MARY SOME SPENDER

Had 14 Cents When Arrested

Two months of a "perfectly lovely me" cost seventeen-year-old Mary Lawrence street above Nor-Pezek. Lawrence street above Norris, just fourteen cents less than $1000.

Mary was arrested by Camden police resterday, turned over to Philadelphia police, and held by them on her father's charges of larceny of $1000.

She was arrested just as she was about to get on a ferryboat. Since she left her home March 16, she told the police, she had been in New York a lew days, and the rest of the time in Camden. Police say the money was taken from the cellar of her home, where it was hidden, and spent on motion-picture bouses and other amuse-

HISTORY OF "NO. 10" READY Work of Pennsylvania Hospital Base Unit Told in Book

The work of the Pennsylvania Hospital in the war has been recorded in an interesting volume which has just appeared, entitled History of the Pennrylvania Hospital Unit (Base Hospital, No. 10, U. S. A.) in the Great War. "No 10." as it was known in the service, was one of the first to go to France, and one of the last to leave. Most of the officers and enlisted men abroad for two years. Six memof the unit, one a woman, Miss Chapters covering some of the special ectivities of the unit are contributed by Colonel Richard H. Harte, Colonel John H. Gibbon. Lieutenant Colonel Edward B. Hodge, Captain John B. Flick and Miss Margaret A. Dunlop.
