

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

A Modern Cave Man
By LILLIAN HALL CROWLEY

David Henderson, sitting in a secluded spot of the veranda in the depths of despair, was startled out of his unhappy line of thought when he heard the speaker was looking for him. Then the words arrested him for a moment. He was behind some potted plants and egress was not easily gained. He did not intend to listen, but could not help hearing the following in a girl's indignant voice:

"That's just the trouble," replied another girl. "I know Lois pretty well, and I think her real love, David, but it's too uninteresting to have some one so perfect all the time. He ought to employ cave man tactics. I think she'd like it!"

David went back to his seat. "So that's it," he thought. "Just betwixt consideration of a woman, anticipating her every wish and waiting on her, he's not interested enough. Cave man, indeed!"

He sat there a long time, and he was looking at the moon, either after a while he arose and, with a grin on his usually placid face, he joined the other young people who were celebrating a birthday.

He was the first to leave. Lois looked surprised, for he usually lingered until he was the last one to go home, but he vouchsafed no explanation.

Many, many times he had asked her to marry him, but she had never given him the decisive word—still, she had not refused him.

A SWEATER OR JACKET IS SUMMER'S COMFORT

By CORINNE LOWE

If you wish to preserve your mind for higher things, you get into this year's summer uniform. This consists of a white silk skirt and a sweater of either black or white upon which are placed the ubiquitous Tuxedo collar and cuffs of white lace or embroidery. Clad after this formula nobody can possibly accuse you of being badly dressed.

There are, however, many more imaginative types of skirt and wrap. Very new, although limited more or less to the giddy debutante, are alpaca sweaters with trimmings of colored hieroglyphics which are often repeated on the accompanying felt hat. Then of jackets—sleeveless and sleeveful—there is an unending number. Many are of flannel. Some are of knitted wool. Frequently silk is the choice.

Today we show a smart jacket of navy in knitted wool trimmed with the same material in Alice blue which tops a skirt reversing this color predominance.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By Lee Pape

Mrs. Hews came to see me today, being a round fat lady with more than one chin, and her and ma started to tawk about different things, ma lissening Mrs. Hews tawked and Mrs. Hews lissening wen ma tawked and neither of them lissening wen they both tawked, and Mrs. Hews sed, Speeking of bargins, Ill never go to another bargin sale. Im absooltly throo with bargins.

So am I, if you dont pay the full price for a thing there must be some string attached to it, thats my moral on that subjeck, sed ma, but wy, wat happened?

Enuf, sed Mrs. Hews, I went down to Hookshinders and hawt a shertwaste marked down from $8 to $4.

You were very foolish, sed ma, if the shertwaste was worth $8 they'd of charged $9 for it, thats the attitude I would of taken, never buy a marked down article, thats the principal I go by, but wy, was something rong with the shertwaste?

Well nothing was quite rong with it, but then on the other hand nothing was quite rite, if you know wat I mean, sed Mrs. Hews, it didnt have any holes in it or anything radical like that, but it was marked siz 48 and Id sware on a stack of bibles as high as this room that its only size 38 at the very most, and I wouldnt like anybody to even imagine me going around in a size 38 shertwaste.

Well thats always the way wen you get things cheap no matter wat the circumstances are, persinally I always pay the full price for a thing or elts I dont buy it, sed ma, and Mrs. Hews sed, Thats a very good motto, bleeve me, Mrs. Potts, now this shertwaste being size 38 at the most would probably just fit you to a T, whereas if I ever tried to get into it it would part company with itself, and they wont ixchange it, being a bargin, so Ill tell you wat Ill do, Ill let you have it for $2, just half wat I payed for it, wich is practically giving it away but seeing its you Ill gladly do it, its reely a lovely shertwaste and goes well with anything or even without anything, if you know wat I mean.

Ill be very glad to take it for $2 if its reely size 38, wen can you send it?
