National Parkers Learn Just What Mrs. Heistand Said to Minister-Sleuth

MALES MORE STRENUOUS

National Park folk last night told Justice of the Peace Goffrey, of Woodbury, that the much "advertised" Jer sey resort rivaled the movie towns" for general lawlessness. The bearing was filled with charges and counter-charges and much language other than orthodox English.

The net result was that Mrs. Mary Heistand, of National Park, added to her husband's expenses for the week when she was fined $17.85 for disorderly conduct. But that doesn't tell the half

The Rev. Elmer L. Finger, pastor of the Methodist church of that borough the Methodist church of that borough and self-appointed censor and general clean-up man, told an audience, largely made up of women, of his experiences as a "cop" following church last Sunday night. He said he heard from Mrs. Helstand in several languages, including one that he said modesty forbade him expeating, this part being left to repeating, this part being left to

It was gathered that he was consid-It was gathered that he was considered "an old meddling minister," and that he was "guilty of conduct unbecoming a minister," as well as several erisp and snappy designations that are well known, but usually unexpressed in polite society. It was also gathered that the minister was treated a :a Carpentier by a crowd of men on Sunday evening. Maud fuller, sixteen years old, as in the poem Muller, sixteen years old, as in the poem lent her classical presence to the affair and helped to throw light on it, the indge in this case being on the bench instead of in the field.

Both Mrs. Helstand and her husband testified that National Park was an income.

A Well-Filled Glove Box Is Essential

if one wishes to look well groomed, especially when This season, if a glove is not a sports affair with strap wrist it is almost sure to be long. Gloves are either very smart or very dressy. There seems to be no room for hand coverings that are "just gloves." Gloves have risen above that, and with all the various tints and shades one may exercise a nicety of distinction.

Special Prices on Some of the Gloves That are Needed in Every Box

Perhaps best-looking of all are those of white glace French kidskin, exquisite in texture, 12-button-length, almost half price at $3.50. 16-button-length gloves are needed more than ever. Fine quality chamois-lisle, in cafe au lait, white or biscuit, are special at $1.65. Of Milanese silk, in pongee, white or black, the gloves are special

(With Headrests, $25) A straight saving of $10! And, oh, the comfort of these hammocks, with their thick box mattresses and luxuriously upholstered backs! It would be much harder to keep awake on one than to go to sleep! They were made especially for us and are covered with our own cretonne, thick, closely woven and very durable. Both the mattresses and the large back cushions are covered on both sides, so that they may be reversed. The frames are of strong angle iron with galvanized springs and four barrel springs above, as well. The extra heavy chains reach all the way down to the springs so that there is no strain on

It would be hard to find better hammocks at the original price of these, and it is doubtful that hammocks of this quality could be found anywhere at this new lowered price.
