Chinese Tong, Camouflaged as Masonic Order, Assailed by Baptist Leader

By the Associated Press Des Moines, June 24.—Chinese slave girl traffic is "going on right under the noses of our city officials," said Dr. Charles R. Shepherd, of Los Angeles, general missionary among the Orientals, at the Northern Baptist Convention in this city today.
"I know from personal experience and not from hearsay that this is a fact," he declared, citing the instance of a Chinese girl, sixteen years old, sold in San Francisco for $2700.
In speaking of the tongs of the country, Dr. Shepherd said:
"These tongs are not only an insult to the churches of America, they are an insult to the great Masonic order.
Over the entryway of one of the bloodiest and most powerful fighting tongs in America, is a sign 'Bing King Tong, Free Masons.'
"It masquerades as a Masonic lodge, while it is made up of those who engage in the traffic in Chinese girls, who labor to frustrate our laws, who plan bloody murder, and pay professional assassins to carry out their plans."
China's political disturbances and famine have put foreign missionaries in a delicate position, according to the 107th annual report of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, presented to the convention today.
Other factors handicapping the society are unsettled policies of various governments as a result of the war, an almost unparalleled financial crisis in Japan, the inauguration of "one of the greatest experiments in democracy ever undertaken" following an amazing national awakening in India, and Mohammedan aggression in Africa.
During the year, says the report, John D. Rockefeller made three gifts to the society totaling $2,000,000.
The organization and workings of a great denomination with 10,000 churches throughout the country, and approximately 1,500,000 members, were well shown here in the second annual report of the convention's General Board.
