

GIRLS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF CITY BATHING POOLS

This picture shows girls and young women enjoying their first plunge today in the swimming pool of the Kingsessing Recreation Center, Fifty-first street and Chester avenue. This was one of nine swimming pools, which with eighteen bathhouses, were opened for women and girls throughout the city today. Hundreds availed themselves of the opportunity to have fun and keep cool at the same time.

WOMEN AND GIRLS SPLASH IN JOY AS CITY POOLS OPEN

Poor Little Rich and Rich Little Poor Ones All Happy Together in Twenty-seven Free City Bathing Places

Hundreds of wringing wet little girls splashed and shrieked in the city's swimming pools today and helped Philadelphia launch her open season in public bathing. Eighteen bathhouses and nine pools in playgrounds—an exception was the Sherwood, at Fifty-sixth and Christian streets—were open their doors at 9 o'clock this morning.

Here one found Rosemary Herbert, of 903 South Forty-ninth street, the first of them. Rosemary is four and what you would call a beach bopper. It is true she was wet from the top of her straggly golden hair to her toes. She was laughing and splashing in a common bond of ecstasy.

Many Annette Kellermanns Nobody sent Rosemary off the beach because she had no stockings on. In fact, nobody had any stockings on and there was enough of miniature Annettes Kellermann suits in evidence to call a riot of Atlantic City lifeguards.

BASEBALL FINES FARCE, IS MINISTERS' REPORT Sunday Games Flourish, Committee Says, Blaming 'Administrative Head' The Standing Committee on Sabbath Observance of the Ministerial Union has just submitted the following report on Sunday sports:

The privileges granted for uncommercialized recreational sports on Sunday have been greatly abused. Many of these games have been noisy and boisterous, attracting large crowds, and abundant evidence is in our hands to show that they are being played entirely upon a commercialized basis.

Boxes to Be Installed Boxes will be installed in drug stores and other reputable business houses on the corners of busy traffic lanes which will contain report cards. A citizen seeing an automobile speeding on a corner violating regulations may go into the store and place the number of the offending machine and his name and of one witness and mail it to City Hall.

Traces Lane to Delaware Bridge A traffic lane to the Delaware bridge, leading from West Philadelphia, may be the solution for the increased traffic. Spring Garden street is ideally suited for this purpose.

DE VALERA LIKELY TO MEET PREMIER

Irish Leader May Demand Safe Conduct for Collins and Mulcahy

By the Associated Press London, June 27.—Belief that Eamon de Valera will accept Premier Lloyd George's invitation to come to London for a conference with the Government and Premier Craig, of Ulster, designed to bring about a settlement of the Irish problem, is expected in the majority of reports reaching this city from Dublin.

All reports agree that Lloyd George's invitation caused a profound sensation in Dublin and that the question whether de Valera would accept was the subject of universal speculation.

Saloonkeeper Testifies to Paying Money to Detective Clay. McBride Offered It Back

Daniel W. Hirsch, a saloonkeeper at 48 North Second street, testified before the Police Trial Board of the Civil Service Commission today that on June 7 he had paid $1000 to Detective Clay, of the Fourth and Race streets station, for "protection."

HEARING IS CONTINUED The session of the trial was marked by the testimony of a witness representing the accused men, and Assistant City Solicitor Coyne, who prosecuted the case.

Offered Money Back He declared that next morning the detective came again, this time with the lieutenant, and in the back room of the saloon the lieutenant told him that there was trouble about the money and asked Hirsch to take it back, which he refused to do.

Atlantic City, June 27.—Special trains and hundreds of touring cars today brought to the shore upward of 8000 veiled prophets, who are the small majority included in all the members of the Government, without whose votes the Government would have been in the minority.

Seen in the Chestnut St. MACDONALD & CAMPBELL'S

The man of discernment who has need of replenishing his wardrobe while he is out of town this summer will send to a reliable firm. Among the Chestnut Street Shops that of MacDonald & Campbell has long held a high reputation for the splendid quality of its merchandise.

OH, FOR a nice cool dip in the ocean! Is there anything that will take the place of it on a hot summer day? For this purpose you will like the bathing suits sold at the store of MacDonald & Campbell, 1334-1336 Chestnut Street.

NO MATTER how hot you may feel, you owe it to your friends as well as yourself to look as cool as possible. There is nothing which gives one as cool an appearance as light summer clothing which is spotlessly clean. It is hard sometimes in warm weather to keep one's self immaculate.

I WAS spending the week-end with a friend at her seashore home; and as we sat down to dinner I could not but remark on how charming the table looked. It was spread with such beautiful silver. Not only the flatware attracted me, which was of simple and exquisite design, but there also were various other silver pieces as well.

FOR real pleasure and comfort on a warm evening I would suggest an electric fan, a good book and a reading lamp. The fan and the lamp you will find at the store of Walker & Kepler, 531 Chestnut Street, where they sell all sorts of electrical appliances, including fans, iron, grills, toasters, lamps, fixtures, etc.
