

LEGION BELIEVES BONUS WILL PASS

Body Does Not Think Congress Will Take U. S. Commerce Chamber Attack Seriously

NEWS OF POSTS' DOINGS

Congress will not take seriously the recent attack launched by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States against the Soldiers Bonus Bill, now pending, is the belief of the American Legion in Pennsylvania.

A report issued from State headquarters, after a review of the soldier legislation at present in Washington, that "Congress is not apt to regard this campaign as its result seriously. The measure now in the Senate passed the House when it contained taxation features. There are now more service men in the House than at that time and a greater interest has resulted in the problems of the service men, particularly disabled ones.

Senator Penrose has sponsored the enactment through the Finance Committee, "the report continues, "The measure now in the Senate passed the House when it contained taxation features. There are now more service men in the House than at that time and a greater interest has resulted in the problems of the service men, particularly disabled ones.

"There is every reason to believe that this particular soldier legislation will be speedily enacted," the report concludes. The James I. Barry Post, at a recent meeting, admitted nineteen new members. The Legion ritualistic ceremony was employed by the post for the first time at this initiation. The post's next meeting will be held at the Sherwood Recreation Center, Fifty-sixth and Christian streets, and other initiations will be provided for at this meeting.

Tomorrow night the Howard McCall Post will entertain members and their guests at the informal opening of the post's new home, 4104 Walnut street. The post will be assisted by the woman's auxiliary, which will take charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Joseph B. McCall, mother of Captain McCall, for whom the post was named, recently purchased the property and after an extensive alteration turned it over to the post.

David W. Jameson Post, No. 187, will give a smoker and boxing entertainment at the post headquarters, 25 South Van Pelt street, tomorrow night. The occasion will mark the closing of the post's membership drive. The Executive Committee of the post will continue to meet during the summer, but the members will suspend meetings until next September.

Shubin-Buchbaum Post, with the post auxiliary, made a trip to Greenock, N. J., last Sunday. This is one of a series of Sunday outings the Entertainment Committee has arranged to continue through the summer.
