Nancy Wynne Sees Several Smart Bathing Suits—She Tells of Comings and Goings—Mrs. Lorimer Gives Luncheon

I HEAR that the Rev. George Calvert and Mrs. Carter, of the Rectory, Bryn Mawr, are going to leave the month of August at North-east Harbor, and, of course, their daughters, Virginia, Benson and Mary, will be with them. Virginia was the last season's debutante, and she certainly was one of the most popular ones, and one of the prettiest, which she is saying a great deal, because there were lots of pretty debutantes last season. Mrs. Benson, who lives at Lynwood, Chestnut Hill, and is the mother of Mrs. Carter, will be in the month of August. She first will make a visit to Bar Harbor, leaving Chestnut Hill about the sixteenth of the month.

I SAW Mrs. Ronald Barlow yesterday on Chestnut street, and she surely did look smart. She had on a dark blue silk dress, made with an all-over pattern, and her hat was black straw, trimmed with a little blue feather on one side. Her shoes had low heels and her stockings were brown.

THAT will be a delightful affair which Mrs. George Lorimer will give to-day out at her home, Belgrave, in Wynona. It will be a luncheon for the Marquis de Mazerot, who is in this country and has been visiting Mrs. C. Thayer, in Haverford, for some time. Mrs. Lorimer will have the luncheon served under the trees if the day is fair. There are many shade trees on the side of the lawn down toward the rhododendron bushes, and the grounds are high, so the least breeze is felt there.

I HAVE you seen the bathing suits made of velvet? They are really wonderful, and many of the great wearers in the suburban pools as you go to the seashore these days. It's not as if it was some ten years ago, when you wore old-looking suits, because so few of them now come to watch the water in the pools. Now you're almost peculiar if you do not swim or go to watch the others sporting about in the pools. The pool at the Pennlyn Club is popular, and there's another wonderful pool on the Henry's place out in Chestnut Hill. Then there are several on the Line.

To go back to bathing suits, Betty Trotter has a stunning one of black velvet which is awfully becoming. She is wearing a Nancy Jeffers bathing suit, wearing a Nancy of black, topped with a silk bandanna of many colors, and she wears round gold hoop earrings with a pearl in the center. Edwin Wetherill, who is down at Cape May, has a smart suit of black satin, the only touch of color being a bandanna or handkerchief of turquoise blue, and you can visualize how becoming that is to Mrs. Wetherill's golden hair and blue eyes.

BATHING suits remind me of Jackie, who rose in the middle of one of these recent warm nights and slipped sleepily into the bathroom, unheard by the nurse. Surely she awoke, however, and, mistaking Jackie, started to look for him. As she wended her way toward his mother's room she heard running water, and going to the bathroom she beheld Jackie arrayed in sister's swimming suit, paddling about the tub, though it was 3 G. M. NANCY WYNNE.
