

Evening Public Ledger

PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY
CHAS. H. KURTZ, President
John A. Martin, Vice President and Treasurer
Charles A. Tyler, Secretary

Member of the Associated Press
This Associated Press is exclusively limited to the publication of news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited thereto.

Philadelphia, Monday, August 15, 1921

PICKLES FOR THE WOMEN

MERCHANTS with an eye to business
have been sending samples of pickles
to the headquarters of the Republican City Committee, where the Republican Women's Club of Pennsylvania is to hold a con-

IN DELAWARE COUNTY

THE political fight in Delaware County, where newly enfranchised women are organizing to put up a final fight against the McClure ring, will be watched with interest by every one who wishes to make a true assessment of the newer factors in American public life.

HUGHES AT THE PARLEY

THE announced selection of Secretary
Hughes as chief of the American delegation at the Disarmament Conference was predestined. The President's reliance upon this conspicuously dominating personality in the Cabinet has been apparent in every phase of the foreign relations of the United States since the advent of the new Adminis-

THE LEAGUE TO THE RESCUE

IT is reported that Earl Curzon smiled
at Marshal Foch laughed when Premier Briand announced that the Silesian tangle would be turned over to the Council of the League of Nations.

accordance with facts. Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan are, of course, represented in the League Council, but Brazil, China and Spain have also each a voice. The direct interests of these nations in the Silesian dispute are about akin to those of the United States, which stand through lack of selfish concern, held aloof
from the controversy. Moreover, the representa-

POLITICS AND TAXES

PRESIDENT HARDING has decided not to let the opposition in Congress get away with its strategy that the proposed revision in the internal revenue laws will benefit only the rich.

OUR NEW QUEEN OF THE AIR

RUNS TRUE TO ROYAL TYPES
The ZR-2, Super-Zeppelin, built for the United States, is Beautiful, Costly and of Doubtful Utility

QUEEN of the air, in appearances at Atlantic liner, silver white like a ghost of the vanished Zeppelins out of which she grew, greater in bulk than any other airship ever built, she drops from the sky at Lakehurst some time next month after a flight from England under the American flag. And like all great queens of these days, she is beautiful to see, unbearably expensive to maintain, uncertain in emergencies and of doubtful utility in a world that she is supposed to ornament and serve.

MEXICO'S HOPE CENARENAY

ALTHOUGH 111 years have elapsed since at Dolores, launched his cry, "Long live America and death to bad government!"
Mexican independence formally dates from the declaration issued in the politically turbulent autumn of 1821.

THE WOES OF THE THEATRES

THE theatrical managers and producers of the country, including a delegation from the Bohemia, meet in New York today to discuss conditions which have brought confusion and a long array of embarrassments into the field of popular entertainment.

HOW RICH IS ROCKEFELLER?

WHETHER in the New York Times
estimated the fortune of John D. Rockefeller at $2,400,000,000 a few days ago. The man was an expert accountant who used all the available information in making his guess.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT

The Story of Sylvester Rimini Un-
folded by Time in Fragments
Like Patches for a Quilt

By SARAH D. LOWRIE

THE difference between movies and real
life is in the editing, not in the story.
The center of a group of people in a story
you read in life in the fragmentary way old
bits of silk come to the country grand-

AND IF OUR JAPANESE

PROBLEMS ARE STRAIGHTENED
OUT SATISFACTORILY SO
THAT WE BOTH CAN
SETTLE DOWN TO A LONG
AND CERTAIN ERA OF
PEACEFUL PROGRESS
WITHOUT SUSPICION OF
TRICKY DIPLOMACY

THEN WE CAN ALL CUT

NATIONAL EXPENSES IN HALF
AND REDUCE TAXES SO MUCH
THAT THE WHOLE WORLD WILL
BREATHE A TREMENDOUS SIGH
OF RELIEF AND UTTER PRAYERS
OF THANKFULNESS, AND THE
SULLEN UNREST OF THE PEOPLE
WILL CHANGE TO HAPPINESS
UNCLUTED BY THREATS OF
WAR

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

DR. L. A. SALTZMAN
On Illegal Practice of Medicine

THERE are enough illegal practitioners
of medicine in Philadelphia to keep
the authorities busy for months, according to Dr. L. A. Saltzman, investigator for
the State Medical and Dental Boards.

ARRESTS AND CONVICTIONS

"These people were arrested for practicing
medicine without a license and were convicted."

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

1. What is the highest lake in the world?
2. What was the name of the treaty which ended the American Revolution?
3. Who was Lord Castlereagh?

ANSWERS TO SATURDAY'S QUIZ

1. Thaddeus Kosciuszko, the Polish patriot, sword after he had been captured by the Russian force, declared, "I am a free man
and I will die as a free man."

MAY THE PRESIDENT'S DREAM COME TRUE

"NOW, IF WE
RECOGNIZE THE
OREGON GOVERNMENT
AND REESTABLISH
GOOD FRIENDLY
RELATIONS WITH
MEXICO—

"AND THEN, IF WE
OPEN THE DISARMAMENT
CONFERENCE WITH A
FULL ATTENDANCE
AND WITH ALL PARTIES
SINCERELY DESIROUS OF
CUTTING ARMAMENTS—

"AND ALL THE BIG
NATIONS CAN SAFELY
TURN THEIR ENERGIES
TO PRODUCING INDUSTRY
WITHOUT SPENDING ALL
THEIR MONEY ON
WAR PREPARATIONS—

"I MAY NOT REALIZE
THIS GREAT DREAM
BUT IT'S WORTH
SHOOTING FOR,
AND TRYING FOR,
AND IF YOU
DON'T TRY,
YOU DON'T
GET ANYWHERE
IN THIS WORLD"

SHORT CUTS

Lloyd George and Briand, tired of locking horns, simply passed the buck.

The Voters League differentiates between a bad wagon and an ashen rat.

Major Warburton for a start may pull
the knuck from the face of the whisky robber.

Plyde takes curious forms. A lucky fan
boasts that he wins more passes than Babe
Ruth.

Having done his day's work, Mr. Edison feels privileged to sit around and talk a little.

Irishpeace negotiations go to prove that
delays are only dangerous when people grow
impatient.

New Jersey is prepared to stage another
big show, this time at Lakhurst. This one,
too, is bound to be a knockout.

Wouldn't there be a howl if Uncle
Sam's tariff came within measurable approach of that of the bootlegger?

The little brown leaves are beginning to
fall; the pollen of the ragweed is chasing
itself; and sneezes are heard in the land.

Representative Longworth probably considers the extension of the embargo on dyes as protection for a colored infant industry.

Oregon wants to possess the ship named
for her, but she will display a proper pride
in that she shows a willingness to pay for
the honor she seeks.

Representative Oyster, of Alabama, calls
Lasker a dreamer of wild dreams. Well,
that's all right. The chairman of the Shipping Board inherited a nightmare.

It may be that the McClure benches
in Delaware County are no case-hardened
that they care no more for babies in arms
than they would for babies in arms.

The yacht races in Coates only served
to clarify the opinion of the average man,
that there is less real sport in the racing
machines than in honest-to-goodness
worthy vessels.

The story brought here by the Cupped
liner Vigilant, of twenty-one foot pitch on
at large on the ship for two weeks to the
terror of the crew would have been given
less credence if the vessel had been trading
with the Bahamas.

Expert executives are said to be leaving
the railroads for more remunerative businesses. Which suggests a paraphrase of an ancient conundrum: When is an executive
not an executive? When is a railroad
man subject to Government regulation?

The Mayor of York wishes to link
Philadelphia's sesqui-centennial of 1920
with celebrations in York and Lancaster in 1927 and has mapped out an unusual and ambitious program. Something is sure to come of it. He has the enthusiasm and the optimism of a citizen of Roxborough.

There are unquestionably very interesting stories connected with the nine ships of
the Shipping Board operated by the United States Mail Steamship Company, but after reading the testimony of DeLancey Nick-
oll, Ballist, Kerlin and the rest, it is hard to see what is left in doubt as to which of them
is true.

When Reginald Berkeley, secretary of the British League of Nations Unit, says
the League has accomplished much ready
without the participation of the United States, what he means is "with the passive acquiescence of the United States" or the active cooperation of the United States. For,
willfully nifty, the United States has, in actual practice, been a more or less unofficial
participant in every session where world policies
were proclaimed or decisions made.

Hats off to Capt. Kelly, captain of a French coastwise vessel in the Mediterranean. He sighted a floating mine as the Italian liner, the residents Wilson, approached. He was unable to signal so
he maneuvered his small craft that the liner
had to change its course. The officers were warily, for they did not know a disaster
had been averted. They shook their hats
at him. Had they known, they would have wanted to kiss him. The world is full of compensations.

It is a pity that the visit to Buenos Aires of William B. Ryan, vice president of the United American Lines, and Richard
Steinberg, director of the Hamburg-American
Steamship Lines, is not wholly unaccompanied by corollary South American trade
to the hurt of traders in the United States;
and it is equally safe to declare that the
active cooperation of the United States
manufacturers follow foreign methods and
give the South Americans what they want
and are not simply try to sell them the things
we are convinced they ought to have.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT

The Story of Sylvester Rimini Un-
folded by Time in Fragments
Like Patches for a Quilt

By SARAH D. LOWRIE

THE difference between movies and real
life is in the editing, not in the story.
The center of a group of people in a story
you read in life in the fragmentary way old
bits of silk come to the country grand-

AND IF OUR JAPANESE

PROBLEMS ARE STRAIGHTENED
OUT SATISFACTORILY SO
THAT WE BOTH CAN
SETTLE DOWN TO A LONG
AND CERTAIN ERA OF
PEACEFUL PROGRESS
WITHOUT SUSPICION OF
TRICKY DIPLOMACY

THEN WE CAN ALL CUT

NATIONAL EXPENSES IN HALF
AND REDUCE TAXES SO MUCH
THAT THE WHOLE WORLD WILL
BREATHE A TREMENDOUS SIGH
OF RELIEF AND UTTER PRAYERS
OF THANKFULNESS, AND THE
SULLEN UNREST OF THE PEOPLE
WILL CHANGE TO HAPPINESS
UNCLUTED BY THREATS OF
WAR

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

DR. L. A. SALTZMAN
On Illegal Practice of Medicine

THERE are enough illegal practitioners
of medicine in Philadelphia to keep
the authorities busy for months, according
to Dr. L. A. Saltzman, investigator for
the State Medical and Dental Boards.

ARRESTS AND CONVICTIONS

"These people were arrested for practicing
medicine without a license and were convicted."

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

1. What is the highest lake in the world?
2. What was the name of the treaty which ended the American Revolution?
3. Who was Lord Castlereagh?

ANSWERS TO SATURDAY'S QUIZ

1. Thaddeus Kosciuszko, the Polish patriot,
sword after he had been captured by the Russian force, declared, "I am a free man
and I will die as a free man."

MAY THE PRESIDENT'S DREAM COME TRUE

"NOW, IF WE
RECOGNIZE THE
OREGON GOVERNMENT
AND REESTABLISH
GOOD FRIENDLY
RELATIONS WITH
MEXICO—

"AND THEN, IF WE
OPEN THE DISARMAMENT
CONFERENCE WITH A
FULL ATTENDANCE
AND WITH ALL PARTIES
SINCERELY DESIROUS OF
CUTTING ARMAMENTS—

"AND ALL THE BIG
NATIONS CAN SAFELY
TURN THEIR ENERGIES
TO PRODUCING INDUSTRY
WITHOUT SPENDING ALL
THEIR MONEY ON
WAR PREPARATIONS—

"I MAY NOT REALIZE
THIS GREAT DREAM
BUT IT'S WORTH
SHOOTING FOR,
AND TRYING FOR,
AND IF YOU
DON'T TRY,
YOU DON'T
GET ANYWHERE
IN THIS WORLD"

SHORT CUTS

Lloyd George and Briand, tired of lock-
ing horns, simply passed the buck.

The Voters League differentiates between a bad wagon and an ashen rat.

Major Warburton for a start may pull
the knuck from the face of the whisky robber.

Plyde takes curious forms. A lucky fan
boasts that he wins more passes than Babe
Ruth.

Having done his day's work, Mr. Edison feels privileged to sit around and talk a
little.

Irishpeace negotiations go to prove that
delays are only dangerous when people grow
impatient.

New Jersey is prepared to stage another
big show, this time at Lakhurst. This one,
too, is bound to be a knockout.

Wouldn't there be a howl if Uncle
Sam's tariff came within measurable approach of that of the bootlegger?

The little brown leaves are beginning to
fall; the pollen of the ragweed is chasing
itself; and sneezes are heard in the land.

Representative Longworth probably
considers the extension of the embargo on
dyes as protection for a colored infant industry.

Oregon wants to possess the ship named
for her, but she will display a proper pride
in that she shows a willingness to pay for
the honor she seeks.

Representative Oyster, of Alabama, calls
Lasker a dreamer of wild dreams. Well,
that's all right. The chairman of the Shipping Board inherited a nightmare.

It may be that the McClure benches
in Delaware County are no case-hardened
that they care no more for babies in arms
than they would for babies in arms.

The yacht races in Coates only served
to clarify the opinion of the average man,
that there is less real sport in the racing
machines than in honest-to-goodness
worthy vessels.

The story brought here by the Cupped
liner Vigilant, of twenty-one foot pitch on
at large on the ship for two weeks to the
terror of the crew would have been given
less credence if the vessel had been trading
with the Bahamas.

Expert executives are said to be leaving
the railroads for more remunerative businesses. Which suggests a paraphrase of an ancient conundrum: When is an executive
not an executive? When is a railroad
man subject to Government regulation?

The Mayor of York wishes to link
Philadelphia's sesqui-centennial of 1920
with celebrations in York and Lancaster in 1927 and has mapped out an unusual and
ambitious program. Something is sure to come of it. He has the enthusiasm and the
optimism of a citizen of Roxborough.

There are unquestionably very interesting stories connected with the nine ships of
the Shipping Board operated by the United States Mail Steamship Company, but after
reading the testimony of DeLancey Nick-
oll, Ballist, Kerlin and the rest, it is hard
to see what is left in doubt as to which of them
is true.

When Reginald Berkeley, secretary of
the British League of Nations Unit, says
the League has accomplished much ready
without the participation of the United States, what he means is "with the passive
acquiescence of the United States" or the
active cooperation of the United States. For,
willfully nifty, the United States has, in actual
practice, been a more or less unofficial
participant in every session where world policies
were proclaimed or decisions made.

Hats off to Capt. Kelly, captain of a
French coastwise vessel in the Mediterranean. He sighted a floating mine as the Italian liner, the residents Wilson, approached. He was unable to signal so
he maneuvered his small craft that the liner
had to change its course. The officers were
warily, for they did not know a disaster
had been averted. They shook their hats
at him. Had they known, they would have wanted to kiss him. The world is full of compensations.

It is a pity that the visit to Buenos
Aires of William B. Ryan, vice president
of the United American Lines, and Richard
Steinberg, director of the Hamburg-American
Steamship Lines, is not wholly unaccom-
panied by corollary South American trade
to the hurt of traders in the United States;
and it is equally safe to declare that the
active cooperation of the United States
manufacturers follow foreign methods and
give the South Americans what they want
and are not simply try to sell them the things
we are convinced they ought to have.

