Rall Workers Reinstatement

The request of the United Brother-od of Maintenance of Ways and Railway Shop Laborers for reinstatement in the federation, it was learned, has the full support of all the railroad organi-nations. This union, with its member-ship of nearly 200,000 was suspended in 1919 because of a jurisdictional dis-pute with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Delegates of the machinists' union and other railroad organizations declared that they would temand that the executive council take teps immediately toward getting this ogram under way. Secretary Frank Morrison said the onvention probably would complete its usiness and adjourn next Saturday.

Yesterday afternoon ground was broken for the new Administration Building of the Church Farm School at Gien Loch, which is conducted by the Protestant Episcopal Church. Three cottages were also dedicated. In all these ceremonies the Right Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander was in charge

They save space and money, and oh, how they wear!

Your filing cabinets are made of wood or steel-and they won't stretch. In them you put so many folders to hold so many letters.

The wear and tear on these folders is not on the part that goes deep in the file, but at the top-the handling edge.

Why, then, should you pay for folders that are made extra-heavy all over? To be frank about it, there is no reason. And that is why we originated the L. B. Reinforced folder.

These folders are made extra-heavy only at the top. Note the extra-thickness strip across the upper edge. That means long-life and durability. Note that this extrathickness does not extend down to the part that goes in the file. That means a saving of $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches of space for every thousand folders.

And oh, how they wear!

You can save a heap of money in the course of a year by buying L. B. Reinforced folders.

> Send for samples to try in your files. You'll see their practicability at first glance.
