

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

The Invisible Sailors
By DADDY

CHAPTER VI
The Flying Fish

CROSS the broad ocean sailed the little sailboat carrying Peggy, Billy, Folly Wisner the goblin, the captive maid and the chocolate-colored youth. The storm had cleared away and the invisible sailors had again shaken out the sails to catch the fresh breeze.

The storm had left them plenty of water to drink, but now all began to feel very, very hungry. They remembered they had no food on board the sailboat. It would be as bad to starve to death as to die of thirst.

"Oh, I wish we would come onto a good dinner out here in the middle of the ocean," wished Peggy.

As Peggy spoke her wish, Folly Wisner pointed to specks skimming over the water.

"See the birds," cried Billy. "We can't be far from land if there are birds flying about."

Folly Wisner laughed. "Those are birds without feathers," he chuckled. "They are flying fish."

Peggy and Billy had never seen flying fish, and they looked eagerly. "What makes them fly?" asked Peggy. Folly Wisner chuckled.

"What makes an airplane fly?" he asked. "It is because it goes fast, and then its wings keep it from falling. That's the way the flying fish fly. They go fast, then leap from the water, and then their finny wings keep them from tumbling until they have gone a long way."

"They seem to be running away from something," said Billy. "To be sure they are. That is why they are flying," said Folly Wisner. "They are running away from big fish that want to eat them."

Then Peggy and Billy saw the waters swirling behind the flying fish. The water was swirling because a school of big fish was chasing the flying fish. The big fish would run on and almost catch the flying fish, then the flying fish would dart into the air and go flying along until they lost their speed, when they would fall back into the water again.

"Those poor flying fish! I wish they would get away from the big fish," cried Peggy.

And that wish was granted. The flying fish, making a frantic leap from the water, came streaming toward the sailboat. They landed on the deck, Kerplunk! Kerplunk! Kerplunk!

Then something strange happened. The flying fish vanished. Where they went Peggy and Billy didn't know, and if Folly Wisner knew he only chuckled. But Peggy and Billy, the captive maid and the chocolate-colored youth quit wondering about the flying fish very quickly. From the cooking galley of the sailboat came very appetizing smells—smells that told them a fine meal was being cooked.

"Hurrah! Hurrah! We thought we were out of food, but the invisible sailors were only fooling us," cried Billy. And so it seemed, for soon a most delicious meal was spread before them—a meal of fried fish.

They all pitched into the fried fish and it was the best fried fish they had ever eaten.

When they had eaten all the fish Peggy sat back contentedly. "I wish I knew what became of those flying fish," she sighed. Folly Wisner laughed.

"You had the meal you wished for," he said. "Why should you worry about the flying fish?"

"The flying fish knew in a flash what had become of the flying fish. When they landed on board the sailboat the invisible sailors had caught them and fried them for their supper."

They smiled and they smiled until Peggy grew tired of smiling.

"I wish we would come to land," he said. And they did come to land, but it was an odd kind of land, as will be told this coming week.

The Best Possible Basic Features

are the same throughout all the hammocks from the $10 kind to a handsome one at $27.50. It is impossible to get stronger, more durable hammocks. They have strong angle-iron frames, galvanized springs and thick chains (with extra lengths for very high ceilings).

One splendid feature, especially where there are children, is that the chains extend all the way down to the springs, in back as well as front, so that there is no strain on the side fabric.

27 Different Styles—Now $10 to $27.50

(Hammocks are all fully 6 feet long, unless otherwise specified)

Khaki or gray duck hammocks, $10; with headrests, $12.50.

5-foot khaki or gray duck hammocks with exceptionally thick mattresses, $10.

Cretonne-trimmed gray or khaki duck hammocks with side pockets, $12.50; with headrests, $15.

Striped duck hammocks, in green, brown or blue, $12.50.

While there is splendid assortment and quantity, the low prices argue that the best choosing will be in the morning. Telephone and mail orders will be given careful attention.

Please note: As a kind is sold out, it will be impossible for us to replace it and, although there are as many as 40 hammocks of some kinds, we cannot promise all kinds all day.

Also, a few of these hammocks are slightly mussed because they have been used as floor samples, but this has been considered in the lowering of their prices.

(Central)

Couch Hammock Stands, $5.50

Of strong angle iron, finished in green, with floor braces, they are nice for people who want their hammocks on the lawn or like to move them along the porch.

Stands of round iron, finished in gray, khaki or green, are $8.50. These are all for 6-foot hammocks.
