

Evening Public Ledger

PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY
CYRUS H. K. CURTIS, President
John C. Martin, Vice President and Treasurer
Philip S. Collins, John H. Williams, John J.
George F. Goldsmith, David E. Smiley,
WALTER B. SMILEY, Editor
JOHN C. MARTIN, General Business Manager
Published daily at Postoffice Building
Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pa.
Subscription Office, Press-Union Building
1000 Locust St., Philadelphia, Pa.
Telephone 2-1234

they thus obtain knowledge of the past and the future and are freed from the operation of the ordinary physical laws.
Unless Mr. Bryan's memory has failed him, he knows a great deal about the past, and if he has ordinary powers of deduction he can form some pretty definite conclusions about what the future holds for him. He may come out of his state of suspended animation, but if his future is to be like his past he will pursue the will-o'-the-wisp of office into the morasses of defeat as often as he appeals to the voters for support.

HOW TO MAKE A DOLLAR GET BACK ITS OLD VALUE

As Soon as More Work is Done for a Hundred Cents on the Railroads and Elsewhere Business Will Improve
THERE is more involved in the reduction of the wages of railroad men than a saving of $400,000,000 a year to the railroads.

BRIDGE PROSPECTS

RECOGNITION of the city's interest in the Delaware bridge undertaking is appropriately made by Governor Sprout in his appointment of the President of Council, Richard Weglein, to the commission.
Thomas J. Jeffries and Samuel M. Vauclain, the other two new additional members, are high-type men, although in the case of the latter he approaches the question of the bridge's location with preconceived and fixed opinions.

PUBLIC SPIRIT AT ITS BEST

CIVIC consciousness can hardly fail to be stimulated by the recognition of service which is the admirable principle underlying Edward Bok's generous gift to Philadelphia. The broadness of the $10,000 prize award is to be made annually altogether eliminates any suggestion of materialistic competition. The Nobel Prize rules have been similarly elastic, with the consequence that civilization has inspiringly been enabled to take stock of those human factors which do it the most honor.

GETTING NERVOUS

THE remarks of Frank C. Reese, a coal expert of Pottsville, indicate that the mine owners are beginning to feel the effects of the widespread dissatisfaction with coal prices.
Representatives of the owners have been in Pottsville looking over the situation. Just what they concluded after their inquiries has not been announced, but it is admitted that they are disturbed by the outlook.

IN PRISON AT LAST

PERSONS impatient with the law's delay will read with satisfaction that William S. Leib, former political boss of Schuylkill County, has at last been put inside the walls of the Eastern Penitentiary after conviction of the charge of forging State tax receipts.
The attempt to keep Leib out of prison has been going on successfully since December, 1916. After his conviction an appeal was taken, but it was denied by all the courts in the State. Leib's lawyers then sought to get the United States Supreme Court to intervene. The prosecuting attorney objected vigorously to any further delay in the execution of the sentence, and Judge Smith, of the Quarter Sessions Court, properly refused a stay, with the result noted above.

TULSA, THE MAD

NONE of the most abhorrent features of a race-rioting seems to have been absent from Tulsa, Okla., slipped back into barbarism.
The original causes of the hysteria, resulting in the slaughter of 100 persons, appear to have been similar to those which have before divorced reason from the minds of Americans. But no crime, however foul, can justify such shocking behavior of the same principles of law and order.

WHAT WE DID FOR BULGARIA

CURIOSITY is piqued by the announcement that King Boris and Premier Stambuliski, of Bulgaria, are to visit the United States in the autumn to thank for what we have done for their country.
We know what Bulgaria did in the war and where her sympathies were. The United States did not declare war against her any more than it declared war against Austria and Germany.

A CHANCE FOR BOYS

The State Waiting to Educate Free of Cost Ten Bright Chaps—Old Estates Being Cut Up—A Court Without Appeal
By GEORGE NOX MCCAIG
E. A. ZIEGLER, of Mont Alto, should be a very popular citizen about this time. He is disseminating information to young men telling them how to get something for nothing from the State of Pennsylvania.

HOW TO RUN A CAR

THERE is in circulation what purports to be an English translation of the Japanese rules of the road for motorists posted in the central police station. Taken for the benefit of English-speaking visitors to the city, it deserves the widest possible publicity, for it is couched in such language as will impress it on the memory of all motor car drivers. Here it is:

WEST AFRICANS AND THE DICTIONARY

From the Manchester Guardian.
The "educated" West African Negro writes the Babu in the artless art of misusing English. He writes "I am very pleased to see you" for "I am very pleased to see you," and "I am very pleased to see you" for "I am very pleased to see you."

YOGI BRYAN

MR. BRYAN, in announcing that he has taken up his residence in Florida, confesses that for some time he has been politically in a state of suspended animation.
He apparently assumes that he can come back, as the Yogis of India return to life after being apparently dead for an indefinite period. The Yogis, however, prepare themselves by long ascetic practices for their withdrawal from conscious life. They think

MAKING FOR SHORE?

THE PUBLIC BE D...
ANTHRACITE TRUST
A very popular citizen about this time. He is disseminating information to young men telling them how to get something for nothing from the State of Pennsylvania.

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best
DR. DAVID D. FORSYTHE
On the Church and Human Need
ANY Church, regardless of creed or high or low, is in a position to do a great deal of good for the world.

HUMANISMS

By WILLIAM AHERTON DU PUY
JOHN L. CABLE is an enthusiastic young Republican who just came down to the House of Representatives from Ohio as a result of the election of last fall.
He was explaining the other day that his industrial depression is the primary cause of the unemployment problem.

STILL ONE BY ONE THE DOGMAS DIE

Perhaps she's right, perhaps mistaken. Some men condone talk in incorrect form for sake of well-cooked breakfast bacon. Though grammar correct guavas at the roots of perfect syntax substitute on jokes. No perfect syntax substitute on jokes. No perfect syntax substitute on jokes.

THE FIREMAN'S FALL

From the Western Mail.
There are rarely any humorous incidents in the Cardiff Firemen's Club, but a ripple of laughter went around recently when Mr. George Green, who for more than forty years fought fires in the city, appeared to answer a summons for allowing the chimney of his house to be on fire. Such an irony of fate appealed to all who knew the familiar figure of the ex-chief of the Cardiff fire brigade, and he was fined five shillings, or six days' imprisonment.

A SWIFT PASSAGE

From the Providence Journal.
Frog will pass in the night have nothing on some of our dividents.

What Do You Know? QUIZ

- 1. What is the largest passenger vessel?
2. Bying the American flag?
3. Who was Aristotle?
4. What is the oldest European settlement in the territory of the Continental United States?
5. What is a colf?
6. What two bodies compose the French Parliament?
7. Into what sea does the Danube River flow?
8. Where is nutmeg chiefly found?
9. In whose Cabinet did James G. Blaine serve as Secretary of State?
10. What former members of the alliance of Central Powers, composed during the World War of Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, are now members of the League of Nations?
11. What is a silus-grass?
12. What is a silus-grass?
13. What is a silus-grass?
14. What is a silus-grass?
15. What is a silus-grass?

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

- 1. Mormonism (the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints) was founded in 1830 by Joseph Smith, a native of Vermont. Christian Science was originated about 1860 by Mary Baker Glover Eddy, a native of New Hampshire.
2. The "Little Gentleman in Velvet" was the name under which, in the reign of Queen Anne, toasts were frequently drunk by the Jacobites to the mole which was the primary cause of the death of King William III of England. The King's horse stumbled against a mossy hill, throwing his rider, who sustained injuries brought on the illness of which he died in 1702.
3. The Crown Prince of Japan is named Hirohito.
4. The song, "Massa in de Cold, Cold Ground," was written by Stephen C. Foster.
5. Lawn tennis, reduced to definite form as a game in England by Major Wingfield about 1874, was originally called "sphairistikos."
6. The two chief seaports of Japan are Nagasaki and Yokohama.
7. The word noble means marriageable.
8. By the "Gadsden Purchase," made December 30, 1853, by James Gadsden, the United States Minister to Mexico, the United States acquired from Mexico a tract of 45,000 square miles, now included in the southern part of Arizona and New Mexico.
9. Thomas Jefferson, Edmund Randolph and Timothy Pickens served under George Washington as Secretaries of State.

Holding a Husband

Miss Aubrey Eaton, dean of the matrimonial school of the Chicago Y. W. C. A., says that poor grammar causes more domestic infelicities than poor cooking and meals, and that intelligent "somebodies" will do more to hold a husband than most anything else.

STILL ONE BY ONE THE DOGMAS DIE

A husband's heart you need not touch. To reach by way of husband's tummy. He doesn't care what food he stokes; He doesn't care how scant the ration. Just try the staple foods on jokes. And Jolly him with conversation.

So Says Miss Eaton—in effect.

Perhaps she's right, perhaps mistaken. Some men condone talk in incorrect form for sake of well-cooked breakfast bacon. Though grammar correct guavas at the roots of perfect syntax substitute on jokes. No perfect syntax substitute on jokes. No perfect syntax substitute on jokes.