

COMMUTERS START WAR ON READING

26 Jammed in Baggage Car Hold Meeting and Name Chairman to Present Protest

ON WAY FROM OCEAN CITY

A cause for protest and a meeting place for the protesters was furnished to commuters from Ocean City, this morning by Reading Railway. It was a baggage car packed with representative Philadelphia business and professional men.

Although several who took part in the impromptu meeting refused to give their names, twenty-six in all, including Director Sproule, appointed Charles A. Ulrich, head of a printing establishment here, as their chairman to present a formal protest to the superintendent of the division.

The twenty-six complainants and about a dozen others say they were forced to stand packed together in a baggage car all the way from Ocean City to Philadelphia. Complaints to the train crew were met with the information that thirteen cars had been ordered for the train, but only eleven had been received.

In handling them, I might add that the great majority of the twenty-six men who asked me to represent them are Quakers, a people famous for not complaining or grudging trouble. But conditions have become intolerable.

"We were packed together like beasts this morning. About ten miles out of Camden the train gave a sudden lurch and we were thrown helter-skelter into a pile. When we got ourselves untangled several men were painfully scratched and bruised. I myself hurt my ankle badly.

"While the train crew was polite, they were non-committal and seemed to reflect the same attitude I found in the superintendent's office."

"L" LEASE UP TOMORROW

Council Committee Will Also Hear Bustleton Line Discussion

Amendments to the proposed lease of the Frankford elevated line and Bustleton surface line by the city to the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. will be discussed at a public hearing before the Transportation Committee of Council tomorrow.

The period of the lease, free transfer points on the elevated and extension of the Bustleton line to Hibernia will be among things discussed.

There is considerable difference of opinion among committee members as well as residents of the sections affected. It is, therefore, probable several hearings will be required.

Man Held as Drunken Driver

Charged with having driven an automobile while intoxicated, a man giving his name as Charles H. Repp and his address at Lansdowne, was held under $1000 bail by Magistrate Penneck in the Twentieth and Buttonwood streets station today.

Repp was arrested last night at Twenty-third and Callowhill streets. Sergeant Mahoney testified the car was being driven in a zigzag manner. Fred J. Olsen of Milwaukee, who had been given a lift by Repp, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction. The police are investigating the ownership of the automobile.

Escaped Lunatic Caught Here

Charles Noss, an inmate of the Norristown Insane Asylum, who escaped June 13, was captured yesterday in a house on Franklin street near Green, where he was living with his wife.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE SATISFIES WOMEN

Newly Chosen Officers From Lately Enfranchised Sex Pleased by Appointments

COULD NOT ASK MORE

Philadelphia women prominent in the Republican party expressed themselves today as being satisfied with the offices given them Saturday at the meeting of the Republican State Committee. They do not feel they were discriminated against.

In the revision of the committee's rules women were admitted to the offices of vice chairman and assistant secretary, but specifically excluded from the offices of president, secretary and treasurer. It was also provided that when there is no chairman the secretary shall preside.

Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, who was appointed vice chairman, said she had given the matter a great deal of thought and felt thankful that positions had been created where woman could have real official status in the Republican Committee.

"Woman has been allowed to put her foot in the door," Mrs. Warburton said, "and it is up to her to get in the rest of the way. The men have given the women their chance and it is really up to them to do the rest."

Mrs. Elmer Melick, executive secretary of the Women's State Republican Committee, expressed herself as content and, in fact, gratified with the situation.

"Going into the State Committee is just like going into a new business for women," Mrs. Melick said. "We cannot expect to learn all at once. If men were plunged into the field of homemaking and wanted to rise to the top immediately we might have something to say on the subject. If they demanded equal rights, equal representation and equal recognition all at once there might be dissenting voices. It is the same way reversing the situation. I think the men were gracious and courteous to make room for women in the official way that they did, and I feel that when we measure up to bigger things and more responsible positions they will be standing there ready to give them to us."

"The thought is now that some day some of the women will make splendid politicians, but, of course, all women cannot be politicians," she went on.

"As for the hue and cry that has been raised about the provision that the secretary preside at meetings in place of the chairman in emergency, that is quite according to the rules now prevailing in women's organizations. It is not a discrimination and it is foolish to hold it as such."

Miss Margaret Maguire, principal of the McCall School and an appointee for one of the eight city Senatorial districts, felt the women should be content to go slowly in the matter of politics. It should not for them be a question of criticism on their part, but one of analysis. They must have material for this analysis, and it is up to them to study the situation thoroughly before they criticize.

What a difference that tiny filament of tungsten makes!

The use of tungsten as a reproducing point was a real discovery and an actual invention. Its soft fibrous qualities were what had been sought for years.

This truly remarkable metal always insures a perfect reproduction of the music and at the same time gives long life to the records. The tungsten wears itself away rather than the records.

You get these advantages only in the Victrola Tungst-tone Stylus—the Victor Company patented the stylus composed of tungsten and therefore has the exclusive right to the use thereof in any form of talking-machine needle.

Three tones—extra loud, full, soft. The new extra loud stylus will be largely used for dance music and outdoors. 10 cents per package of four points—enough to play at least 1000 records. Semi-permanent. Changeable. Sold by all Victor dealers.
