There is enough encouragement every day to keep one from getting tired.

THINKING it over, we don't know of it; anything that would mean more, than to say that the people believe in it.

For the belief of the people in a sale is a thing pretty much beyond purchase.

It is one of those vital things without which nothing else matters.

The basis of the people's belief in Wanamaker Furniture Sales goes straight back to the furniture.

And Wanamaker Furniture Sales are the greatest thing that ever came in retail business from offering the people the furniture and the economies they can believe in:
