MOVIEGRAMS FROM SCREEN TO PATRON

THE Rivoli Theatre, Fifty-second and Tansom streets, opens for the regular sesson on August 15 with a selected pleture. Only the big special productions from the movie studios will be offered at CCIENCE is daily unveiling the mys-D teries with which life is enshrouded. One of the most recent discoveries that One of the mour growing stock of genhas added to our growing stock of general knowledge is due to the perfecting of a device for photographing under water by J. Ernest Williamson, who has applied his knowledge in a remarkable photoplay, entitled "Wet Gold." This picture will have its first Philaclobia showing at the Victoria Theatre the week of August 15.

"Wet Gold" reveals the actual strugs of men with creatures of the sea. It was taken on the ocean floor off the Bahama Islands. The men are seen threading their way through the soft mud of the ocean bottom, in and out of beautiful coral and rock formations and avoiding the thousands of fish and other creatures that swim about them.

All the underwater photography in "Wet Gold," which is a Goldwyn pic ture, forms a part of a thrilling adinvolves a hunt for hidden treasure that a band of pirates has spirited away and buried in a cave in the bottom of the sea. To locate the treasure a submarine is brought into the story, and the divers who go in search of the treasure use the undersea boat as a rendezvous, fighting their way through the water and digging up the hidden HAROLD LLOYD in "I Do" and "Don't Neglect Your Wife," Gertrude Atherton's first original story for the screen, form the program at the Stanley for the week of August 15. "I Do" mirrors all the troubles of "I Do" mirrors all the troubles of newlyweds who are forced to take care of two young and active children over night. "Don't Neglect Your Wife" tells how a beautiful young married woman who has been disillusioned in her husband has found herself caring for a distinguished editor. The pair renounced ever seeing each other when they discovered they were in love, but the neglectful husband, aroused at last, demands that the editor abandon his promising newspaper career and leave San Francisco. He accepts the sentence and drifts to New York's notorious "Five Points," where he is saved from utter degradation to a life of use-fulness by the woman after her husband divorced her for running away from him. An all-star cast, including Mabel Julienne Scott, Lewis S. Stone, Charles Clary, Kate Lester, Darrel Foss, Richard Tucker, B. D. MacLean, Arthur Hoyt and Josephine Crowell, gives an excellent interpretation of this remarkable story by Mrs. Atherton. Vallace Worsley directed it.

TO WHAT lengths will a man go when he's crazy to marry? Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle as a progressive surgeon goes the limit in his new comedy.
"Crazy to Marry," which will have its first Philadelphia showing at the Palace
the week of August 15. Mr. Arbuckle. It is said, has injected some of his old-time humor in the production, the regult being a laugh a minute throughout the development of a humorous plot. "Crazy to Marry" was written by Frank Condon. Walter Woods was the scenarist and James Cruze directed. Mr. Arbuckle plays the role of Dr. Hobart Hupp, a surgeon whose pet theory is that criminals and thieves can be cured by an operation and thus con-verted into honest, upright men.

TREATING the eternal triangle from a new standpoint, at once interestdirected by Albert Capellani, will have its first showing at the Arcadia the week of August 15. The story was written by Gouveneur Morris. "A wild goose never deserts his mate." and deals th Frank Manners, an architect. has a remantic-minded wife who becomes infatuated with another man. The husband is prevented from seeking another woman secretly loves him. She is married and when her husband learns the truth, he takes a hand in the triangular game with highly dramatic results. end the wild goose saying is fulfilled.

The principal roles in "The Wild Goose" are in the hands of Mary Mac-Laren and Holmes E. Herbert.

Musical Comedy Players Coming Vaudeville has become the proving ound for musical stars. most musical productions have had vaudeville headliners as featured players and much of their recognition and popplarity has been guined in the two-a Cecil Lean has been identified with enough musical coincidy successes in several years past to be, classed smong the leading stars of the legiti-mate stage, and he obtained his first experience in vaudeville.
