

POLES WITHDRAW BRITISH APPEAR

English Troops Take Control of Gleiwitz, in Upper Silesia

GERMANS RETAIN POSITIONS

By the Associated Press
Oppeln, Silesia, June 7.—Detachments of the Royal Irish Infantry, the first British troops to cross the line established by Polish insurgents in Upper Silesia, assumed control of the city, and will be in charge of the garrisoning and policing of the place in future.

As the troops, consisting of one battalion with full field equipment, entered Gleiwitz, north-west of Gleiwitz, it encountered the first Polish outposts. Machine guns had been trained on the station by the Poles, but when the British appeared the Poles withdrew and were not seen again. The train was held there for some time so that the officers could investigate a report that the track further on had been mined. This report was found to be false, and the train proceeded, being molested at no point along the way.

One French officer and a number of French non-commissioned officers accompanied the British. While these troops were on their way to the storm center of Upper Silesia, General Von Hoefler, commander of German defense organizations, bluntly declined to comply with the French ultimatum to withdraw his forces from the front between Krasnitz and Kossel, where the Poles have been driven back for several miles. He promised, however, to prevent a further advance by the Germans, "unless provoked by the Poles."

It has been learned by Allied officials here that from 3000 to 4000 Germans, who were liberated in the territory taken over by the defense organizations, volunteered to serve with the Germans, and that each man produced a weapon with which to fight against the Poles.

It is learned from British sources that the probable plan for the pacification of Upper Silesia will be to garrison all the large industrial towns in the plebeian area with British troops. It is said that sufficient forces are available for this service, and that, in addition, local police forces will be formed of "citizens of known good character." The British, it is understood, will gradually relinquish the policing of the district to this organization.

The British troops probably will extend their authority northward through the occupied area, disarming the Poles as they proceed.

ENTOMBED MINER RESCUED

Not a Scratch on Man When Taken Out After Thirty-five Hours
Shenandoah, Pa., June 7.—Entombed behind a heavy fall of coal and culm in Packer No. 3 mine this morning, Jacob Romansky was rescued without a scratch.

Rescuers had been working frantically to reach the man whom they feared had been caught by the fall. Romansky's partner heard the coal working and ran to safety just as the fall occurred.

Answer of President Obregon to Secretary Hughes' Note Received in Washington

CONTENTS KEPT SECRET

By the Associated Press
Washington, June 7.—President Obregon's reply to the American message, setting forth the conditions upon which the United States would consider recognition of Mexico, was expected to be discussed at today's meeting of President Harding's Cabinet. Meantime, official comment on the reply is withheld by Administration officers.

Unofficially, it was said that Obregon was not averse to entering into a written agreement covering the guarantee of the safety of Americans and American interests, but that until he had thrashed out the question with his Cabinet he could not take any definite step.

It is understood that the policy outlined in the memorandum presented by George T. Sumnerlin, the American charge at Mexico City, was well known in Mexico prior to its delivery and that it was discussed by him with his Cabinet. According to reports here, a majority of the Cabinet advised Obregon to agree to the conditions, at least in principle, but definite opposition to such action was offered by Ministers Calles and De la Huerta. Both the dissenting members left the Mexican capital soon after the conference for visits to Sonora.

Immediately after Mr. Sumnerlin called upon Obregon the Mexican President, according to these reports, summoned Calles and De la Huerta. Unofficial dispatches from Mexico have asserted Calles to be on his way to the Mexican capital.

The United States, it is understood, is not greatly concerned as to the exact method employed by Obregon in extending his promises, except that they be in written form, which may be regarded by the United States in the light of a contract. It is declared that the signature of Obregon to the promises might be regarded as sufficient.

FILIPINOS FOR SELF-RULE

Opposition Confined to American Business Men and Igorrotes
Washington, June 7.—(By A. P.)—Recent dispatches from Manila declaring that several Filipino business men were preparing a memorial urging deferment of independence and that the Igorrotes were voicing opposition to independence are attacked in a statement issued by the Press Bureau of the Philippine mission here.

The statement declares that the Manila business men opposing independence are Americans and not Filipinos, and that the Igorrotes who appeared before the Wood-Forbes mission were not representative nor many. The bureau has been advised from Manila that the Igorrotes who appeared were acting at the instance of American missionaries.

NEW POLISH WAR FEARED

"Aggressive Imperialism" Reported to Hughes by Lithuanians
Washington, June 7.—(By A. P.)—Danger exists of war between Poland and Lithuania because of the "policy of aggressive imperialism" of Poland, Secretary Hughes was informed today in a letter from J. Vileisis, Lithuanian representative in this country.

Interruption of negotiations between delegates of the two countries at Brussels for the purpose of adjusting territorial and political questions and the "aggressive activities of Polish troops in the neighborhood of Vilna," were said to have created "a dangerous situation."

As Time Goes On

the average man does some serious thinking about the passing years and where they are taking him.

He also thinks of those who are dependent upon him and what would happen if another year would not find him as their protector and provider.

To put your mind at ease on this point, make a will today, appointing this company as your executor, and relieve yourself of worry.
