

PHILADELPHIA AND CAMDEN. From Front and Chestnut streets the camera caught this view of piers on the Philadelphia side of the Delaware; a Philadelphia and Reading ferryboat on its way down the river; Camden terminal of Pennsylvania R. R. (top, right), together with general view of Jersey side of water. Ledger Photo Service

AN ODD ANGLE. Have you seen the Rittenhouse Apartment on Rittenhouse square? Does it look like this when you gaze skyward? Ledger Photo Service

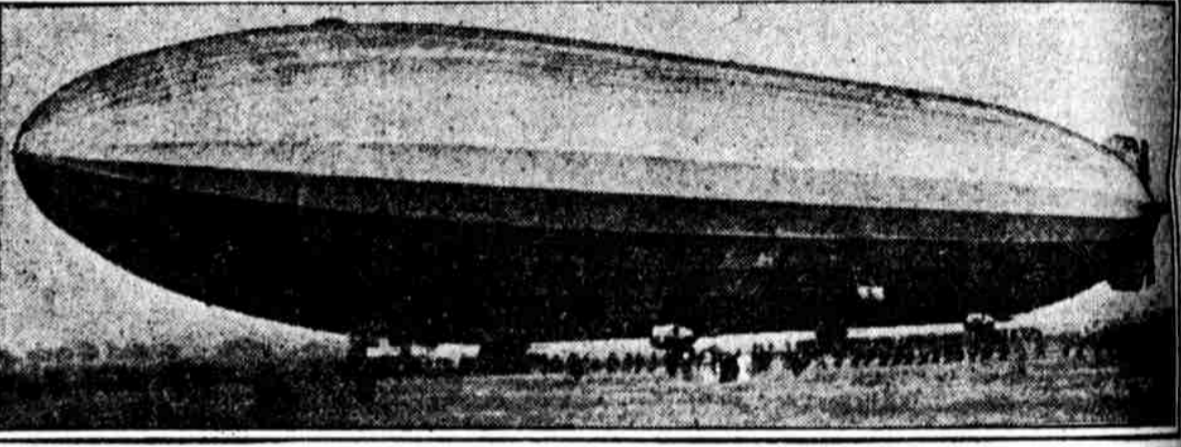

FRENCH CELEBRATE. Members of French colony of Philadelphia and friends gathered at Belmont mansion yesterday to celebrate Bastille Day, often spoken of in America as the French July 4th. Charles W. Alexander is presenting a French flag to Dr. Ernest La Place. At right is Dr. Pierre Giroud, a speaker. L. P. A.

FLEISHER TEAM VICTORIOUS. Life's worth living for a lot of people since the daylight-saving plan has made it possible for them to witness a twilight clash in the ball parks of Philadelphia any night of the week. Thousands gathered last evening to see Fleisher beat the pride of Bridesburg by a 2-to-1 score. Young and old filled the bleachers at Richmond and Orthodox streets. Tommy Volz, a Bridesburg pitcher, is shown at the left. Ledger Photo Service

AT CAMP HAPPY. Florence Eils and Katherine Straub at the city's open-air summer home, Brown's Farm, Torresdale. Ledger Photo Service

ELLIOT WOODS is now officially known as the architect of the U. S. Capitol Building. He was formerly superintendent. C. N. P.

THE FIRST FLIGHT. The airship R-38, built at the Cardington Aerodrome, England, for the United States Navy, about to rise from the field on a trial test. Central News Photo

NAOMI PRESCOTT was picked as the cutest baby on Belmont Plateau yesterday, in the group of babies taken for an outing by the West Philadelphia Hospital for Women. She is being held by her mother. Ira Hoffman, Lewis Larkins and Jack Conley are on the mat. Jack is landing one on Lewis. Ledger Photo Service

WILLIAM DICK talks on school accounting in an interview on the Editorial Page. Photo-Graphic

ITS AMERICAN HOME. When the R-38 is safely piloted across the Atlantic Ocean and makes a safe landing in New Jersey, this hangar, just about completed at Cape May, N. J., will shield the airship from storm. Ledger Photo Service

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

MAIL

MRS. BERTHA MEYER and Miss Rena Rooney, mother and daughter, both of 3621 Janney street, working on corrugated boxes in the factory of the Corrugated Container Corporation, Venango and Sepviva streets. They tape 15,000 boxes a day. Ledger Photo Service

MR. AND MRS. SYLVANUS STOKES, New York, as they enjoy summer days at Newport. They are well known in New York's social life. C. N. P.

ALFRED FINOCCHIO, 1233 South Carlisle street, delivers mail from Second to Fourth and from Market to Arch street. Ledger Photo Service

CONDUCTING CITY DANCES. Miss Marguerite Walz and Harry T. Baxter, chief of city property. Miss Walz is assisting Mr. Baxter, who has been assigned by Mayor Moore to run the Parkway weekly dance. Ledger Photo Service