

WET AND DRY FIGHT ON IN WILMINGTON

Candidate for Mayor Makes Definite Announcement of Stand for Liquor

FIRST CLEAR-CUT ISSUE

A distinctive issue has developed between the wet and dry factions in Wilmington. At the next election the people will have an opportunity to endorse or defeat Thomas F. Bayard, a candidate for Mayor, who has declared himself in favor of liquor and who is a member of the Association Opposed to Prohibition, a national anti-Volstead organization.

Mr. Bayard is a member of one of the oldest families in Delaware, prominent in Wilmington and a son of the late Senator Thomas F. Bayard. He is running on the Democratic ticket.

At the announcement of his candidacy members of the Ministers' Association asked Mr. Bayard whether or not he was a member of the anti-prohibition organization and he immediately announced that he was. Officials of the association at Washington are planning to get into the campaign and give what support and influence they can bring to bear to back the wet candidate. It is expected that the Philadelphia committee of the Association Opposed to Prohibition will be asked to lend its support.

Frank Mauran, secretary of the local committee, said yesterday that headquarters had been obtained and an active campaign for membership would be started immediately. "At the national headquarters in Washington," he said, "a day force of twenty-five clerks and an equal night force are having difficulty taking care of the flood of membership applications and requests for information that are pouring in."

"The announcement from Wilmington that Mr. Bayard has stood by his guns gives the association just what it needs—a clear-cut issue between the wets and the drys on which the people can vote. It will do more to crystallize sentiment than anything else."

"It is evident from reports we have received that sentiment in Wilmington is definitely against prohibition. But under the methods used to put through the amendment the people did not have the proper opportunity to express this opposition. Now they are to be given it."

ROB HOME OF $700

Jewelry and Silverware Stolen From Mrs. Emma Johnson, Sixty-third St.

Thieves entered the home of Mrs. Emma Johnson, 105 South Sixty-third street, while she was at the "movies" last night and stole $700 in jewelry and silverware.

Entrance was made through a side window which overlooks a passageway. Mrs. Johnson returned shortly after 10 o'clock and found bureau drawers, clothing and papers strewn about the floor.

STOLEN BOAT AFIRE AND PIRATES FLEE

Camden River Thieves Escape and Motor Launch Sinks. Pier Endangered

PLEASURE TRIP SPOILED

River pirates attempted to steal a motorboat loaded with supplies at Seventh street and the Cooper Creek, Camden, early this morning, but were compelled to abandon the craft when it caught fire. Passersby saw figures of men fleeing in the dusk. The loss was about $1500.

The boat sank while firemen were on the way to extinguish the flames. It was owned by George Wagner, of Camden, who had made preparations to take a week-end trip down the bay with friends.

The fire spread to a small pier and was prevented from causing more serious damage by the quick work of the firemen.

A black cap, which the police believe belonged to one of the pirates, was found on the pier. Footprints showing that several men were in the gang were also discovered.

The pirates, who make a rendezvous along the South Camden river front, are blamed for several thefts of boats in recent months.

SHOOT'S SELF IN LEG

While cleaning a revolver at his home last night, Richard Holloway shot himself accidentally in the leg. Holloway, who is twenty-seven years old, lives at 1124 Spring street. His injury was treated at the Hahnemann Hospital.

"Just rub it on!"
