IOYCE ASSAILED AS "Stage Johnnie"

Wife's Attorney Unable to Ascertain Amount of His Wealth

Chicago, June 10,-Peggy Hopkins oyce's attorney, Weymouth Kirkland, enounced James Stanley Joyce as a "stage-door Johnnie" in a scathing ar-raignment of the manner in which Joyce had sought to blacken her character. the hearing of her application for $10,-000 a month alimony and $100,000 at-torney's fees in the Superior Court yesterday.

The hearing was largely devoted to the examination of Joyce as to the amount and value of his possessions.

Joyce proved a cautious witness, and at the termination of the questioning the lawyers for Mrs. Joyce, who were at-tempting to learn whether Joyce is worth $3,000,000, as he says he is, or told her he was, were as much in the told her he was, were as much in the dark as ever.

Taking up the matter of the divorce proceedings between Margaret Upton Hopkins and Sherburne Philbrick Hopkins in the Forty-eighth District Court of Tarrant County, Tex., Mr. Kirkland read affidavits from Judge Bruce Young, who signed the decree, and from clerks of the court, who stated that the divorce had been granted to Mrs. Hopkins January 20, 1920.

Mr. Kirkland nictured the first meet.

Mr. Kirkland pictured the first meeting of the actress with Joyce at Wood's Theatre two years ago, when, as a Follies girl, she was introduced to him and he took her to supper at the Blackstone

"Even then he was nothing but a stage-door Johnnie." declared Mr. Kirkland. "Did he think at that time he was meeting a social debutante at a pink tea? Did he think she never went out at night without a chaperon? He did not. He knew she was a girl who had to make her own living in the world. He knew she was working as an actress at a theatre.

"Even after that, when she went to New York and he followed her there, he told he that he did not want her to work any more, and that he would pay her bills until they were married. It was he who furnished the home for her in Park avenue. He spent $100,000 on her even before she got her divorce from Hopkins, and sent his automobile to Colorado Springs when they took the trip West that fall.

Mr. Kirkland then rend the affidavit signed by Evans Spaulding. In it Mr. Spaulding denied the charges in the Joyce bill that he was unduly intimate with Mrs. Joyce. He declared that neither at Palm Beach nor at her apart-ment in New York had he ever remained over night, and stated his conduct with her at all times since he had met her had been that of a casual friend only.

Mrs. Joyce's attorneys lost their fight to obtain money from Joyce to investi-gate his conduct since his marriage. They contended her husband had
