By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Hathaway, because her disappointed her, becomes ard. In order to get away sen she accepts a position as ss to a little child in a const.
on the Massachusetts coast.
or runs into Bruce Henderire runs into Bruce Henderho, as it later develops, is love coward because the he was to marry eloped the her with Hollins, his younger of the child to whom Nancy before with Holling.

er. The child to uchom Nancy er. The child to uchomn's child, errors is that woman's child, kancy learns that Bruce hates.

Your and exerts a sinister his er. Nancy incurs his ad Nancy learns had a sinister intille Triz and exerts in Triz's betille to the child fears her uncle, all for in the child fears her uncle, all for in the cantille to the cantille the cantille the cantille the cantille the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the cantille
the canti

CHAPTER XL

The Worst Happens! CE on the windowsill Nancy had balance herself carefully before HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR stood there hesitating and wonwhat to do. If she moved Trix hear her, and if she spoke sud-out of the darkness it might tere child still more. had half expected to hear some from Trix, perhaps a sound of derying, but there was a deathly that was somehow ominous Moving as quietly as she could, Nancy over to the bed. She had pulled house and a loos of the curtains so that a long Nancy's eyes. moonlight shone across the and as she reached the bed and bent over it she could see quitely plainly that no one was there.

She started back, her heart beating fast. Bruce must have kept Trix in his own room, evidently with the loca of keeping guard over her more closely. In order to reach the child Nancy would have run greater danger of discovery, but her blood was up and she was ready to run any risk in order to get Trix

She tiptoed over to the door, listened a moment, and then carefully turned the handle. A second later she was standing in Bruce's bedroom and what terrified her, and almost made her araw back was the fact that a streak of light from the sitting room beyond streamed over the threshold, for the door was not closed, but partly ajar. On noiseless feet Nancy once more approached the bed. In the light from the next room she could see Trix's lit-tle figure outlined under the bedelothes, but the child lay motionless, her head buried in the bedclothes.

"Trix." Nancy breathed the word, hanging over the child agonizedly ready to stifle any sound that she might

And then Trix screamed, a terrible heartrending scream that told of child-ish terror unable to control itself or keep within bounds a second longer. She sat up in bed, her tumbled hair around her, her eyes wild, stretching our ner thin little arms as though to keep something that threatened her at bay. "Trix, oh, Trix," Nancy almost wailed the words, and then, the child had feller beauty at the relief of the child had feller beauty at the relief of the child had feller beauty at the relief of the child had feller beauty at the relief of the had fallen back on the pillows. In the ecstasy of her fright she had fainted away. A sound of footsteps in the next room and the door was flung suddenly open and Bruce strode into the room. Nancy stood facing him, her head thrown back, her eyes accusing. Esen while she was conscious of her failure she was determined to defy lim to the while she was conscious of her failure the was determined to defy him to the utmost.

"Ah! So you attempted the impossible and it didn't work! Now will you please leave these rooms!"

Nancy was suddenly in despair. She knew that it was quite possible for Bruce to remove her forcibly if she refused to go, and at the thought a terfible faintness crept over her. The thought of his arms closing around her, and the dominance of his personality made her realize that she was doubly weak, but with all the strength that she could mayter she stood her ground.

He Loves Her Still

Dear Cynthia—I have gone with a young lady for some years and loved her dearly, God only knows how much I loved her.

We were to be married June 5, 1918, I not knowing she had another sweetheart, and they were married June 1, 1918, Now F. is a very pretty girt and always knew her place.

I am a man nineteen years older than she and could give her what she wished. F.'s parents did not allow me to come to her house, I never knew what reason they had, so we always had to meet out. Knowing we both loved each other we were very happy.

Now, please etel me your honest opincould muster she stood her ground. "Mr. Henderson, Trix has fainted; you know what it means to frighten her like this; will you let me take her upstairs?" There was no defiance in her voice. It was low with feeling, and therefore as she felt, entirely ineffec-tual. A lightning change came over his face and he took a step toward her. but at the same moment there was a loud peal of a bell ringing through the house and a look of triumph leaped into

(Tomorrow-"Who Is It"?)

One tablespoon of liquid from mara-even until nicely browned on top.

Place in a mixing bowl:

Colonial Whole Wheat Bread

One and one-fourth cups of sour

Two and one-half cups of whole

One tablespoon of baking powder.

Three tablespoons of melted shorten-

Mix well until smooth and then chop mixture and spread evenly

Bake for thirty minutes in a and turn over with a spoon. Grease well and then flour and turn in the

with the back of the spoon. Have the mixture about one inch thick in the not oven and then cut in squares.

Veal Cutlet Mentone

and roll in flour, then dip in well

Cut the cutlet into fillets for serving casoned French dressing and roll again deep mahogany brown and then add

Two and one-half cups of water,

Two green peppers, chopped fine.

Bring to a boil and then cook slowly prepared gravy and sprinkle with fine brenderumbs and cover with one-half cup of grated cheese. Bake for thirty

Peach Ice Box Pudding

Pare and then rub through a sieve

ufficient peaches to measure one cup

Soak the gelatin in three tablespoons sufficiently large to form an ob-

Place in the ice box to mold.

Cut one-half

Four anions, chopped fine, minutes in hot oven.

One half cup of sugar,

One tablespoon of gelatin.

Three tomatoes, chapped fine.

our. Brown very quickly in hot Remove cutlet from the pan and Serve on plate, covered with napkin,

One-half cup of chopped nuts,

One-half teaspoon of baking soda, minutes. Serve in dish.

One tenspoon of salt.

wheat flour.

Dan.

Mrs. Wilson Gives Excellent Advice on Cooking Plain but Dainty Foods

A Delicious Menu for Sunday Includes Dishes That Are New and Simple-Welsh Rabbit With French Toast Makes Ideal Supper

By MRS. M. A. WILSON the potato ball scoop out the pulp in ight, 1921, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson, balls. pour over the prepared cantaloupe.

DSYCHOLOGY enters largely into our daily plan of eating, for if you schine cherry buttle. have attended a luncheon or a banquet you will agree with me. You don't put before you just what the menu will So you eat and like it.

Now if the housewife would carry this plan into the househeld. It benefit the family and save her a lot of fleuble. Arrange the table nicely and thousehold. the beautiful the table nicely and the serve the meal from the kitchen.

platter style. Put only a moderatested helping and watch how anxious the family will be to find out if they an have a second helping. At times, because they are nervous or worried, the family will say. "Oh, never mind, don't give me any of this or that." but when it comes, nicely arbut when it comes, nicely arranged on a platter, hot from the likthen, the first thing you know they ave eaten it. Keep firmly in mind that food is wasted if it is poorly cooked, carelessly prepared or over-seasoned. Make the prepared or over-seasoned. Make the saving and retaining of all the nutriment in the food your standard, instead of buying large lots of food. Dispense the heavy foods and replace them with delicate, dainty and attractively sured meals that will not only satisfy the family but will also lighten the barden of the housewife.

I have found that the fruit juices are derfully satisfying—in fact. conderfully satisfying—in fact, the family is so delighted with them that they are demanding them in place of demanding them in place of a or coffee for evening meals.

To Prepare Fruit Juice

Wash one quart of either huckleberfes or blackberries and place in a accepan and add three pints of water. Sing to a boil and then simmer slowly nty minutes. Turn into a jeily of and strain. Sweeten to taste and When rendy to serve just add Peaches and plums may be used in same manner. Chill watermelon or untaloupe and cut in blocks and serve m cold plates for breakfast, luncheon add 12 cup of flour. Brown flour diner, as a dainty and attractive petter that is cooling and satisfying. Shortly grapes will be coming into market stalls. Their delicious less with their valuable mineral con itutents are very satisfying to the Plan early in the senson to bottle for five minutes, season to taste. Now place in a casserole one-half package of Plenty of the natural nectar of this suggestive menu for cooked macaroni and arrange the fillet on top of macaroni. Pour over the Aree meals for Sunday :

SUNDAY BREAKFAST Cantaloupe Coupe Individual Fillets of Finnan Haddie. New England Style of Potatoes Wa Creamed Potatoes Water Osimial Whole Wheat Bread Watercress DINNER and then add Clear Tomato Soup Veal Cutlets Meintone String Beans Suc-Cucumber Salad Succotash SUPPER

of water and then ment in hot water bath. Stir to dissolve the sugar and ach Icebox Pudding in the gelatin. Place in the Welsh Rabbit with French Toast Sliced Tomatoes
Sch Shortcake
Fruit Sauce box for ten minutes. pound of sponge cake in thin slices and ach Shortcake then place a layer of sponge cake on a The market basket will require: long 5 by 7 inches. Spread thickly with ka cantaloupes. the prepared peach gelatin and cover with thinly sliced peaches. Make four lasket of peaches. Potatoes, layers, having the top layer of sponge

Lettuce. Watercreas, Peppers. Tomatoes. Etring beans.

Cucumbers, Lemons.

and one half pounds of lamb One pound of finnan haddie, and the usual weekly staples. Cantaloupes Coupe Out the cantaloupes in half and with serve.

Please Tell Me What to Do

"Brown Eyes"

If you never have worse problems to settle than this one, your life will be an easy one. Don't be silly, Brown Eyes. What reason could you have for not seeing him? not seeing him?

Must Not Talk to Strangers

Dear Cynthia—I am greatly in love with a boy who is three years older than I. His actions speak louder than words. He has flirted every time he sees me Should I accept it? Should he speak first or I? Kindly let me know, as I am waiting patiently. CUTIE OR VAMP.

How can you be in love with a boy you have evidently never met? Do not think of allowing him to flirt with you and talk to you without an introduc-

What of Feeing Bride's Father?

Dear Cynthia—I am a constant reader of your valuable column and now that I have problems to solve will come to you for advice. I would appreciate it very much if you would answer these two questions.

1. I am to be married to a Baptist minister's daughter, her father will perform the ceremony, also become my father-in-law. Would it be considered proper to give him a fee in the usual

2. What would be the proper attire for a summer morning home wedding? BIG BOY.

It would be rather strange to offer a fee to your bride's father. Cynthis would advise you not to do it. You might give him a handsome present if you would feel more comfortable. Gold cuff buttons or some such gift would be A sack suit or white flannel trousers, white shoes and blue cost would be suitable for a summer morning wed-

He Loves Her Still

Now, please tell me your honest outn lon. Do you think she is happy?
Do you think I would be doing wrong in calling some time to see her? I must see her; I cannot stand it any longer.

If this girl deceived you so outrage-ously as to let you think she would marry you and then married another man just a few days before the date set for your marriage, it is hard to under-stand why you would want to see her again. Is her husband still living? If he is you had better not renew your friendship.

If it were only friendship it would be all right, but as you say you love her, your wisest and only course would be to keep away from her.

Cynthia Fears You Are a Flirt

It isn't as though I ever went with him until I was as good as engaged didn't. After I have gone a fellow a few times I am tired of him, so when he asks the age of the so with any clearly with any clearly some of liquid from maratic textures and the same of the same One teaspoon of lemon juice.

Garnish with a maraschino cherry and serve ice cold.

a little grated cheese. Bake in a hot usually takes from twelve to fifteen BEADED WHITE CREPE CUT IN SIMPLEST LINES

By CORINNE LOWE

IT'S TRIMMED WITH FOOTING

An orchid organdy would be almost pretty enough by itself, but when it is adorned with tiny ruffles of white footing, stopping just long enough to leave a panel in front, it is irresistible. Especially when it has a deep collar of the same white net finished with a loose tie and a girdle of pink and blue flowers. The hat is of maline to match the frock, and encircled with more of the flowers

Woman's Life and Love By WINIFRED HARFER COOLEY

narry him?" we queried brutally.
"Of course not; how mean you are." "But if you did not want to wed him ourself what difference did it make to you whether or not he has intentions matrimonial?"

"Can't you see? It was an insult. ringe at all. He just lugged it in. He told me in cold blood that he was not the kind that marry-the inference being that he was warning me not to fall in love with him, for it would be useless! Oh, I could strangle him. The idea of supposing I would consider him, for one moment."

"But my dear Gracia, you are considering him—a great many moments. If you are so indifferent, why in the world were you the least bit interested in his mere casual statement of what intended doing with his personal

"Can't you see? It was insulting for an unattached man, calling often en an unattached woman, to take ocrasion to tell her he had no intentions of marrying? It was assuming that I was just ready to fall into his arms. and it was kind to warn me that I'd better desist from loving him, for it wou'dn't do me any good."
"In making a fuss over it, you certainly carry out the impression that you were a bit interested, and are quite a deal peeved," I said wickedly. "Oh, don't imagine I let him know why I threw him out of my life; I'm not that big a fool. I just took an occasion to pick a quarrel about some trivial thing, and then said that as we did not seem congenial any more, w better not waste each other's time. Of course, if he had been a real man, he would have broken down all barrier-and clamored for a reconciliation; but he just bowed to my decision. The lovely Gracia was both piqued and her vanity hart, but her feeling about his statement of intention brought up a nice problem in the life of many modern women.

I asked a dozen bright members of the downtrodden sex what they would "The nut!" "What conceit." "To fancy a woman had to be warned from his intentions!" "Did he think every unmarried woman wants another consensus seemed The To bead or not to head! Really that the bachelor had erred in tachere should be no irresolution here, tical maneuvers. We found that we there should be no irresolution here. There is as much beading going on at present in New York as there is on though we did not esponse his cause present in New York as there is on present in New York as there is on any Choctaw reservation. Suits are enthusiastically, we could conceive of trimmed in this way. So are capes and so are frocks.

A Canadian correspondent is in doubt regarding the way to address a colored maid when replying to a letter. The answer is that there is no color-line in correspondence. All depends upon the when ready to serve cover with Caledonian cream and serve with chocolate sauce.

Welsh Rabbit With French Toast
Prepare slices of bread one inch thick and dip in mixture of milk and beaten egg. Fry until golden brown. After removing the toast add

One-half cup of onions,
One-half cup of onions

Cynthia Fears You Are a Flirt

Dear Cynthia—I wonder i you can tell me why, whenever I try to get rid of a fellow after I have grown tired of him, he always begins to carry on and rave that I have led him on until he is crazy over me and then dropped him? Perhaps some of the young men who read your column can tell me.

"Not a Marrying Man!"

"Not a Marrying Man!"

"HE WAS positively insulting, and in their eating or drinking, or marrying or not marrying, unless they are criminals, and a serious menace to the State. So if a man is so benighted as to prefer living alone, to having a charming helpmate like ourselves ever at hand, that is his affair. We pity him. Like one who never has tasted hampagne, he does not know his loss!

Intentions are all-important, and I Here was a lovely woman whose home

Individual Fillets of Finnan Haddie

Use individual au gratin dishes.

Place a layer of diced potatoes that have been cooked until tender in the bottom of the dish and sprinkle with a little finely minced onion. Cover with them.

I don't want any smart, young thing there tablespoonfuls of cream sauce. Divide the finnan haddle into six pieces and cover with boiling water for fifteen and cover with the same as running after with the same as running after with the same as running after her Sunday dinners, and taking up and cover with boiling water for fifteen minutes, then drain. Lift into the purposed individual au gratin dishes and baste with a little melted butter, then cover with cream sauce. Sprinkle with cover with cream sauce. Sprinkle with a little melted butter, then to know about Can any one help and it is those few that I would like to know about Can any one help and it is those few that I would like to know about Can any one help to her exacting stand ards.

"Can you credit it—he actually informed ine to my face, and with no except to marry he was creating a false impression. He may have been tactless, but he probably was trying to do a decent thing. The fact that Gracia got rid of him, instead of just jogging along a little gratial change of the did not expect to marry he was creating a false impression. He may have been tactless, and with no except the probably was trying to do a decent thing. The fact that Gracia got rid of him, instead of just jogging along a little gratial change of the did not expect to marry he was creating a false impression. He may have been tactless, and with no except the probably was trying to do a decent thing. The fact that Gracia got rid of him, instead of just jogging along a little gratial change of the probably was trying to do a decent thing. absolutely that he did not expect to marry he was creating a false im-"Well, what of it; did you want to with him as a friend and entertaining that she does want to marry and does not intend to waste time on one who "is not a marrying man!" Therefore, poor Mr. X achieved what he set out Incidentally, his sense of honor has cut him out of delightful feminine There was no occasion to discuss mar- society and countless chicken dinners! "She cannot really want to marry after that pill she had the first time." eried one of the women. "Perhaps she thought him perfect," exclaimed an-"It is a never-ending mystery other. the awful simps most women When I look around at my friends' husbands I wonder that they could have selected such a joblot of freaks.

"But look at the husbands we our-selves fell for!" cried the demure one There was an abysmal silence. What every woman knows is not always appropriate to print.

Wedding Rings

If the bride will kiss the wedding ring sefore she puts it on she will have good luck.

It is unlucky to lose an engagement married women whose band grow larger and more fleshy after mar-riage will rather suffer the pain than take off the wedding ring or have it altered. the seams, the hem and the fin-

WHAT'S WHAT By HELEN DECIE

ASCO 25_c

Adventures With a Purse

WHILE adventuring about the city I find underwear of all kinds and descriptions and each piece seems to vie with the other for first place in daintiness and quality. Had I my choice of them all I would take a pair of step-in them all I would take a pair of step-in them all I would take a pair of step-in the bard work and he turned back with a she gave a last long shudder as she she gave a last long shudder as she one of you could see them, and then I one of you could see them, and then I but in a heart-broken way that caught know that you'd want a pair just as her breath in little gaspy sobs. badly as I do. They are fashioned of He leaned over the side of the bed, pussy willow taffeta, which washes and his face softening involuntarily. the step-in are two frilly ruffles of the cheerful as it was early in the day. taffeta, about an inch deep-the edges up to a point on each side and is caught hand. up by a perky little bow of soft pink "I wa-hant my daddy!" and delicate lavender ribbon. Oh, my little voice managed to say. dears, they are perfectly adorable, and only $3.98. And I'll tell you a secret, here now, he won't be here till mornthe girl told me that the supply is low, so you'd better go early to be sure of having a pair!

There is something about a new face side of you. Can't you get to sleep?"

powder or cold cream that we of the "fair sex" cannot resist. Whenever I am passing through a store and see a gir! demonstrating a new tollet article. girl I am always filled with an almost overpowering desire to stop and let the powder be tried on me. While visiting shop yesterday I noticed a new and very attractively boxed face powder and The articles are sold separately, but it is much better to buy them in a set. The set consists of them in a set. The set consists of a cleansing cream, which is soft and clear and very thoroughly cleans the skin. Then there is a smooth, vanishing cream as a foundation for the powskin. Then there is a smooth, vanishing cream as a foundation for the powskin. Then there is a smooth, vanishing cream as a foundation for the powder. A large jar of "mud packs." which is a specially prepared cream to remove the substitute of the he wrinkles, and last, but not least, a box of delicately fragrant, soft face powder. That set is $3.50. The packages are all quite large and most certainly a worth-while investment. For names of shops address Woman's Page Editor or phone Walnut 3000 or Main 1601.

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips No. 17-Heavy Eyebrows Heavy eyebrows are primarily a sign of ruggedness, both mentally and physically.

Do you know a man or a woman with unusually heavy ones? You'll find that he or she is a person inclined to stick vigorously to his or her views. Such the boss for a raise, which he always got people don't surrender their opinions or One day he came around to the boss principles easily and they're somewhat harder than normal to convince on most

In almost every case you'll find them ordering their lives and their actions decisively, often quickly, but rarely upon mere impulse or intuition. Don't look for too much of the moon-light-rose bower type of romance in a girl who has heavy eyebrows. But you will, of course, if she has those narrow, pencil-line brows; look carefully to see if it is nature or art that has given them to her. Left to themselves, her brows might be heavy.

And if the man you're wondering about has heavy brows, he's likely to ropose in some more prosaic way than lropping on his knees and comparing your eyes to the stars above. doesn't say that he isn't romantic, but only that if he is remantic it's in a practical, common-sense sort of way. Again, heavy-browed people are not so inclined to set unusual store by extreme niceties and refinements, nor are believe in judging one by these. It is quite possible that this Mr. X was not they so fond of luxurious ease as narrow-browed people. For their sign is adjudged him, but was acting from what he called honor.

Here was a lovely weman whose home accomplishment.

Tomorrow-Praise-Hungry Mouths

The Question Corner Today's Inquiries

. Describe an innovation which makes the finishing off of a sush a simple, easy affair. How should a crack in a plaster wall be mended before repapering or painting is done? 3. If the woman who wants to keep her hands in good condition has to do housework, how should she take care of her hands?

4 What difference does the second syllable make in the words "council" and "counsel"? 5. In a recent style show of shoes, what predictions for next season's styles were made? 8. If it is necessary to take in the upper part of a one-piece dress and not the skirt or waistline. what is the best way to do it without disturbing the hang of Yesterday's Answers 1. Judge Jenn Hortense Norris, of New York, considers the work of the Dometic Relations Court the most heart-breaking of any judicial position in the country. 2. If tan-colored silk shades in brown living room give too cold and dull a light. line with corn color and they will brighten up. When iced ten is spilled on a colored dress the first fiding to do is to sponge it with cold water prevent a stain.

4. "Complacent means smug pleased with oneself; "complai sant" means trying to please After cutting out fitting and basting up a sommer dress, take it to a hemstitcher to have all ishing done by hemstitching, thus letting "George" do the making and trimming.

6. In waving the hair on curlers.

put it up with the wavers per-pendicular to the ear, if you wear your bair parted and drawn back over the ears.

difference!

Coffee At all our Stores

STORES CO.

Little Patient Couldn't Sleep Without Saying Her Prayers to Somebody

She Couldn't Have Her Daddy, but the Young Interne Offered His Services and Her Soul Was Made Safe for the Night

wobbly smile.

just then.

she could whisper to him.

bloomers I have seen in one of the hard work and he turned back with a shops. I just wish that each and every slight frown to answer a mournful call. His little patient was weeping quietly, wears beautifully. Around the edge of kindly, trying to make his voice as Another long shivering sob was his of the frill are picoted. The leg curves only reply and he put out a steadying "I wa-hant my daddy!" the lonely

ing." said the doctor, soothingly, "but

The dreary sound continued and the curly head shook vehemently.
"Nu-hub-ho!" cried daddy's little He tried another tack. "What is it all about? Maybe if you told me." he suggested gently, "you'd feel better. Would I do?"

Another emphatic shake of the head.
then a quieting of the sobs as the that was the only kind of enthought began to take hold.

But that moment.

But that moment.

Counter that was the only kind of enthought began to take hold.

was his reward.

se upon her knees and gave him a

"Could I say my prayers to you?"
e pleaded softly, embarassment

Reaching her arms up around his neck, she pulled his head down so that struggling with her trust.

He nodded. It was all he could do

AS SHE knelt there to repeat her earnest sweet little recitation, all the burden and worry of the last half hour rolled away like her tears.

When it was all over, the day properly finished and her soul properly protected for the night she settled down upon her pillow again and the young doctor fixed her comfortably with a

A wavering moist smlle of gratitude

He turned fiercely away and walked down the corridor with a swinging step that looked as if he were hunting for Perhaps he was. It would have been a dragon to slay with his bare hands.

a relief to have an exciting encounter just at that moment.

reassuring pat on her shoulder.

Two Minutes of Optimism By HERMAN J. STICH

Shon

66 DID you ever notice." remarked the chief, "that some people, when they have climbed a few rungs on life's ladder, instead of taking advantage of the fact that they can look further on, seem to swell up physically and shrink mentally till from the little height they've reached they grow dizzy and flop with what a newspaper writer would call a dull, heavy, lifeless thud?" "It reminds me." continued the chief, "of a chap whose name I have for gotten, but whose good-natured Dutch employer dubbed 'Shon.' "Shon had started as an office boy and had been advanced to chief clerk, and since his promotion he had on almost half a dozen different occasions struck

"One day be came around to the boss and again asked him for an increase 'Now, business was pretty slow, and besides the old Dutchman's bonnet was disturbed by the bee that Shon was already getting somewhat more than be some more?" "This seemed to present just the opportunity Shon was looking for. "I am your principal mainstay," he answered. 'I am acquainted with very detail of your business; and the irrefutable fact of the situation is that

'Shon,' he said. 'I t'ink I have you putty vell alretty yet; yat for I have our firm would go all to smash without me "'Iz dot so?' queried the Dutchman. 'Vy, Shon, yet I do s'pose you die?'

" that would be extremely unfortunate both for you and for the concern,' plied Shon, 'but then you would be compelled to get along somehow or other,

"The old Dutchman said nothing, but very good-naturedly took a few long ouffs from his nine. " 'Vell.' he murmured finally, 'Shon, I guess you petter gonsider yourself

The Woman's Exchange

For Falling Hair

Frude oil is good for failing hair and dandruff, but liquid viseline is just as good and lose not have disagreeable odor Apply every day and do not mind the greasiness, for it will make the hair healthy and also make it grow Thegrane will all wash out when you shams poor your hair.

A Bride-to-Be Writes To the Litter of Women's Page: Dear Modame-Lexpect to be married in a ver short time, and would appre-ciate greatly if you could advise me where I could learn to cook, free of harke a there are any places where one could take it up free of charge. CLAIRE L public bigh schools throughout the city coulds in domestic enence are given every year. If you will call the Heart of Education at City Hall they will be given you all the particu-

High School Is Free

Is the English W. ... in a Page, Jath Editors Wasser's Page;

Dear Madats.—H is mucro money does a girl need to pay the rates for the four-year course of high school? Also, is a girl of fourier too big to wear her hair parted on the side and plaited into two plaits in the back. It passes my waiscline. I have much trouble in combing it a different way. R. M. A. High schools are absolutely free Books and a bool supplies are furnish gratis by the State with the exception of substitutes for those that are destroyed and less. Your hair might be prettily arranged in plaits around your head. This might relieve the weight upon your head light for a girl of fourteen your present way of dressing your main to extreet.

Has a Rosy Complexion

Why, oh why do you want to get rid ready for the cool breezes

What Do the Readers Say?

In the Editor of Woman's Pag Dear Madam—A girl friend and my self have been having quite a debate over a little domestic problem. A says over a little domestic promein.
that blue is the proper color for a male infant, while B contends that pink is the accepted color. If you will settle this little friendly argument I would appreciate it very much.

BLUE EYES.

There seems to be no way of proving There seems to be no way of proving this. Elue Eyes. The accepted rule is that blue is for boys and pink for girls, but those who swear by the other standard are quite as certain. What do the readers say about this? Let's decide by popular favor. If there are more in favor of blue for a bey, we shall call that the rule, no matter what anybody tapes are still in vogue. This BUT TONON CAPE variety will be very convenient in the early fall. Make a cape and frock to match. The care goes just at the sides. The collar closes in front. Along each shoulder line make a row of huttomboles. Fasten a row of buttomboles who will be the frock as shown. They acres as ornaments when the cape is not worn. For the cooler rosy complex on and would have get T-N-ON CAPE. You just button it of all the ANN-TS to the fourtons on the freek and you are

