

HERE'S A NEW SUMMER SPORT. This new electric swing, which drops the riders into the water on every whirl, has been set up at Wilson Beach, Chicago, where thousands have tried it. The passengers in bathing suits sit on a wide strap.

SHOWER OF RICE. Lady Queenborough is leaving her home on Fifth avenue, New York, following her wedding. Until her marriage she was Miss Edith Starr Miller, widely known in New York and Newport society.

THE GROOM. Baron Queenborough entering the home of bride before wedding.

"SPEAK FOR YOURSELF, JOHN." John Alden at the feet of Priscilla as Pilgrim doings are enacted in Massachusetts. Imagine a 1921 lover sending an emissary.

HIGHWAY MAKE-UP. The mirror of an automatic vending machine proved useful to Misses Kath. Bayne and Anna Clover.

A. WILSON, center forward of Scottish soccer team now in U. S.

MRS. LYDIG HOYT, who was formerly Miss Julia Robinson, returning from France.

ANTASO VINC. SOLERY ROYS, vicar of Catholic Mission in Colombia, S. A. H. & C.

NO PRESCRIPTION NEEDED. Members of the Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists, their families and friends got a day chock full of fun, without a doctor's advice, at their annual basket picnic held at Strawberry Mansion yesterday.

EDNA M. ALDRICK (left) and FLORENCE M. KELLY won the three-legged race. The camera clicked when the broom polo match was going fast.

PHILADELPHIANS IN PARADE. The photograph shows the mounted division of the delegation of Elks from this city who took part in the annual parade of Elks at Los Angeles, Calif. It was part of the program of those attending the national convention of that organization.

PAST AND PRESENT. At left is William M. Abbott, retiring Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks, during annual national convention held in Los Angeles. W. W. Mountain succeeds Mr. Abbott.

DR. WILBUR THOMAS talks on European rehabilitation, in an Editorial Page interview.

YOUTHFUL SHOT. John Gray hides in the foliage, in real warfare fashion, at the Drexel Biddle Junior marines encampment at Lansdowne.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

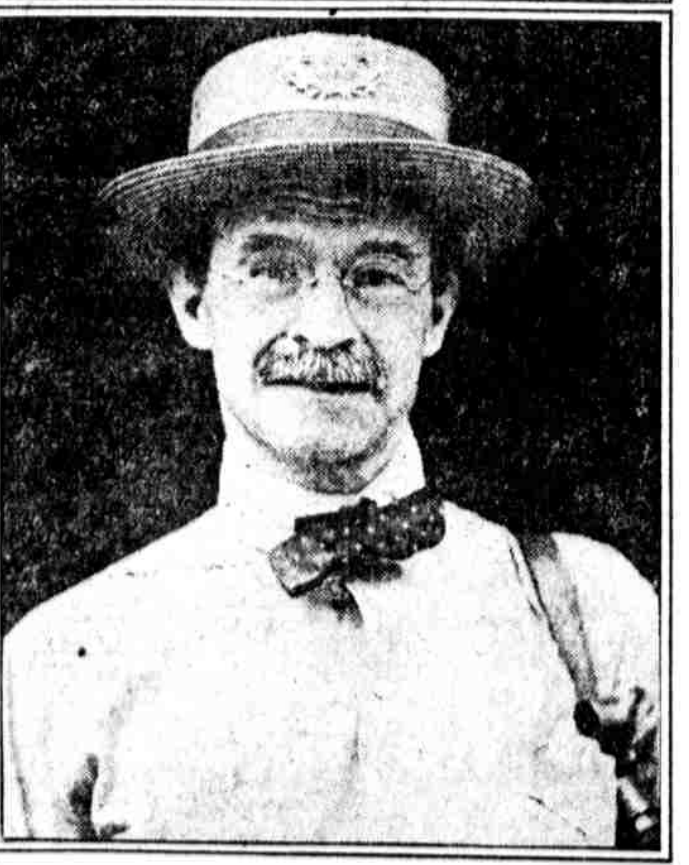

ROBERT JUNK, 171 East Master street, operating a scouring machine in the mill of the Oxford Dye Works, Inc., 1410 East Oxford street. Six thousand pounds of wool are put through the machine in a day.

BUYING CUCUMBERS. Two customers making a deal with one of hundreds of pushcart proprietors found doing business on streets of South Philadelphia.

MAIL

ALEXANDER ERMANN, 1955 North Nineteenth street. For twenty-five years he has been in service. Route: Arch, Ninth to Twelfth street.

PUBLIC LINKS STAR. Robert Hamilton, a former caddy, is setting the pace at Cobbs Creek. Hamilton is employed at Broad Street station.

L. KELLY, the speedy infielder of Liggitt & Myers baseball team.