Friday's Market Basket Is Brimming With Delicious Recipes

By MRS. M. A. WILSON Copyright, 1981, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson

FOURTH OF JULY, Independence Day, is an all-American holiday -all our own-and, like Thanksgiving, is usually a family affair. So with three ringing cheers for our brave and glorious land of freedom let us celebrate our natal day with a week-end house party-a dinner or perhaps a

This year we have a triple holiday so that the Friday market basket will need to bring to the home sufficient food to last until Tuesday. Here is a suggestive three-day menu covering the Fourth of July !

A half hour or so between trains can always be spent comfortably in the Down Stairs Store. Many people come in from Chestnut and Market Streets to be "cooled off."

Cool, sweet air, with a dewy freshness about it, is pouring in all the time. As the air is sent through sprays of cold water before being pumped in, the atmosphere of the Down Stairs Store is several degrees cooler than the street and usually cooler than that of the average home, even in the suburbs.
