DRY GOODS LOBBING
OF SEASONAL SIZE

Heavy Demand Reported for Yard Goods for Making Garments at Home

STEEL PRICES ARE HIGH

Chicago, July 8.—The Dry Goods Reporter regards the somewhat lagging business in many departments of jobbing houses this week as seasonal.
Retail buyers call especially for organdies, gingham and volles to take care of heavy demands for yard goods for making garments at home.

Prices on many standard, staple cotton goods, including 4-4 sheetings, cheesecloths, cambrics, wide sheetings, ducks, denims, sheeting and pillow cases are marked down until July 25 by one of the largest distributors here. Many others are close to prices of July, 1910, some only the only seven-eighths of a cent higher.

The John V. Farwell Co. reports less July volume than a year ago, but more purchasing and more buyers. K. M. market. Retailers have extremely low stocks. Many have buyers begin to expand their fall commitments. Demand continues strong for hot weather dress goods and accessories. Four-quarter brown muslin sell heavily for export to the Orient.

Demand for gasoline is growing noticeably and prices are stiffening.
The leather market has a rather active tone and tanners hold prices strongly.
Frank P. Meyer, president of the Shoe Retailers' Association, says: "Packers will get the full benefit of the present 15 per cent import duty on hides." Business is slow, with an unemployment of which I expect little after September.

STEALS CHUM'S ATTIRE
Sent to House of Correction for Robbing Boyhood Friend Charged with the larceny of a suitcase filled with the clothing of his best friend, Herbert Palmer, twenty-two years old, of Thirteenth and Race streets, was arrested yesterday and sent to the House of Correction for three months by Magistrate Grels. According to the police, Palmer took the suitcase, after McDaniel, of 826 Race street, had checked it in a restaurant near Thirteenth and Vine streets. Palmer and McDaniel, who had been school friends, had gone to Wilmington, Del., to seek employment. Palmer returned to the restaurant before McDaniel and obtained the suitcase. When found later at Eighth and Wood streets, Palmer was wearing his friend's suit and other articles of clothing. The stolen suitcase was recovered in a rooming house at Ninth and Vine streets, after Palmer's arrest.

KING GIVES FIRST BALL IN 7 YEARS London, July 8.—The first State ball at Buckingham Palace since 1914 was held last night in honor of the King and Queen of the Belgians. It had an air of unusual brilliance owing to the comparative novelty of the affair, 2000 guests attending the function. The guests included Ambassador and Mrs.
Harvey.

Suburban Political Fights Scramble for Treasurership of Cheltenham Township
Although the primaries are still far off—September 20—quite a scramble has developed over the treasurership of Cheltenham Township. The present incumbent is Edward Lison, of Ashbourne, now serving his third consecutive term, and he is working for a fourth term in that office.

NEW FOR CONCERN'S
STOCK PLAN GIVEN

Preferred Shareholders of Defunct International Will Participate in Two Companies

New York, July 8.—Wholesale fur-riers in this market have just had explained to them the plan under which preferred stockholders in the International Fur Exchange, St. Louis, which went down a few weeks ago under business depression, will share in the common stock of Funston Bros. Co., Inc., and the F. C. Taylor Fur Co., Inc., which companies were recently chartered in Delaware to take over the business of the International Fur Exchange.

For its good will, etc., the Exchange receives from the Funston and Taylor corporations preferred stock in the new corporations amounting to $400,000 par value and $450,000 par value, respectively. In addition, the International Fur Exchange was given by the Taylor Co. short-term notes valued at $151,- 000. The preferred stock will be turned over to the creditors of the International Fur Exchange as additional collateral under an acceptance credit agreement.

Both the new corporations have agreed to limit their dividends until the preferred stock is retired. For the Funston Corporation, dividends not exceeding $20,000 can be taken annually on the common stock of the company, while the dividends of the Taylor Fur Co., Inc., are limited to $17,500 annually. Common stock issues of both Funston and Taylor Corporations are 10,200 shares each, and holders of International Fur Exchange preferred

Sumter and Labor:

A contract in method.

If we only could get the Sumter method applied to all building materials, and especially to labor, house-building would begin to boom at once.

The Sumter method is to locate the best-equipped mills to furnish certain required lots of lumber quickly and at lowest cost.
This method keeps efficiency up and cost down.
The union labor method is to demand the same pay for the poorest and slowest workman as for the best and quickest. This keeps efficiency down and cost and unemployment up.
