

PENROSE AIDES CRY FOR MORE U. S. JOBS

"Little Fellows" Want Majority of Places Under Coles and McCaughn Here

HARMONY MEETING BUMPS

A fresh bundle of Federal patronage troubles has been laid on the doorstep of Senator Penrose at Washington. It appears that the Penrose leaders in Philadelphia, headed by "Tom" Cunningham, are not satisfied with getting the offices of United States District Attorney and Collector of Internal Revenue for George W. Coles and Blakely D. McCaughn respectively. They want the minor places under these new officials. And so they have set up a howl at Washington on behalf of the "little fellows."

"What is the use of having these offices," asked Big Tom of one of his intimates, "if you can't get the little places also?"
Want "Dry" Jobs, Too
Another kick which has been registered with Senator Penrose is that Senator McConnell, the new State prohibition officer, is virtually ignoring the local Penrose leaders. They complain, and they are complaining directly to Penrose himself, that McConnell is taking care of his up-State friends. The combine, of which Cunningham is shining light, is going right ahead on its own hook. This was clearly indicated by the circulation of nomination papers by W. Freeland Kendrick, who seeks a third term as Receiver of Taxes.

Others to Enter Lists
Similar action may be expected any day from others, such as Samuel Rotan for District Attorney, William F.

Campbell for Register of Wills, and Thomas F. Watson, chairman of the Republican City Committee, for City Treasurer. Only City Controller Hadley seems to be out in the cold.
There are many who think that when the official O. K. has been placed on a harmony county ticket, Mr. Hadley's name will not be found thereon, and that that office will be offered as a concession to the Voters League, the city administration and the new army of women voters.

NAB MAN AS FORGER

Arrested Here and Taken to Camden to Face Alderman's Charges
Walter Hall, thirty-three years old, Woodstock street near Norris, was arrested here last night and today taken to Camden to face the charge of forging two checks, totaling $110.

Hall, an insurance agent, had a desk in the office of James Weaver, an Alderman, at 753 Kaighn avenue, Camden. It is alleged that two months ago Hall forged Weaver's name to checks for $106 and $4, drawn on the Parkside Trust Co., of Camden, and cashed them. He then disappeared.
City Detective Whaland, of Camden, said Hall, who is a Negro, had told him he took a southern trip following his disappearance.

AUTO HURTS SALESMAN

Hit in Pittsburgh
Herman A. Adams, sixty years old, a salesman, living at 3250 North Fifteenth street, was probably fatally injured in Pittsburgh yesterday when he was struck by a motortruck while crossing a street in the business dis-

The injured man was taken to Allegheny General Hospital, where physicians said he was suffering from fractures of the skull and ribs, cuts and bruises on head and body, and was released in $1000 bail to answer the charge of reckless driving. The chauffeur said he did not see Adams until just before the machine
