WEST STILL BUYING ON LIMITED SCALE

Wholesale Business Reflects Slightly More Activity in Retail Trade

Chicago, July 23.—In some quarters the tenor of trade reports was a little more favorable the last week. In the steel industry prices have been reduced to a point where there is a better volume of business coming in, and the tendency to expand has been more marked than for some time. Another feature is that wholesale trade reports in dry goods and general merchandise reflect a little more active retail trade. Mail-order houses report a fairly encouraging volume of business, which probably reflects the free selling of grains.

General buying of all kinds is still of moderate proportions. Building operations at Chicago are still held in check by local conditions governing labor. Adjustment of these difficulties is expected in the near future and a rapid expansion in operations is then looked for. With lower material prices and more stable labor conditions, the needed construction work would go forward at a good pace.

Money conditions are not materially changed except that rates showed a further easier tendency in some quarters, although at Chicago no change in current rates was reported. Collections are fair compared to last year. A favorable turn is reported in the export provisions trade which is an encouraging feature. Europe has bought liberal quantities of lard, and the greater demand for domestic and export account has been a factor in putting up hog prices about two cents a pound, which means a big increase in the income of the farming community.

The new crop wheat is being moved at a rate hitherto unknown. Primary arrivals have resulted in liberal accumulations of stock. The early marketing of the new crop will tend to improve conditions, as prices are comparatively good, and a large part of the grain is going for export. Prospects now are for a bumper corn crop which will offset losses to winter wheat and oats, and will afford a sound basis for agricultural prosperity.

Automobile trade reports are not specially optimistic, and price reductions have not resulted in any great flow of orders. The hide and leather situation is a little stronger, small tanners taking many hides.

BANK CLEARINGS DECLINE

Local Exchanges 24.3 Per Cent Below This Week Last Year

Further evidence of the continued stagnation in business is shown by the reports of clearing house associations in the principal cities of the country. Total bank exchanges for the week, as compiled by the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, were $6,503,247,372, compared with $8,146,613,609 this week last year, or a loss of 20.2 per cent.

Local exchanges dropped 24.3 per cent, the aggregate being $315,000,000, compared with $416,008,978 last year. Comparisons follow:
