Adventures With a Purse

WITH the Fourth passed it won't be long before fall slips in to take the place of summer-almost before we realize it. And that means school days for the young lady of the house -and a new supply of dresses. The sleeveless frocks so much in evidence this summer are being made up in jer-sey cloth—which, by the way, fashion hints tell us, will probably be the coming cloth of the winter styles. I nave seen one of these little frocks made of a rich dark brown, two deep pockets, into which may be stuffed the many things a girl can need, such as powde puff, money, etc., and a narrow belt of the material which goes around the waist twice and ties in the back. With a blouse that has a soft white fril out the neck and down the front, that girl of fourteen or sixteen would be a picture of demure loveliness.

Have you seen the new spoons for lemonade? And I imagine they could be used for iced tes, too. They are be used for iced tea, too. They are long, to fit the tall glasses, and are made of the clearest of crystal. The tiny bowl is colored, one a pale blue, another a pink and still another white. The slender handle of the spoon is hol-low, and at the base is a small opening. After stirring the sugar about the spoon can be used as a straw, serving a dou-ble purpose. And, too, every time 1 go any place where I have to bring out my Sunday manners, I always get lemonade with a cherry and only straws.

Heavy, Beautiful Charmeuse All-Silk, $3 Yard

WANAMAKER'S

One of the most luxurious weaves in the Summer Silk Sale. Its fine "face," its rich weight and suppleness make it most desirable for early Autumn gowns. It comes in rich dark navy, brown and black and is 40 inches wide.

All-Silk Wash Satin, $2 Yard

Another noteworthy "special" in this annual Silk Sale. Being 40 inches wide it requires only two "lengths" for a skirt and is therefore quite economical. White, flesh and pink.

Dress Satin, $2 Yard

Brown is predicted to be the popular shade for Autumn and this extra good satin comes in brown, navy and black. All-silk and 39 inches wide.

Crepe de Chine Unusual at $1.50 Excellent all-silk crepe for blouses, dresses and underclothes for the bride. White, navy, silver, pink, flesh, black and Copenhagen. 38 inches wide. (Central)

This Is a Wanamaker Special Shoe at $5.40

It is of a deep tan leather that is pliable and soft to the foot yet has enough sturdiness to wear. The sole is welted and is substantial enough for walking. The ankle strap fits snugly and the imitation wing tip proclaims its good style. The heel is medium high. It is one of the best $5.40 shoes we have had in a long time. A mate to it in value 1s a 3-eyelet Oxford of the same deep tan with imitation wing tip-especially for walking and
