Experienced Housekeepers Know FESTIVE FOULARD Value of Good Food, Says Mrs. Wilson

These Thoroughly Tested Recipes, Vegetable Marrow, Fried Squash, Southern Strawberry Puffs and Waffles, Are Sent to the Cosmopolitan Kitchen

By MRS. M. A. WILSON purisht; 1921. by Mrs. M. A. Wilson.

Dear Mrs. Wilson-I saw some of our strawberry recipes in a recent aper. I have one which I have used many years that is so good, I wonder if you would accept it for your column. I have served it every strawberry season for company and special dessert and it never failed to delight my guests. It is perfectly reliable.

Hope you will not mind my send-thick to you and pardon me if it

Hope you and pardon me if it ing this to you and pardon me if it ing then printed before. I am an old sook of New England, and am inprested in the cooking columns. AN OLD-TIME COOK.

Work together until it is well blended. Best one egg yolk and add with epough milk to moisten, like biscuit dough. The quantity, of course, varies with different flour, usually five tablespoons of milk required. Roll and cut and with a squeer. On each piece less out with a saucer. On each piece lay fre or six berries and then fold and pinch together and bake as any short bread.

These puffs should be served hot with the following sauce:

Cream well together one cup of sugar or two ounces of print butter. Best one egg white stiff and cream into the butter and sugar until fluffy. Wash and drain and huli one box of berries—minus the few used in the puffs. Now with a wide-tined fork, mash the berries one at a time until all are used. des in one at a time until all are used This will serve four large or five medium helpings and is a luscious Two ounces of butter equals dessert. IS THE NEW EST RAGE In Spite of Ups and Downs

Making a good income "on the side" by selling candy and tobacco while at tending to his regular duties is no trick at all, according to William Henry Thompson, who conducts a miniature store in his elevator in a six-story building on Michigan avenue, in Chicago.

"Shortly after I took this job," says Thompson, "a tenant in one of the offices asked me why I didn't carry cigarettes and sell them to the people I carried up and down. I didn't think much of the idea, but, a few days later, when the salesman for a well-known brand of the last minute—but $5 or $6 a day is the average. In Spite of Ups and Downs
