

Mr. Lazybones Is Authority for Saying This:

that to an idle man life seems like living in an old graveyard. He intimates that he cannot change his mode of living, because his vitality has gone out of him and the power of action has been lost or is dead.

If you know such a man well enough to tell him that some of his schoolmates and fellow - citizens have accomplished large things, side by side with Roosevelt, Edison, Goethals, by untiring use of their vitality, and that the mind and will are the forces that set the body in motion and keep it going, he turns away with a vacant stare.

The devil certainly has playfellows.

In 1881 We Sold Morris Chairs

They were among the first articles of furniture we did sell, too.

And we had to make them ourselves, because some of the old-time kind of furniture dealers were so enraged at the Grand Depot adding furniture to its stocks that they threatened to boycott the manufacturer who was to make them for us.

We Sell About 3000 Different Patterns in Chairs Now but not more than two or three Morris chairs in the whole 3000 different kinds!

The fashion of the straight-lined reclining-back lounging chair, named after William Morris and variously upholstered with velvet or leather cushions, has almost passed away.

People prefer the big wing-back fireside chair, the cozy club lounging chair, the softly cushioned easy chair that invites with every inch of its upholstered surface. Or the bolt upright Windsor chair. They are all less cumbersome and as a rule they furnish a room more satisfactorily than the old-time Morris chair.

We wish you would come and look around at all this enormous family of fine, comfortable easy chairs, little and big, that have sprung from those first few Morris chairs made in our own factory forty years

The determination to give people comfort then has blossomed out into this entire great Furniture Store now. (Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Floors) can be made only from the right fabrics in the right way.

The number of men who are wearing tropical suits of the wrong kind is large enough to make emphasis of that point worth while.

Another point worth emphasizing is that only the right kind of fabrics are used in making Wanamaker men's tropical suits, and they are surely made in the right way.

As a matter of fact, they are TAILORED-carefully and expertly tailored.

And they are good-none better at the prices and none sold for less that begin to compare with them.

Careful tailoring is vital to the looks and lines of any suit.

In tropical suits it is all-important.

It is the distinguishing mark of Wanamaker tropical suits.

They are intended for men who insist upon good lines, shape-retaining qualities and good looks, as well as real comfort.
