

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight and Tuesday; little change in temperature; moderate north-wind.
TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR
8	9	10	11	12	1	2
65	64	65	66	66	66	67

Philadelphia Ledger

NIGHT EXTRA
PRICE TWO CENTS

VOL. VII.—NO. 221

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa., Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY, MAY 30, 1921

Published Daily Except Sunday. Subscription Price $4 a Year by Mail. Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company.

DEAD, 17 HURT P. R. R. CRASH AT BURLINGTON

Atlantic City Express for New York Plows Into Local at Station

2 REAR WOODEN COACHES OF TRAIN HIT TELESCOPED
Women, One Wife of Man Killed, Buried in Wreckage and Dug Out by Firemen

TOWN HALL IS HOSPITAL

Dead and Injured in Burlington Wreck

DEAD
John G. Noblitt, 33 Adelta avenue, Trenton, N. J.
Elmer N. Keeling, 441 North Ninth street, Camden, N. J.

INJURED
Mrs. John G. Noblitt, 33 Adelta avenue, Trenton, N. J., leg fractured, injured internally; condition serious.
Mrs. Margaret Heffinger, Bordentown, N. J., leg fractured, possible fracture of skull; condition critical.
Mrs. Francis Palast, Hackettstown, N. J., shock and contusions of body.
Mrs. Emma Loux, 327 Smith street, Elizabeth, N. J., injuries about head.Mrs. Martha Krepper, 842 Bergen street, Newark, N. J., injured about legs.
Mrs. Anna Ford, 22 West Ninety-ninth street, New York city, injured about legs.
Mrs. E. W. Hall, 852 North Eighteenth street, East Orange, N. J., injured about arms and shoulders.
Mrs. Catherine Gaughan, 332 South Orange street, New York city, contusions of head and body.
Mrs. J. C. Slattery, Paterson, N. J., injuries of head and face.
Miss Viola Pittenger, Newark, N. J., contusions of head.
Mrs. Cornelius Graham, Orange, N. J., suffering shock and contusion.
Mrs. W. J. Ashbury, Trenton, N. J., contusions and bruises of head.
Mrs. Catherine Gaughan, Newark, N. J., suffering shock, laceration and contusions of body.
Michael Russa, no address, lacerations of feet.

Two were killed, two perhaps fatally injured and fifteen more hurt to a less extent in a wreck on the Pennsylvania Railroad at 8:28 o'clock last night near Burlington, N. J.

The wreck was caused by a heavy steel car excursion train homeward bound from Atlantic City to New York, crashing into the rear of a Camden-bound local train, composed of wooden coaches.

The two men killed and the two women most severely hurt were riding in the rear coach of the local. The loss of life would have been heavier, even if witnesses agreed, had not many passengers left the train at Edgewater Park and Burlington. The rear car was derailed when the local left Camden at 7:25 o'clock.

The loss of life in the wreck might have been far larger, except that the local had discharged many of its passengers at Burlington. It is said that at least fifteen persons left the rear coach, which was reduced to kindling by the force of the collision, when the train stopped at Burlington. Division officials refused to make these statements public. Corner Isaac J. Cliver, of Mount Holly, is making a separate investigation.

The interstate Commerce Commission has sent investigators to Burlington to study and report on the cause of the wreck.

The New York train had been routed over the tracks of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad to Haddonfield; there it was to be taken to Trenton, where it was to be switched to the Camden and Delaware division, which it was following when the wreck occurred. Another section had proceeded the wrecked local train over the same route.

Railroad men said that yesterday, on account of the exceedingly heavy holiday excursion traffic, all local trains on the Trenton division were "bucking the traffic" east bound. That is to say, all east-bound trains, as trains out of Camden for Trenton are called, were

Express in Three Sections
The express, known as Extra No. 77, had left Atlantic City at 7:01 o'clock. It was one of three sections carrying New York excursionists home after a day spent at Atlantic City.

The New York train had been routed over the tracks of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad to Haddonfield; there it was to be taken to Trenton, where it was to be switched to the Camden and Delaware division, which it was following when the wreck occurred. Another section had proceeded the wrecked local train over the same route.

Railroad men said that yesterday, on account of the exceedingly heavy holiday excursion traffic, all local trains on the Trenton division were "bucking the traffic" east bound. That is to say, all east-bound trains, as trains out of Camden for Trenton are called, were

TWO PASSENGERS DIE IN BURLINGTON, N. J. WRECK

EXPRESS FROM SHORE RAMS LOCAL TRAIN
Here are shown the two rear cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad local passenger train, composed of five wooden coaches, which was hit at Burlington station last night by an Atlantic City express, bound for New York. Two men were killed and seventeen other persons, including women, were hurt, some seriously. The men killed and most of the injured were passengers on the local. The local's coaches were of wood. The last car was terrifically battered by the engine of the express. The coach ahead was also badly damaged. The men who were killed were in the last car.

CITY PAYS TRIBUTE TO ITS HERO DEAD

Veterans of Civil and Spanish-American Wars March With Youth in Honor of Comrades

PRIDE IN MOTHERS' HEARTS

A mighty torrent of tribute swept through Philadelphia today, America's most solemn holiday, for the embattled sons of the nation, who made the great sacrifice.

Faltering veterans of the Civil War, younger men who wore the khaki of the Spanish-American conflict, and men of sparkling youth, who fought in France and Flanders, marched in honor of their fallen comrades.

In tens of thousands of homes in this city the spirit of love bowed low before the spirit of service, and where the homes sheltered gold-starred war mothers, hearts racked with sorrow were also thrilled with pride.

Veterans Assemble After Daybreak
Soon after daybreak the veterans began assembling for the march to cemeteries and the graves of those who wore the garb of the army or the navy.

Drum-beat and bugle call and the crack of rifles broke the silence in 160 spots in and about the city, military tributes to those who died on the open battlefield, in trenches or on the decks and fighting tops of warships.

The Memorial Day services here today were all the more solemn because of the presence of the bodies of thirty American soldiers lifted from their resting places in France for sepulchre in their home soil.

The bodies reached here Saturday morning in their day-draped pine coffins, and were met by members of the National American War Mothers and hundreds of the general public.

Divide Grave Decorating
The privilege of decorating the grass-covered mounds of the soldier dead was divided this morning among posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Spanish War Veterans, the Naval Veterans' Association and the American Legion.

The entire program virtually was arranged by the G. A. R. men, a graceful concession by the younger men-arms who were unborn when their elders were fighting at Gettysburg, Antietam, Brandywine and at a score of other battles of the Civil War.

While the day was consecrated to the dead, it had its lighter side as well, as shown later in the day by picnics, field sports, pilgrimages to places of historic interest, visits to pleasure resorts and automobile tours.

Nearly everything on wheels and that included even the baby carriages and the kiddie cars, carried flags today, and the national colors were displayed on all public buildings and on the great majority of private dwellings.

Meade Post at Cemeteries
Members of the George G. Meade Post No. 1, of the Grand Army, decorated graves of their comrades this morning in North, Central and Laurel Hill Cemeteries, assisted by Post 2 Camp No. 258, Sons of Veterans, and General Lawton Post No. 2, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At 1:45 o'clock this afternoon the veterans assembled at Broad and Arch streets, and after marching on Broad street for a brief ceremony at the monument to former President Meade, they proceeded to the cemeteries.

Score by Innings of A. M. Games in Major Leagues

Team	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	Total
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Athletics	0	1	1	3	1	0	0	2	3	1	2	0	13
Philadelphia	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Cleveland	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
St. Paul	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

MISS STIRLING IS DEFEATED ABROAD

American Golf Champion Loses to British Queen in English Tourney

MRS. BARLOW SURVIVES

How American Women Fared in British Golf

Mrs. R. H. Barlow, Merion C. C., Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. Culross, Stannmore, 3 and 2.

Miss Lucy Hanchett, San Francisco, was defeated by Mrs. B. H. Deane, Hanger Hill, 7 and 6.

Miss Edith Cummings, Chicago, beat Miss Isabelle Kemp, France, 8 and 6.

Mrs. Quentin Felner, Long Island, defeated Mrs. C. C. Bridgford, of Hale, 3 and 1.

Miss Hanchett, San Francisco, lost to Miss Judith Fowler, Harrogate, 2 and 1.

Miss L. B. Eldens, Oakmont, lost to Miss O. E. Chambers, Wirral, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Thurston Wright, Allegheny, defeated Mr. D. McIlroy, Turinberry, 3 and 1.

Miss Marion Hollis, Westbrook, beat Miss Allison Hughes, 4 and 2.

Miss Alexa Stirling, Atlanta, Ga., lost to Miss Cecil Leitch, British champion, 3 and 2.

By the Associated Press
Turnberry, Scotland, May 30.—Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, Ga., American woman golf champion, was defeated by Miss Cecil Leitch, the British champion, 3 up and 2 to play, in the British ladies' open golf championship tournament here today.

Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, of the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, won her first round match, defeating Mrs. Culross, of Stannmore, 3 up and 2 to play.

Interest in the first round centered in the Leitch-Stirling match. A huge crowd, among whom were

FIANCE JOINS HUNT FOR GIRL'S SLAYER, BELIEVED SUICIDE

Walter J. Tobin Says Josephine Howard Left Him for Her Ball Escort

THINKS SHE WAS MARRIED TO MAN WHO KILLED HER

Aided by Josephine Howard's fiancé, a young man who has heretofore not appeared in the case, city detectives are firm in the conviction that Lester Newhall, whom they believe to be the slayer of the eighteen-year-old telephone girl, is a suicide, and are searching all out-of-the-way places for his body.

The dead girl's fiancé, Walter J. Tobin, thirty years old, of Jersey City, a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, returned to his home at just about the hour his fiancée was being met by her death only a few blocks away.

Thinks She Was Married
"I had no idea that such terrible threats were hanging over Josephine," he said. "I cannot understand why she did not make a confidant of me. If she had done so I would have put a stop to the whole business. I would have taken that Newhall's gun away from him."

"I think I know it all right," he said, "I had a strong feeling that she was married to him all the time. I have nothing to base it on, but a hunch, but it is so strong that I know it all right."

"I came over unexpectedly to call on Josephine Friday night. We have known each other over a year. We met through her brother, Cornelius, who is also employed by the P. R. R. Although no definite date had been set for the ceremony it was decided that we were to be married some time in August. I had an agreement both with her and her family."

"When I got to her home early Friday evening I noticed that she appeared distraught and nervous. Finally, she told me that she had to go and meet Alice. I don't know who Alice is."

"I had her that if she was going out with some young fellow to do something like that to go ahead and I would come back some other night. She stuck to her story, however, and left me. Oh, if she only told me what she was going to do and the awful threat that was hanging over her."

Here to Get Newhall
"I am here to get that man Newhall. I am not making any threats of what I will do, but just let me get my hands on that fellow."

Jack Stuart, a boarder at the Howard home, managed to convince the Detective Bureau of the soundness of his theory that Newhall shot the girl and that his body will be found in the Pennsylvania Railroad power house at Seventeenth and Filbert streets. Stuart claimed to have seen Newhall leave the building.

He found that there was an exit into a sewer under one of the boilers and he believed Newhall had taken refuge there and killed himself. He had personally heard Newhall threaten to kill the girl and himself several times.

Detectives Mulgrew, Mulgrew and Sheller, accompanied by Tobin and Stuart, went to the power house early this afternoon and, donning overalls, went down under the boiler to search the sewer.

Many factors combine to make police believe the theory that Newhall committed suicide. Not only because he took the weapon away with him, which is an unusual thing for the occasional criminal to do, according to police, but also additional information gathered in a relation with the girl, confirm this theory in the minds of many of the detectives.

Complications Arise
Complications have been added to the investigation by what the city police believe to be the actions of a detective force. While there is no outspoke opinion as to the actions of Major Wynne's men, it is known the Detective Bureau in general resents the prosecution of an independent investigation by the county detective force.

Without consulting city police in any particular county, Detectives Dickerson and Henry searched the girl's house some hours after City Detectives Belslaw, Mulgrew and Douglas had completed their work.

Some investigators have also crossed the path of the city men in the search for the body.

MAN RECOVERS MEMORY WITH HELP OF DETECTIVE
William Dormer, Amesia Sufferer Sought Aid to Identify Himself

A man said to be suffering from amnesia, who told a City Hall guard early today he did not know who he was, has been identified as William Dormer, forty-one years old, 108 N. 19th st.

Dormer, who lives at 108 N. 19th st., a blow on the head three weeks ago is believed to have clouded his memory. Dormer, working under a car, struck his head against a tire rack when he tried to start an automobile.

A blunt statement by Detective Joseph Shay, of the Bureau of Missing Persons, apparently unlocked the man's memory. Nothing had been found on his person that would establish his identity and Detective Shay and others questioned him without success.

YALE FRESHMEN BEAT HARVARD CREW

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 30.—Yale won the freshman 150-pound crew race from Harvard on the Quinipac River by one length, in 5 minutes 47 seconds.

SAFE LOCK MAY GIVE CLUE TO STORE ROBBERY
The recording lock of the safe in the Newark Shoe Company is expected to reveal a clue to the robbery last night of the receipts of the store at 137 North Eighth street. More than $500 was taken.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR VETERAN GETS POST
BRIDGEPORT, CONN., May 30.—F. J. Breckbill, commander-in-chief of the National Commandery of the Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War, today announced the appointment of Lieutenant Frederick B. Hart, of Chicago, as recorder-in-chief of the organization.

BAR COMMITTEE AT CAPITAL URGES BETTER LAWS
WASHINGTON, May 30.—A committee of more than a hundred prominent members of the American bar was here today to urge before the Senate and House Judiciary Committees early action on the pending resolution which would authorize the appointment of a joint congressional committee to consider legislation that would "tend to improve the administration" of justice in the United States.

HARDING INDORSES EFFORTS OF COTTON MEN
WASHINGTON, May 30.—Efforts to promote interests of the cotton industry were endorsed by President Harding today in a telephone message opening the meeting of the American Cotton Association in New York City.

BOY KILLED BY DYNAMITE; FATHER HURT
LIGONIER, PA., May 30.—Stanford Beck, thirteen years old, was killed and his father, Samuel Beck, was seriously injured yesterday when a quantity of dynamite exploded at the Veogel Coal Mine, five miles north of here. The buildings at the mouth of the mine were wrecked. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., May 30.—Memorial Day was observed here quietly. The Kentucky-West Virginia border, where recent disorders occurred, reported quiet. Exercises were held in the churches, but there were no parades. Captain J. E. Brockman, of the State Police, and Sheriff A. C. Plinson said no reports of untoward acts in the district had reached them for 24 hours.

PHILS LOSE, 5-1; NEALE IS HURT
MACKS HIT FOUR HOMERS; WIN, 8-1

Toney Hurls Winning Ball for Giants—Greasy Crashes Into Wall

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker Each Sock for Circuit in A. M.

TWO HOMERS OFF HUBBELL
SCOTT PERRY IN FORM

Too Much Toney

SOCKING THE SOX

ATHLETICS

Witt, of the Athletics, hit a home run off the Athletics' pitcher, Walter Johnson, in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

Perkins, Dugan, Witt and Walker each socked a home run in the first inning.

HARDING VOWS U. S. WILL NEVER FAIL HUMANITY

Must First Be Loyal to Itself but Ready to Aid Civilization

NO THOUGHT OF CRUSADING WHEN WORLD WAR BEGAN

President, at Arlington Exercises, Declares Heroes Built Better Than They Knew

NO "LITTLE AMERICANISM"

Executive Says Nation's Fighters Have Erected Shrine for All Lovers of Liberty

By the Associated Press
Washington, May 30.—A nation loyal first of all to itself, but never failing to measure up to the demands of an advancing civilization, was pictured by President Harding as an American ideal today in a Memorial Day address at Arlington National Cemetery.

American heroes of every war, the President said, had accomplished far more than the immediate ends for which they fought because they had helped create a new order, a shrine for the liberty-loving of every race. He declared the whole mission of America would become an unrealized dream if this heritage ever were sacrificed.

"Our country," said Mr. Harding, "has never failed to measure up to the demands presented to it in behalf of humanity, and it never will."

Text of President's Address
The text of the President's address follows: "We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."

"We are met on sacred soil today for a solemn hour of sacrifice and remembrance. But the sacrifice we come here to honor is not the sacrifice of those who have fallen, but the sacrifice of those who live."