"Lay down your money and come and get it."

That was the insolent signal hung out by a tramp steamship which was driving up and down outside the three-mile limit off Atlantic City all day yesterday. Gustoms officers and revenue men stood helplessly by and fumed as they read the fluttering pennants.

The steamship was watched carefully all day, but as soon as night fell she slipped away, probably to land her cargo at some other point, and has not been seen since,

Morris Schiff Insists Robbery Could Not Have Been Done Without Connivance

WATCHMAN IS MISSING: MILLS TO INVESTIGATE

Morris Schiff, 4651 Milnor street, the saloonkeeper whose warehouse was rob bed of $50,000 worth of liquor early yesterday morning, went to City Hall this morning to visit Superintendent of Police Mills and charge collusion be tween the police and the men who got the liquor. Schiff asserts it could have been impossible for the men to take such a big quantity of liquor without police connivance.

The warehouse is at the end of an areaway, about 250 feet long, and Schiff says that all the stuff would have to be carried down this alley and that a large number of men must have been sengaged in the raid.

The robbery occurred some time just before dawn Sunday. Schiff was in Atiantic City at the time. The warehouse is a converted two-story dwelling, and had a wooden door with two padlocks. These locks were broken open and four heavy radiators that had been placed against the door were pushed aside. Schiff says that in addition to this he had two watchmen and also paid the policeman on the beat extra to keep good watch on his place.

One of the watchmen was occupied in Major Campbell to Be Given doing nothing but watching his place, he said, and the other was the emother business places in the neighbor-hood. Schiff said this morning that he did not know the name of his watch man, who was missing.

None of the neighbors saw anything that resembled the robber band, despite the fact that several families live in the areaway down which the loot must have been carried. One woman says that she saw a truck with a man says that she saw a truck with a man still taut as a result of Saturday's exand a boy and several barrels of liquor shortly after 5 o'clock. First reports had it that a large crowd watched the who had called him a liar, the Bergdoll tables, which had called him a liar, the Bergdoll tables.
