WINNERS GIVE RULE FOR WINNING BIKE

"Smile and Keep at It and Ride Away" Sums Up How It Works
YOUNGSTERS ARE PLEASED

With thirty-nine subscriptions to his credit, Frank Brown, twelve years old, 5055 Norwood street, Germantown, yesterday rode off with one of the "Black Beauty" bicycles the PUBLIC LEDGER is giving away to boys and girls who get thirty-five subscriptions to the Evening, Morning and Sunday Editions.
Frank, who is a pupil in the sixth grade of the Pastors School, at Germantown and Locust avenues, said in describing his campaign:
"It wasn't hard at all. You just have to smile a little and say 'please,' and any one will give you a subscription."
Frank rode his "bike" all the way home, a distance of six miles.
"I wasn't used to riding a good bike, and it took me a couple of days to find out how to do it," said Joseph Blumstein, thirteen years old, 617 Bainbridge street. "But, oh boy! when I got on to all of my Black Beauty's fine points, I certainly did feel grand."
Has Good Wheel Now
Joe is another winner of a bicycle offered in the PUBLIC LEDGER subscription race. He felt he just had to have that new steel mount, and he set out to get it working with such speed that he had it "cinched," as he says, in just six days.
"I felt that the 'old ice wagon' had done its share of work," said Joe. "Yes, I had a bicycle before, but it wasn't in the class with my new Black Beauty. I told my dad I wanted a new wheel, and he said I ought to try for a Black Beauty, I'm certainly glad I did."

Joe's father is Harry Blumstein. He has a carpet store at the Bainbridge street address. Joe is a pupil at the Campbell Public School, Eighth and Fitzwater streets.
Joe's delight at getting his new bicycle was no greater than that of fifteen-year-old Richard Nelson, a Negro boy of 201 Holland avenue, Ardmore.
Richard is a bright little lad who hopes to go to the University of Pennsylvania in a few years and study law. At present he is a sophomore student in the Lower Merion High School.
"I had a Black Beauty before," he said, "and I rode round on it to get the subscriptions necessary to win my new bicycle."
"It was easy and it took me only about a week. I rode 'round among my neighbors and friends and getting the thirty-five subscriptions necessary was a whole lot easier even than it sounded at first. It didn't seem any time at all until I had all I needed."

"The Black Beauty certainly is a fine bicycle. I know because I have one of my own. I have a younger brother and sister, and now they want to get Black Beauties the same way. My brother already has got to work gathering in his subscriptions. We'll have some fine rides together when he gets his."
Richard had been riding his old Black Beauty a year, and it is still good. Naturally, though he is just "tickled to death" to get a brand new one, Richard's father is York Nelson, a landscape gardener in Ardmore.

THE reason why our STYLEBILT Suits are six months ahead of the crowd is that they are not made six months ahead, but from week to week.
