and Egress to Steal $250 Worth of Jewelry
J. W. Edwards, of 6112 Carpenter street, reported to the police yesterday that about $250 worth of jewelry was stolen from a room on the second floor of his home Saturday night.

He and his wife left the house for a short time Saturday night, and on returning heard some one walking around upstairs. He went up to investigate and got to the room in time to see a man disappear through the window and slide down a rainpout. The indications were that he got into the house the same way.

People from all parts of the United States, when buying a gift of importance, come to the store of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company to make their selection because of the well-earned reputation for the best quality which this house has maintained for many generations.

THERE are many diamonds that are beautiful to look upon and that, indeed, will bear close inspection, but there are none so exquisite or so brilliant as the "Polished Girdle Diamond." This is partly due to the fact that only diamonds of super-quality are of sufficient cohesion to submit to this manner of cutting. The girl who receives an Engagement Ring set with a "Polished Girdle Diamond" may be justly proud, as she knows that her fiancé has selected the very finest that can be bought. This marvelously beautiful stone is exclusive with the house of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, who have their own staff of artists and craftsmen designing and executing fitting settings for this most lovely of all diamonds.

FOR the many outdoor events of the summer, a man never looks so well-dressed as when he is wearing white flannel trousers and a dark coat. The store of MacDonald & Campbell, 1334-36 Chestnut Street, are now selling their white flannels at eleven dollars. This is very good value, for these trousers are not only smart looking but are the best fitting and most serviceable produced and measure up to the high standard of quality for which that company is famous. Besides these, they have a complete line of outing trousers, made up in a large variety of materials suitable for golf, tennis, boating, fishing and, in fact, for all outdoor activities. MacDonald & Campbell's sport shirts are also noted for their smart and good appearance.

IN the window of Barg's, Cleaners and Dyers, 1113 Chestnut Street, a pink organdie dress attracted my attention. It had just been cleaned and looked as fresh and dainty as new. Organdies, of course, may be laundered, but they never retain their original loveliness, especially colored ones, which are apt to fade so that they are almost unwearable. It would really be worth your while to let Barg's clean many of your summer clothes—silk sport skirts, Georgette dresses, etc.—which if submitted to the whitening process, old, but which, if cleaned properly, may be worn on many occasions. Barg's also clean men's clothes very successfully. Now is the time to have the white flannels cleaned and laundered. For more information, call on Barg's and other summer functions.
