

PACKARD MOTOR HAS STAR TEAM

Minor League and College Players Included in Line-Up of Local Aggregation

GLENSIDE IS GOING GREAT

Among the thousands of independent baseball teams in the city that are making a name on the diamond is the Packard All-Stars, composed mainly of the members of the Packard Motor Co. The club has defeated such teams as Ivins, Supplee-Biddle and Forty-eight Ward and is anxious to complete its schedule of Saturday, Sunday and twilight games.

The line-up includes some of the best minor league and college stars, such as Mike Ward, recently of Hartford, of the Eastern League; McCauley, of the Blue Ridge League; Myer, Monahan and Bortle, of the Southern Association; Adams, who starred for Jack Miller's coverage team; Simpson, of Penna. and McGroarty, Foshner, Wel-field and Givaghan.

Manager having first-class teams with home grounds and offering fair guarantees asked to communicate with S. G. MacHenry, 1917 Moore street, or phone him at the Packard Building, Locust 2300. Games with Sharples, Stenton, Nativity, Dobson and the North Phillies are especially desired.

Glenside Making Record

Glenside has been going through the Philadelphia Suburban League like a whirlwind, and of the twelve games played to date all have been won mostly by one-sided scores. The team, apparently, outclasses all others in the league, and in order to test its strength a game was arranged with Conshohocken, of the Montgomery County circuit.

This too, also resulted in a decisive victory for Glenside, 7 to 3. The suburbanites hampered the delivery of Big Bill Kay for fifteen solid hits, including a number of extra base drives. The work of "Doc" Twining was splendid in splendid fielding of the runners. Glenside appears to have a well balanced team with a proper mixture of veterans and youngsters. Jack Hauser, veteran manager, has charge on the field and the splendid showing is largely instrumental to his work.

Glenside is desirous of meeting the best teams in the State in twilight games on all evenings except Friday and Saturday. The games are to be played on opponents' grounds. They can be booked through Robert T. B. Winkler, veteran basketball authority of Philadelphia, 1321 Arch street, who is assisting Manager Hauser.

Conscientious Fan Returns Pilfered Baseball by Mail

Boston, July 13.—A package which came by mail to the office of the Boston National League Baseball Club developed a surprise. It was small and square and was carefully wrapped. The office force opened, some one having suggested it might be a bomb. Instead it contained a baseball, apparently one bit into grandstand or bleachers, and was being returned by a conscientious fan. The sender gave no name or address.

Commercial League largely due to the efforts of their pilot, W. J. Kindregan, who holds down first base and is also manager of the Conshohocken Pros. He has secured one of the hardest out-fields in the city in Eisenbaum, left; Scoke, center, and Miller, right.

Last evening a large crowd assembled at Fifth and Westmoreland to watch Herstein throw R. P. Wood. All games here are in charge of Umpire Smith, who formerly handled the indicator in the Piedmont League.

Herstein wishes games away on Sundays or evenings. Call R. Jacobs, business manager, Kensington 0850 between 8 A. M. and 5 P. M.

One-Armed Golfer Stars

Pittsburgh, July 13.—A one-armed golfer scored the best ball match at the Stanton Heights Institution tournament here yesterday and turned in a score superior to that of many of the rivals who suffered no such handicap. The golfer was J. M. Griffith, 1017 Brookside, Hightstown, N. J. His score was 84, twelve strokes above par.

To Bury Local Ball Player

James Dunn, 1420 Oregon avenue, for years second baseman for the Columbia Catholic Club and later in the outfield for the St. Monica's Naval Battalion, died Monday night at his home. Dunn went to the Mount Carmel Catholic School and later joined St. Monica's parish. He will be buried tomorrow in Holy Cross Cemetery.

TO GO AFTER LEADERS

Second Mennonite Hopes to Upset St. Michael Team on Saturday After getting away to a poor start in the Germantown Church League Second Mennonite has hit its stride and has advanced from the bottom to sixth place, and on Saturday handed an unexpected defeat to St. Paul, which was in second position.

Second Mennonite has won five and lost six games in the league standings, and this Saturday meets the St. Michael leaders and is just as confident of winning. The team plays twilight baseball on the home grounds, at Fifth street and Wyoming avenue, on Tuesdays and wants games away on Thursdays. Teams wishing this attraction should get in touch with William Hawkins, 616 Westmont street.
