TheLOVE STORY of a MOVIE STAR

Read This First and Then You Can Follow the Story

NELLA MORELAND, most famous of movie stars, hears that an unknown girl, Annette Wilkins, has fallen in love with Roland Welles, an idol of the screen.

Reports say that Welles is going to put Miss Wilkins into the movies and stand sponsor for her correr.

Miss Moreland, to save Annette the suffering that she herself has gone through because of her love of Welles, decides to put her whole experience down on paper so that Annette can see what kind of man

Welles really is.

From day to day, as time permits. she sits down and lays bare her very soul for the benefit of the unknown

As I approached the first house on my list, I saw that the "stoop" was crowded with young men who seemed to be amusing themselves with making remarks about passers-by, particularly the women. As I came nearer, a dreadful silence fell upon the unman-nerly group. With one accord, they faced about and honored me with a prolonged stare.

Nothing would have induced me to apply for lodging in that establishment, particularly if these were fair ens of what my fellow-lodgers

As I went along with my head high in the air, I could hear their coarse remarks on my appearance. Some of them even whistled to attract my at-lention. I wondered if all the adsees Kitty had given me would prove of such a character.
