

CONVICTED MAID SAILS FOR HOME

Madeline Geanneret, Who Took Gems at Strassburger Mansion, Off for Switzerland

SOMEBODY PAID PASSAGE

Madeline Geanneret, the Swiss maid convicted at Norristown of stealing costly jewels from Miss Marjorie Bourne, at the Wynned Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, in May, sailed yesterday on La Lorraine for Havre.

Leading in France, the girl will proceed directly to Switzerland where her parents live.

Confirmation of the rumor that she sailed was given today by the Rev. Charles Vuilleumier, the Swiss Consul, who intervened for her at her trial and who was successful in having sentence suspended with the understanding that Madeline would leave the United States as soon as possible.

Mr. Vuilleumier said he took Madeline to New York last week, and she boarded the steamer yesterday.

He denied her passage home. A member of the Ambler branch of the American Red Cross said the Red Cross had paid none of the girl's expenses.

She received $50 back wages from Strassburger, following her conviction.

At the trial it was testified the girl took a pearl necklace and a $5000 tiara from the room of Miss Bourne, who is a sister of Mrs. Strassburger.

Convinced that she had a "tip" believed the gems were left as a "tip" for her when Miss Bourne left the Strassburger home.

In support of this contention, it was brought out that the maid had worn the jewels in front of the other servants and had made no attempt to keep secret her possession of them.

She was arrested by the State police. She is only seventeen years old.

The stores were of Konas Bros., at 533 Arch street, where goods valued at $250 were taken, and of John Y. Mrs. C. Clara Strausser, 3101 North Bancroft street, has asked the police of the Twenty-second street and Hunting Park avenue station to seek her daughter, Mrs. Emma C. Finley, who disappeared last November.

Mrs. Finley left four children behind her, two boys and two girls, ranging from ten to fourteen years of age.

According to her mother she had not been living with her husband, Ralph Finley, a trolley car conductor, for some time before she disappeared.

'ACQUITTED' YOUTH SENTENCED TO YEAR

Judge Tells Jury It Made Mistake and Sends Boy to Reformatory

WAS PAROLED LAST MAY

When a jury acquitted John Allen, nineteen years old, of a charge of larceny today, Judge Barratt told the members they had made a mistake. He then revoked Allen's parole, given last May on another charge, and sentenced him to one year in the Huntingdon Reformatory.

Allen, who lives at 3120 Wendell street, was on trial in Criminal Court No. 2 on a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods. It was testified he was caught with a suit of clothes belonging to William Hudley, 480 West Erie avenue.

Judge Barratt leaned forward in his seat when the verdict of not guilty was returned.

"Gentlemen of the jury, you have made a mistake," he began. "They always come back and I will show you. Here he is again, not much more than a month later. It is evident that he is guilty as charged in the present instance. I am going to revoke his parole and send him to the reformatory for one year."

Allen smiled slightly when the acquittal verdict was returned, but his cheerfulness vanished as the Judge spoke. He appeared dejected as he was led away by court officers.

HIS LIBERTY IS SHORT

T. A. Packer Rearrested After Serving Two-Year Sentence

T. A. Packer, former Philadelphia lumber dealer, finished a term in jail yesterday at Richmond, Va., only to be immediately rearrested on charges from Bristol, Tenn.

Packer, highly respected in this city years ago, when he was a prominent resident of a suburb, where his wife and child still live, was accused of having passed worthless checks. He was arrested by James McLaughlin, agent of the American Bankers' Association, and taken to Richmond for trial. It was charged he had swindled the Hotel Reinger in the Southern city by passing several worthless checks. He was convicted and sentenced to two years in jail.

Packer had a good jail record. Not more than a month ago he frustrated a jail delivery plot in which he might have taken part and perhaps escaped. He was released yesterday, but enjoyed only a breath of liberty, for he was rearrested almost immediately.
