TWO PHILA. WOMEN

Mrs. Margaret Ferreck and Sister, Miss Alfreda Duncan, Heroines in Double Romance

NOTED FOR THEIR BEAUTY

An international romance which will take two of Philadelphia's most beautiful and wealthy young women to England came to light yesterday.

Mrs. Margaret Duncan Ferreck, widow of John J. Ferreck, millionaire esident of this city, and her sister, Miss Alfreda Duncan, are the heroines Mrs. Ferreck will be married August 19 Hon, Richard J. Carrington, nephew to Hon. Richard J. Carrington, nephew of Lady Lancaster and former major a the British Army. The engagement her sister to Richard Harvey, of a comment British family and chum of bridegroom, will be announced at wedding breakfast.

The double romance came about through an acquaintance begun on board the Mauretania last May when beard the Mauretania inst May when the two women were on their way to Europe. The two men were returning from a long absence on the same steam-ship. They were able to be of great as-sistance to the young women, and the briendship thus formed ripened into

Mrs. Ferreck, whose Philadelphia residence is at Fifty-ninth street and Drexel road. Overbrook, will live in England on her husband's estate. Her sister will sail for Mexico, where her husband is engaged as a mining en-

The Arkansas Traveler

When the "Arkansas Traveler" asked his host why he didn't mend his roof, the reply, though made over half a century ago, is typical of many manufacturers today-"I can't fix the roof when it rains, and when the sun's out, what's the use?"

Last year some manufacturers said, "Business is exceptional, factory working nights. Why advertise for orders that I cannot fill?'

It is the same manufacturers who protest today, "Business is slack; we are cutting down in every direction; can't invest in advertising."

Oversold or undersold-invest now in business insurance for the future.

Business Insurance is known as Good Will.

Good advertising not only sells goods-it builds Good Will as an inalienable concomitant.

Advertising space in the Butterick publications is for sale by accredited advertising agencies.
