

4 LISTED SLACKERS WERE IN SERVICE

Relatives Say Three Were in Sea Service and Other in Canadian Army

ONE DIED IN HOSPITAL

Out of a list of supposed "slackers" issued by the War Department for Local Board No. 10, investigations has shown that at least four were placed on the list unjustly.

During the war these men served either the United States or the Allies. The name of a fifth man, Arthur Morris, 1055 Germantown avenue, is also on the list, although records show that he died in a hospital of tuberculosis of the spine one week after registering.

William John Bregensir, 1538 Frankford avenue, is traveling with a circus, and his relatives say they have been unable to reach him to tell him he has been classified as an evader of the draft law. His brother-in-law, George Sparman, was a member of Company M, Thirty-ninth Regiment of the Fourth Division. He was wounded three times in action.

Before leaving for overseas, Mr. Sparman says, he returned home on a furlough to find Bregensir had just registered for the draft. Bregensir, he said, envied him his opportunity to go to France so much that he attempted to enlist himself, being rejected because of his previous loss of three fingers on the right hand. Not content to stay at home, Mr. Sparman said, Bregensir went to New Orleans and entered the merchant marine, where he served fourteen months in port of submarines.

Francis McManus, of 1118 North

Howard street, served two years in the navy, most of that time as a member of the crew of the Leviathan, according to his brother-in-law, Edward McCaffrey. Mr. McCaffrey said he registered for the draft but decided not to await his call and enlisted at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Joseph Mathiason had served seven years on merchant ships when the war broke out, according to Louis Mayer, 900 North Third street, with whom he boarded while here. After one of his trips, Mayer said, Mathiason registered for the draft, but enlisted in the regular merchant marine a few days later. Mayer says Mathiason was on an oil tanker that was torpedoed.

Merritt Booth registered while visiting the home of Miss Helen Miller, 10 Thompson street, who says he had recently completed a long term of service on United States revenue cutters, and had gone to work for the P. R. T. when he registered. Feeling a preference to fight with the troops of his native country, she said, he gave up his new position and went to Canada, where he joined the Canadian forces.

A tract of land at the southwest corner of Fifty-fourth and Diamond streets, which will be used as a site for St. Barbara's Church rectory, convent and parochial school, has been purchased by Cardinal Dougherty for $52,000. The tract is 300 by 225 feet and was sold by Martin McWilliams.

The congregation of St. Barbara's Church was recently organized in the Wynnefield section. The Rev. Joseph L. N. Wolfe, former chaplain of the Twenty-eighth Division and State chaplain of the American Legion, will be rector of the church.

Sell the Idea

When vacuum cleaners were first put on the market, the maker had to first "sell the idea" of a better method of cleaning.

The adding machine man sold the idea of better bookkeeping.

So the cash register sale follows the "selling of the idea" of better storekeeping.

First came the idea of safety razors, rustproof iron, massage creams, indirect lighting and fireless cooker.

The Bell Telephone sells a belief in its wonderful service—one railroad sells its roadbed—another its anthracite coal!

Ideas can be sold as material things are sold—by good and repeated advertising.

It takes time to sell a great public anything.

Whether for goods or service, if you expect its general adoption by 1925 you should begin in 1921 to "sell the idea."

The public is uninterested, lethargic and forgetful.

Brilliant strokes and meteoric sales campaigns exist chiefly in story books. But the persistent selling of the right ideas will win a national following with an eventual strength and power almost glacial.

"Selling the idea" is slang for securing the demand by the public of anything from dollies to daylight-saving.

Atlantic is a better Gasoline

"There never was a gasoline like this before."

The claim that this year's Atlantic is a still better gasoline is not mere figure of fancy or stretch of imagination. It is fact.

You can feel the difference!

Atlantic engineers know the extra quality possessed by today's Atlantic Gasoline because they know the improvement discovered and applied in refining it.

You'll know by performance: By the eagerness with which Atlantic takes the spark as you press down the starter-switch. By the snappier, sharper and more complete combustion. By the healthy, full-powered punch delivered with every charge. By the greater mileage the recorder shows you are getting.

Atlantic is the choice of an overwhelming majority of thoughtful gasoline users hereabouts. And the number is constantly growing. Significant, isn't it?
