

HOSPITAL RECORD STILLMAN CASE

Banker Still Refuses to Answer Questions by Attorney for His Wife

QUIZED ON GEM GIFTS

Poughkeepsie, July 1.—James A. Stillman, millionaire banker, under a terrific cross-examination again yesterday in the hearing before Judge Gleason of his suit for divorce against Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman, received a shock even more severe than the one to which he was subjected by the previous day's grilling.

Jewelers' Order Slips Presented

Mack showed an order slip of Cartier & Co., Fifth avenue jewelers, which he purchased in May, 1920, of gold and platinum mesh bag at $1375. It bore the initials "F. H. L."

He was confronted next with twenty-five order slips of Tiffany & Co. and Cartier & Co.

These noted purchases were billed to James A. Stillman, and totaled $150,000. The lawyer strove to prove they were presents for the real, haired show girl.

Then Stillman was asked these two questions: "Did you recently create a trust fund of $150,000 for her benefit? Did you recently create a trust fund of $150,000 for the benefit of Jay Leeds, her child?"

But the monotonous "I refuse to answer" was recorded to both, and each time the banker went on to say "no."

"On the ground that it would tend to incriminate me."

The financier arrived on the train from New York at 10:30 in the morning and took a cab to the referee's office. He entered the room of the Poughkeepsie Trust Building without turning his eyes to right or left.

Mrs. Stillman arrives at the building shortly after, in her usual excellent spirits and looking charming in a white dress of old rose flowered in small, and a black straw hat with white and red flowers. She wore patent leather shoes and cream-colored silk stockings.

Stillman sat again at the right hand of the referee. His wife was at the referee's left. The banker steadfastly held his eyes away from Mrs. Stillman, who was sitting next to him.

John E. Mack, cross-examining, asked: "Where were you on November 15, 1919?"

"I was in the city on November 15, 1919. I decline to answer."

Worry Makes Cupid Thin; June Marriages in Plum

Decrease of Seventy From Year Ago Laid to Scarcity of Work

Young Dan Cupid had a frown on his face today as he boarded his first of July special.

"H-m-m," said he, "something must be wrong. Last June 3113, this June 3043. It will never do, I'll have to order more moonlight."

But the more utilitarian clerk of the city's marriage bureau says Cupid will have to order not more moonlight but jobs if he wishes to keep out of the Philadelphia record for brides up to standard.

Miss Ryan, second runner-up in the new marriage license race, which is increased from $1 to $1.50.

George Washington Flurer, of 515 1/2 Chestnut street, a woodworker, and Albert M. L. of 1327 Earl street, were the last couple to get their license for the old price.

Andrew Jackson, a laborer, who lives at 1615 Frank street, and Miss Suzanne Longley, retained the same address, both colored, were the first couple to get their license for the new price.

Elizabeth Ryan, of California, in the challenge round here today, Miss Lenigton won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0.

Miss Ryan started strongly, and for a time it looked as if the match would be a close one.

The stellar play of the remarkable little French woman, however, proved too much for the challenger, and the result was never in doubt after the middle of the first set.

In this set Miss Ryan won the opening game which went to deuce. Milie, Lenigton won the second game easily, but Miss Ryan took the third, which also went to deuce.

Then the French woman, playing to her best form, ran out the set, winning five straight games.

Miss Ryan seemed to get some toward the close of the set, frequently hitting too strongly, while Milie, Lenigton made her service hard and placed nicely, her back-hand work being particularly admirable.

In the second set the champion demonstrated her superiority in all departments of the game.

She used the ball consistently and made few mistakes.

Weglein Is Stung by Mayor's Charges

"I am not generally inclined to do it," continued Mr. Weglein, Mr. Burch said: "I have refused and always will refuse to be influenced in my vote by the Mayor's ambitions or hatreds, especially with matters relating to county departments or the courts, for which he has no direct jurisdiction."

"No one has been more sensitive to criticism than the Mayor; yet, assuming the position of infidelity, he does not hesitate to criticize anybody and everybody who does not agree with him in all his views."

"In the light of developments of the last few days, it is interesting, giving his own views, 'it is interesting to recall the statements of the two West Philadelphia Councilmen."

"It is my business as a member of the Council to aid in making the laws for our municipality, and it is the business of the Mayor to aid in carrying them out, and any infractions of these laws cannot be laid at the door of Council."

"In conclusion, I am glad the Mayor and the Director of Public Works have decided on an orderly and lawful procedure in carrying out the ordinance of the Council in regard to municipal street cleaning."

When told of the threat made yesterday by Mr. Weglein, who incidentally gave his own views, Mr. Mayor Moore dictated this statement:

"The Mayor has never been in a more cheerful frame of mind, as he knows who is the Mayor, and who is the Mayor. We have beaten them at their own game for several months and now the combine has been driven to its lair."

Will Not Sacrifice Dignity

"The big boss yesterday conferred with him in helping them to lay out the ordinance, and in regard to municipal street cleaning."

"The Mayor's messages to Council, if they will be read, will be seen to speak for themselves, and it is not necessary to investigate, let it recall the Sears-Robuck incident."

Turns to the Seventh Ward

"Let it investigate vice conditions in the Seventh Ward; let it begin an inquiry in the Twentieth Ward; let it begin an inquiry in the Tenth and Fifteenth Wards; let it attack a citadel of political power; let it get after contractor's profits—that is a fruit of field."

"Let it ask why men elected to Council at $5000 per year, to support a new City Charter and reform legislation, interest themselves in the cause of contractors at the expense of the taxpayers."

"There are lots of things that Council might investigate if it desires to stay any more along this line. They propose to stay all summer, do they, well, the Mayor will stay all summer and we will stay all summer."

"Now let the wriggling contractors and reformers begin to perform."

Incidentally, they might inquire as to the means of occupying the profit of some of the majority members in connection with large corporations doing out contracts.

Let them go to it."

URGES CITY BUILD FRANKFORD SHOPS

Trigg's Recommendations to Be Considered by Council Committee Today

APPEALS FOR HARMONY

Ernest T. Trigg, one of the city's representatives on the Rapid Transit Co.'s Board of Directors, will suggest that the city build its own shops and power house for the Frankford "L." at this afternoon's meeting of Council's Committee on Transportation and Public Utilities.

Mr. Trigg has addressed a letter to the chairman and members of the committee, which will be read, embodying this and several other important suggestions.

One of these is that provision be made for the growth of the city in population and industry, and consideration given to the possibility of the city ultimately taking over ownership of subway-elevated and surface trackage.

Another suggestion in Mr. Trigg's letter deals with the creation of greater harmony and mutual understanding between the city, the transit company and the public.

A third suggestion is that provision be made for the deficit of more than $600,000, which both the city's engineers and those employed by the transit company agree will be incurred the first year of the Frankford Elevated.

Colonel Potter to Attend Meeting

Colonel Sheldon Potter, formerly one of the city's representatives on the Board of Directors, has announced that he will be at the meeting of the committee on transportation and public utilities tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Trigg's Letter

Mr. Trigg's letter follows in part: "The proposed lease originally presented provides that the P. R. T. shall expend approximately $600,000 in the enlargement of its present facilities to supply the power and shop capacity for the city's transit system."

"This proposed lease further and necessarily contains certain cancellation provisions. I feel that notwithstanding the greater immediate investment which it would require on the part of the city to provide its own independent power and shop facilities, that it should nevertheless do so in order to complete and independent system may be thereby created, which system could be turned over to the P. R. T. or any other operating company for operation and which might be taken back by the city at any time, subject to contract requirements so far as cancellations are concerned, without any payment to either the city or the operating company."

"Separate and distinct units owned by the city and turned over to whomsoever is selected for its operation, will be the safe course to follow and prevent possible misunderstandings and confusion in the future."

"Let me say that I am deeply impressed as far as possible all chance for further misunderstanding and confusion on the part of the public as to the real situation in Philadelphia."

"The present critical attitude on the part of the public is due, I am sure, in a large measure at least, to the absence of complete and correct information between the city and the company which must exist between the partners in any business operation if it is to be most successful."

"As a stop toward removing cause for friction between the partners in this situation, that is, the city and the company, may I suggest that inasmuch as the city has already a considerable transit investment and is committed to a substantial further investment, you might well consider in any comprehensive plans for the future; the ultimate complete ownership by the city of subway-elevated and surface tracks and other permanent construction, leaving to private initiative and management the operation of the property and the supplying of the cars and other dependable equipment."

"Turning again to the lease, I do not find anything therein which provides or plans to take care of the deficit to be incurred through the operation of the Frankford elevated and Bustleton line. The engineer for the Department of City Transit and the engineer for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. are in agreement in a letter dated May 24 that the loss in this operation for the year 1922 will be $925,000."

"In the Mayor's letter of transmittal to Council dated May 31 he makes reference to this letter from the president of the company dated March 25, but does not comment on the suggestion quoted above. I do not see how any form of lease can be definitely decided upon unless all parties are agreed on so important a point as taking care of a loss of $925,000 for the first year."

"We are going to insist that some of the Broadway stars set off at our towns," Nathan Appell, secretary of the association, said.

Chicago, July 1.—Final decision of the railway employees of the country shall accept or reject the wage increase which went into effect today will be referred to a committee of five representing the sixteen railroad unions.

Executive of the unions reached this decision today and instructed the committee to meet in Chicago and formulate general recommendations to the union membership.

The committee is composed of B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor; E. H. Fitzgerald, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; E. J. Ninety-five per cent of the membership of the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers has voted against accepting the wage cut ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board on all roads today. Timothy Healy, international president, made the announcement today at 1500 union leaders gathered here to pass on the order.

"The maintenance of way men and the shop crafts, which also have voted on the wage reduction question, will not announce the result until after the conference here today."

One million five hundred thousand railway employees throughout the country today went to work at reduced wages.

Washington, July 1.—(By A. P.)—Senate investigation of the railroad situation was suspended today by Chairman Cummings of the Interstate Commerce Commission, until the middle of the latter part of August. This was taken to mean that there would be no railroad relief legislation at the present extra session of Congress.

Chairman Cummings said suspension was advisable in view of the inclination of the Senate to take a summer recess.
