

Dozen Players in Two Big Leagues Have Two Four-Base Blows in One Game This Season

HOME-RUN EPIDEMIC PREVAILED 10 YEARS AGO IN THE MAJORS

Heavy Hitting Suddenly Ceased About Midseason in 1911—Same Thing Likely to Occur This Year Soon After Independence Day

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL. Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger. A calcium glare we find a lot of things that remind us of the present days on the diamond. Among other things, our A's were breezing along toward their pennant and the Phillies, with Charley Dootz at the wheel, were another pennant and the Phillies, with Charley Dootz at the wheel, were another pennant...

Long Hitters Did Little Else With Stick. The players who made two homers in one game this year generally did nothing else. The exceptions were Jack Graney, of the Indians; Kenneth Williams, of the Browns; Jimmy Dykes and Frank Welch, of the Athletics; and Rogers Hornsby, of the Cardinals...

- AMERICAN LEAGUE. May 18—Shanks, Washington, at St. Louis; Shocker pitching. Hits prevented Senators from being shut out. Batted three times. No other safeties. May 27—Williams, St. Louis, at St. Louis against Cleveland; Bagby, Odenwald and Uble pitching. Browns beaten, 10 to 8. Batted five times. No other hits.

- NATIONAL LEAGUE. May 21—Fournier, St. Louis, here; Baumgartner, Keenan, Smith and Weinert pitching. Batted five times. May 27—Hornsby, St. Louis, at St. Louis against Brooklyn; Cadore, Mitchell and Milus pitching. Batted five times. Had a triple, too.

Racing Popular in Canada. The thoroughbred heads the call of the Canadian race courses when the summer heat begins to scorch the Western and Eastern tracks, but at no time in the history of racing in Canada has such a great number of horses been shipped to the Dominion. A number of carloads have gone on from Latonia and many of the leading stables in New York will let the Saratoga and Empire City meet go by while they seek the cooler climes across the border.

THE Canadian people are fond of racing and the attendance at all the tracks this year has been unusually large. When the King of England shall cease to be a patron of this sport he will be in danger of losing popularity in Canada.

PLAY ROYAL GIANTS. North Phillies Expect to Win With David on the Hill. The North Phillies meet the Brooklyn Royal Giants in a twilight game this evening at Fourth and Wingochock streets, and a pitchers' battle is predicted between Bob David and Hubbard. David is in fine shape, although he pitched on Saturday and defeated Lit Bros. Manager Gleason will have Ray Steinacker, of Vineland, also on hand.

HARD TEST FOR AMATEUR GOLFERS

Survivor of Local Title Tussle Must Be at Top Form Against Strong Field Entered

By SANDY MENBLICK. Something like heat waves seem to shimmer over the local links loop today. It's the tingling thrill of excitement which is preceding the play this week for the amateur golf championship of the Golf Association of Philadelphia. Never before has this titular tussle aroused so much interest. It will start over the course of the White-marsch Valley Country Club on Wednesday, when there will be 38 holes medal play to qualify thirty-two experts of the district.

INTEREST RUNS HIGH. The main reason for the excitement is partly due to the fact that we all know the "dark horses" are making a wonderful showing; that nothing surprises any more; and that anybody with a bag of clubs and the shyness when they count can win.

On Deck. There's a number of newcomers near the top so far this season. E. Smedley Ward, in his first tourney, went to the finals for the Delaware title, and the New York City golfer qualified at Lynwood and was within a short putt of beating J. S. Dean at Wilmington in the semi-finals there the same week.

GEORGES HAS NEW TRAINING METHOD. Manhasset, N. Y., June 20.—A question of asked at the training camp of Georges Carpentier is, "Why doesn't he let out his punches and drop a few sparring partners?" GOLF COURSES OF U.S. DIFFER FROM BRITISH

English Believe Fairways Should Be Bumpy, While Americans Think Hazards Should Be Confined to Left or Right—Luck Big Element in Success

By GRANTLAND RICE. London, June 20. Better liked than St. Andrews or Hoylake, Westward Ho is unbeatable as a golfing domain and Prestwick isn't far behind. Which reminds us of the next two amateur championships of the United States will be held at Brookline, 1922, and Pine Valley, 1923. And these two will rank as high as any in the land.

There is still another difference. To the British the most skillful shot in golf is the pitch and run. To the American it is the backspin approach close against the pin. "Your courses," remarked Cyril Tolley, "are not built for our best type of stroke. Ours are not built for your best method of approach. I fancy that has more than a little to do with the failure on both sides where each is in the enemy country. I could not use the pitch and run effectively at the Engineers' Club, and that accounts largely for my downfall there."

There are three greatest courses in Great Britain today are Westward Ho, Prestwick and Glenageary. Glenageary has only lately been completed, but it is a wonderful test of golf, much better liked than St. Andrews or Hoylake.
