WILEY PUSHES BIKE TO VICTORY IN FIRST RACE FOR 1921 TITLE

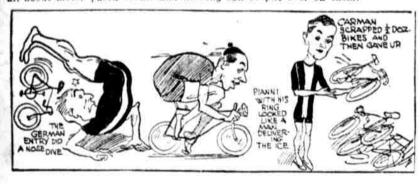

Syracuse Entry Finishes Ahead of Field in Thirty-five-Mile Motor-Paced Event at Point Breeze Drome. Clocked in 51 Minutes 72-5 Seconds

> By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

GEORGE WILEY pushed his bike on the track at Point Breeze last night and then pedaled it around the oval 195 times, which is a way of After doing this he dismounted and, much to his surprise, was informed that he had won the first heat of the American motorpaced championship race. All he has to do from now on is to win a couple of more times and collect a nice gold medal or something like that. George rode the distance last night in 51 minutes 7.2-5 seconds, which was fast enough to trim George Chapman and Percy Lawrence. Clarence Carman was present, but not voting. He had trouble at the start, breaking a chain, suffering a puncture and fracturing the saddle. Outside of that he had a

The race was the first of a series to decide the American championship for 1921. Last year only one race was held, Chapman winning from Carman, Wiley and Lawrence in a thrilling finish. He was one and a half miles behind Carman, but Clarence had a break-down and couldn't finish. This year twelve races will be held-three in Philadelphia, Worcester, Providence and Boston. The winner will be decided on points.

Despite the early rain and threatening weather, a goodly throng attended the races, some 5000 being present when Jack Roden lifted the barrier. It was a jovial, good-natured growd and everybody stuck around until the finish. The folks in the southern section of the city are real bike fans. They walk half a mile to get to the park and think nothing of it. They get as excited as baseball bugs at a close game, only more so. In five years they have learned all about motor-paced events and nothing can be put over on them.

Wiley won the big event because he remained on the track and attended to his business. He had no trouble in the thirty-five miles and stuck behind Johnny Schlee, the noted speedster from Newark, N. J. Not once was he headed, although Chapman made a gallant effort to cut down his lead in the final five miles. Chapman's riding, by the way, was the feature of the evening. He was handicapped at the start by riding behind a spurious motor, guided by Joe Kopsky, who performed for the first time on the local track. Chapman soon was way back in the rear and at the end of the tenth mile

In the meantime, Carman was busting all of his wheels and had to with-draw. This left Eddie Root all dressed up with no place to go, so Eddie was asked to pick up Chapman. This was done and a great race resulted. George overtook Lawrence in the next ten miles and then started after Wiley.

HOWEVER, the Syracuse flier had too big a lead and held it. He was one and one-half 'aps to the good when the whistle blew, Lawrence finished third and collapsed at the end. He fell of his wheel after crossing the tape, but was not injured.

Goullett Wins Special Sprint Race

THERE was a special sprint race on the program, which brought together four of the fastest riders in the country. Oglando Piani, Walter Rutt. Bill Bailey and Alfred Goullett competed for the $1000 prize, and after five strenuous heats Goullett copped the money. He met Piani in a special match and won by a wide margin.

There were four heats in this event, the first bringing together Piani, Rutt and Bailey. The Italian put on a great sprint in the last lap, beating Rutt by about a foot. The final lap was ridden in 16 3-5 seconds. Piani, Rutt and Goullett were in the second heat, but this was called off when Rutt fell on the third lap. While he was being patched up Bailey was called and another heat run off. Piani won again, with Bailey second and Goullett lap also was fast, the Italian making it in 16 4-5 seconds. After that Goullett got busy. He won from Piani and Rutt in the third heat, and bent Rutt and Bailey in the fourth. Then, after the judges figured up the points, they found that Plant and the American were tied with 11 This made it necessary for another race to determine the winner.

Goullett had the pole and set the pace for the first lap. Piani took the second and it seemed as if the speedsters were trying to see how slowly they could ride. They did a lot of jockeying and neither cared to take the lead. With one and one-half laps to go, Goullett suddenly shot forward, took the lead and almost flew around the track. He won by two lengths in a sensa-

This is the first big sprint race held at Point Breeze and it was a big success. The riders do not go not fast as those behind the motors, but the races are more exciting and it is hard to discover the winner until the final

Amateurs Compete in Exciting Event

THERE were some amateurs on the card and they put on a special race of two-thirds of a rolle. It was a handicap affair, but the scratch man had all the best of it. Jim Scaman was the winner, with Willie Shaw sccool.

Scaman won the first bent in easy fashion. He cought up with his field at the end of the second lap and never was headed. Willie Shaw, who were a funny little hat, barely was able to qualify in the second heat because he lost his hat and couldn't overcome the big handscaps handed to Marie Cialoni and J. Cosico. However, in the final he stuck close to Semman and finished second. Ten former amateurs who grow tired of collecting medals turned professional last night and made their financial debut in a special two-mile race. The race started beautifully and the riders stuck on the track for a mile, when comething happened. George Peterson, the clongated Philadelphian, had a flat tire and took a Brodie at the lower turn. Before he could get out of the way Frank Kahlin, of New York, tried to ride over him, and he, too, took a That removed two sterling athletes from the picture and gave Frank

Harris, the colored star, a chance to win. Frank would have won, anyway, but the other two might have clogged up the track. After the accident Peterson had a few more spots on which to hang adhesive tape.

Bike-racing is getting more popular here as the years roll on and is forging to the front as a major sport. There is a lot of interest in the races, especially when the headliners get together. Two of the stars are Carman and Maddona, the Italian champion. They have met in several races this senson and will collide again tomorrow night in special fifty-mile race, winner take all. Maddona will bring his own pacemaker from Boston and Carman will ride behind Eddie Root. Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

PIRATE FANS ARE IRATE OVER DEAL

Victory of Giants With Meusel's Three Safeties Causes Furore in Smoketown

EVEN BREAK FOR MACKS

Pittsburgh is baseball mad this morning for more reasons than one. The principal reason is due to the fact that yesterday the Giants vanquished the Pirates for the third successive time. and right in the backyard of Barney Dreyfus. The other reason is the trade that brought Irish Meusel and prosperity to the Giants.

Since Irish joined the Giants they have played a brilliant sort of pastime. In the two games in which he has played Meusel has seen his new teammates rise up in the last innings with all their might and swat the pesky Buccaneers right where it hurts most. And that swatting hurts the Pittsburgh fans more because Meusel is a mem-ber of the team doing the swatting. Yesterday he banged out three rollicking

According to President Baker, of the he offered Meusel to Pirates, Braves and the Giants. The first named did not want him, the second made an effort that could not com-pare with what the third offered and as result the trade was made with the

Since that time the Pirate fans and papers have been wailing loud and long that the Phils have been alding and abetting the Giants in their struggle for the pennant. These wails led to an energetic statement from President Baker yesterday that closes the matter in so far as the Phillies are concerned. But the Phil leader will never be for-given by the citizens of Pittsburgh. They are firm in their belief that every-body is against them and more particularly the Phillies.

Late Rally Wins Again

It was the same story yesterday as on Wednesday. Youth Glazner, who has been doing some mighty fine twirling lately, did the same yesterday for eight innings and then flivvered badly, with the result that the Giants scored four runs and copped the game. Barnes had been knocked out of the box in the third and the Pirates held a 4-to-2 advantage going into the ninth. Then came the debacle that sent the Giants back to their hotel a winner.

This morning's averages show an Pirates over the Giants, a mighty uncomfortable lead with the Bucs evidently in a slump and the Giants going strong. The last game of the series will decide the fate of the leader. A win was at the top of his game and when and the Pirates will breathe a little Marston missed a few putts late in the easier, a defeat and they will be in a for first place.

In the American League the front vas quiet, both the Indians and the Yankees scoring victories. The former however, had a very bad scare, winning out in the ninth by a margin of a run after being tied from the fifth inning Jim Bagby, the star of the staff last year along with Stanny Coveleskie, was on the mound for the Clevelanders. It was the first game in which Bagby has been the starter for more than a month, and while he was hit viciously roughout, especially in the second and third, when all the Red Sox runs were scored, he tightened at other times and held the Beanenters at bay.

Graney's Heroic Run

Jack Grancy was the real hero of the pastime. He scored all the way from first on Smith's single by using his head and eyes. Menosky threw the ball in from left field and it landed near the pitcher's box. No one being there to receive the pellet and Graney taking cognizance of the fact sprinted home with what proved to be the winning tally.

The Browns were never in the game with the Yanks, being held to four safeties by Waite Hoyt, twirling his hest game of the senson. Davis, who started hurling for the St. Louisans, was knocked out of the box in the third, while Kolp, who succeeded him, was included by the Walls.

Counic Mack's 1921 outfit reversed itself in the second game and split a twin bill with the Tigers. Ty Cobb Returns to Game

The second contest saw the return of Manager Tyrus Raymond Cobb to the game for the first time since July 1, when he was spiked. He played his old brand of baseball in the outfield and succeeded in getting two scratch hits out of five times at but. He failed to get the sphere out of the infield during the game, but his old fleetness of foot enabled him to bent out two of his smashes. Keefe was hit hard during smashes. Keere was lit hard during his tenure on the mound, and young Freeman, late of the Kalamazoo State Normal School, in his first appearance here, fured little better.
