Too Much Wages Are a Damage and Danger to the One Who Receives Them

With rising prices during the war, naturally the high cost of living necessitated an advance in all wages, which was cheerfully granted.

Now we read in the newspapers of a number of instances where the employes have unwisely "struck" and left their places rather than reduce their wages, notwithstanding the lower selling prices of food, clothing, furniture and shoes that are manifest.

How can prices ever go down if the United States Government does not speedily abolish the special taxes on many articles and on sales prices and if war wages in production continue to rule?

The buying public for years submitted to high prices.

Let us all play the game fairly and get prices down and keep them down.

100 Women's Lace Gowns Have Prices Lowered to $100 Each

Which means a saving of $25 to $65 on every gown—and they were moderately priced to start with. Moreover, it is early in the season. They are novelties, semi-evening gowns of the type which suits itself to so many occasions, and all fresh—in fact, some have been in the house only a few days. Their materials are exquisite—sheer dyed and creamy laces, natural colored filet lace, satins and taffetas and Georgette crepe. And scarcely two are alike.

A pink Georgette crepe is draped with creamy filet lace enriched with wooden beads.

A dark blue chiffon has an entire overdress of real filet.

A black shadow lace over black satin has a vivid girdle of jade satin.

A peach-colored chiffon has flounces of paler shadow lace and bands of white and yellow beads.

Another creamy filet over black is heavily sewn with gold beads. For women who like fine things this is one of the best opportunities of the season.

HER SPORTS BLOUSES ARE IMPORTANT THIS SUMMER

For there never was a time when so many sports blouses were worn, and now comes the sleeveless sports dress that needs a blouse under it, to say nothing of the many sweaters.

The pretty Peter Pan blouse looks especially well with the new style sweater with its high round neck. There is great variety in those blouses between $3 and $8.85.

100 WOMEN'S CLOTH SKIRTS NOW $5 EACH

The truth of the matter is that they are odds and ends of many kinds of light-weight wool skirts that we have been selling for close to double this figure and in many cases, even more.

WOMEN'S LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS, SPECIAL, $1.50 A DOZEN

Once more we have these really wonderful handkerchiefs. Ever since the first shipment women have been asking for them.

Trimmed "Sailors" for Sports and Street Wear

This is a "sailor" season. Even those who ordinarily find the straight lines of the sailor hat rather severe can wear them this year with their softening scarf drapery of Georgette, velvet or silk.

Particularly good are the mixed straw sailor hats with blue or green scarfs. These will be shown, together with all-white ones, black, blue, brown and other colors, variously trimmed, in the Sports Millinery Salon tomorrow.

Their prices are $2.50 to $9. (Second Floor, Chestnut)

FOR COMMENCEMENT GIFTS—THESE RINGS

They are circles of square, flat stones—imitation sapphires, emeralds and rubies—set in sterling silver—precisely the kind of setting so much liked for genuine stones, and the price is only $2.75. (Main Floor, Chestnut)

Certain Dining-Room Suits of Which Everybody Should Know

The best intelligence of purchasers the world over is now, as it has always been, concentrated upon finding the things that represent a unique combination—a combination of exceptionally fine quality with exceptionally low prices.

Whoever comes to the Furniture Store looking for dining-room suits that represent this combination will be rewarded, for surely the suits are here. They are shown in large selection, the styles including Chippendale, Heppelwhite, Sheraton, Italian Renaissance, William and Mary, and above all, Queen Anne, some in walnut, some in mahogany.

Taking everything into account it is not believed that these suits could now be made for retail selling at the prices marked on them—$385 to $1366.

High-grade cabinet work is a thing worth looking into, and here is where you will see it.

The particularly valuable feature of these suits is that for all their fineness of looks and finish they have the solidity of construction that gives the money one pays for them a sort of dividend-earning power—it earns dividends in the years and years of service and satisfaction which each of these fine suits is built to give and will give.

Women like them for Summer undergarments and negligees because they launder so well but don't need ironing. And they are simply invaluable where small children are concerned, for they are used so much for rompers and dresses.

About a Man's Temperature, His Common Sense and His Clothes

Why is it that when a man's temperature makes him buy a tropical suit his common sense does not always make him buy the one that is bound to be the most serviceable and satisfactory? The answer is that not all men yet know that amongst all the unsatisfactory things in the world an unsatisfactory tropical suit is one of the worst.

Satisfaction in a tropical suit begins in the fabric. It is involved in every process of the making, from the first cutting of the goods to the last touch of the tailor's hand.

There is no such thing as a good "cheap" tropical suit.

There are plenty of good tropical suits at fair prices. At least we have them in plentiful selection. They are of the best fabrics, whether mohair, Palm Beach or tropical worsted, and they are cut and tailored and finished to fit and serve as well as it is possible for suits of this kind to do.

Mohair suits in black and white stripes, blue and white stripes and black self-stripes, $25 and $30.

Palm Beach suits in sand, tan, gray and fancy mixed colors, $20 and $22.50.

Tropical worsted suits, $32 to $40. All other genuine garments in variety—knitted sports coats, $20; white flannel and striped flannel trousers, $12; white duck trousers, $3.50; khaki trousers, $2. (Third Floor, Market)

American porcelain dinner sets in large selection, comprising a very satisfactory variety of patterns from a plain gold band to the newest conventional border design, are now $17.50 to $47.50. English porcelain sets in conventional borders are now $55 to $65. All are sets of 106 or 107 pieces, in standard shapes and of excellent quality. Savings run as high as 40 per cent and not lower than 20 per cent. (Fourth Floor, Chestnut)

They have just come in, following fast upon a first shipment that found immediate favor. The designs are copied from the real old-timers, but they are in two-color effects—pink and white, blue and white, and yellow and white, all very suitable for Summer furnishing. They are exceptionally well made, closely stitched and carefully finished. Sizes 2x2½ yards at $13.50 each. (Sixth Floor, Central)

Here Are Dollar Umbrellas
