Nancy Wynne Talks of Several Debuts in the Fall—She Hears of a Card Party Given at Miss Mary Converse's Home in Rosemont

I THINK I have told you that Ellen Lloyd is going to make her debut this year. She has been spending the winter abroad at school and returned home last month. She is the daughter of the late Stacey Lloyd and a grand-daughter of the late Mrs. M. J. Converse.

HEAR that on Friday afternoon of this week Miss Mary Converse will open her house and grounds for a card party, which is to be given for the benefit of the settlement, of which she is president. Of course, you know the John Converse place at Rosemont, with its magnificent trees and garden.

BEYOND Miss Converse, the committee in charge of Friday's fete includes Mrs. Samuel McClintock, Mrs. F. J. Frazer, Mrs. Robert Lowe, Marie Louise Faries and Elizabeth Jeanes.

DO YOU know that the Graham Dougherty postponed the dance they were to have given at the Dougherty's sister, Isabel Frazer, last Friday? It will be given on October 25 instead and at the same club, the Philadelphia Cricket, at St. Mark's.

SAV Maisie Ruth Bartol on the street the other day looking very well in a frock of light gray canton crepe made with a simple and elegant plain skirt. Her hat was a large model of brilliant red straw and was trimmed at the sides with red cherries.
