THE UNEVEN SKIRT LINE

"The Love Cowards"

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Nancy Cerson are love cowards. Nancy tates all men and Bruce distrusts Il women and then they are brought together in a lonely house on the Massachusetts coast, where Nancy has gone as governess to Trix.
Bruce's little niece. Trix is the child of the woman who deceived
Bruce, and Bruce hates her and has sinister influence over the child. ancy, because she tries to protect Trix, incurs Bruce's enmity, and one night, to punish her for interference, he seizes her in his arms and kisses her, thinking in that way to send her flying. To her horror, Nancy cannot hate him as she should afterward, and to salve her pride accepts an offer from Dr. Hunt, who has been in to attend Trix, and whom ikes. Then Miss Henderson. the likes. Then Miss Henderson, Bruce's older sister, tells Nancy that she thinks Bruce cares for her.

CHAPTER XLIX A Forced Interview

Locked in the privacy of her own out turning her head if he had not to be married, be to be married, be had and buried her the her arm.

Before she knew what was happening she was in his room and he had closed the door and was leaning against closed the door and was leaning against the had. "Almost girl treats you burning face in the pillows. Sup-pose that what Miss Henderson said was true! baid was true! Downstairs Nancy had called it impossible, ridiculous, now she trembled at the thought and hated herself for the mad beating of the mad beating of night

BATCHELOR

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

lore has it that this dish was handed into the secret formula for gulyas.

Gulyas

Cut three-fourths pound of beef from the neck or shin in two-inch pieces. Cut three-fourths pound of veni from scrag end of neck or from knuckle in the same size pieces. Place five table-spoons of melted suct in a heavy saucepan and when smoking hot add the meat and stir with a large spoon for five minutes. Now add ten small onions, pared and cut in halves, one-half dozen red peppers with boiling water, then cut in half and remove the seeds. Now lay the peppers on the cutting board or table and with a blunt knife, scrape the pulp of the pepper from the skin and add to the gulyas. Now, about one-half hour before the

One cup of stewed tomatoes, drained

One-fourth teaspoon of caraway

Mix, then turn into a bowl to let

Into misture, Two level teaspoons of baking pow-

A gulyas made of lamb or chicken is

Lamb Gulyas

Cut two pounds of breast of lamb in small pieces and wash and then drain on a cloth and roll in flour. Place in a large saucepan on the fire and chake every little while; the meat must

One cup of water, One and one-half cups of sliced

One-half cup of sliced carrots,

One and one-half teaspoons of salt, One traspoon of paprika. One-half cup of cold water, Four telicopoons of cornelorch, become very brown. Add stew is ready, add

Three onions.

dry. One-fourth cup of water,

One teaspoon of paprika, One teaspoon of salt.

One cup of bread crumbs One-half traspoon of paprika, One-half traspoon of thyme, One, traspoon of salt.

One cup of mashed potatoes, One well-beaten egg, Three tablespoons of water,

Add a clove of garlic and scald one- in a mixing bowl

Serve scalding hot.

This dish has many varieties as it is chopped parsley over all.

Cook slowly until the bacon is nicely cold water to crisp for one hour. Desin

Bohemian Gulyas Is Delicious if

Scientifically Made, Says Mrs. Wilson

A Careful and Experienced Cook Has Contributed These Fine

Recipes-Try Hungarian Cabbage, a New and

Highly Seasoned Dish

Copyright, 1921, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. Dissolve four tablespoonfuls of corn-

THE gulyas, or as the Americanized water. Bring the gulyas to a boil, version is, goulash, is essentially a national meat dish of Hungary. Folk-

Hungarian restaurants that can be breast in eight pieces. Wash the found in out-of-the-way haunts in old chicken, then pour the bacon fat in

Nancy Hathaway and Bruce Hen- | had she ever accepted the position in the first place? The reason that had prompted it now seemed ridiculous. In face of what had happened since her arrival at Rock Haven the emotion that Alvin Reed had awakened in her seemed like a dream. Alvin himself had receded to a shadow figure in her life, and it seemed strange to rememthat he had ever caused her a pang of unhappiness.

unhappiness.
Trix was still sleeping when Nancy went downstairs for lunch, and E informed her that Miss Henderson had gone to the village to do some errands. Nancy ate a solitary lunch, and as she was leaving the dining room the door of Bruce's room opened suddenly.

Her heart leaped up and then seemed to stand still, and she hesitated, hoping that he might not have seen her. The hall was dark at the curve and she shrank against the wall hardly daring to breathe. But he had evidently been waiting for her, for he came forward. Instantly she came out of her hiding place. She had no desire to let him think that she had been afraid to meet him, and she would have passed by him with-

it. "I wanted to talk to you and knowing that you would ignore any message I might send you. I had to resort to Nancy maintained a discreet silence; she did not even give the impression of having heard what he said, and her very remoteness was maddening to this man who had always had what he wanted.

He strode across the room and caught her up against him roughly. "Did you think I would let you go without this?" he said fiercely. "Did you think I would let you defy me again and again without making you pay? These moments venge, and you will never forget them. never, your pride will hold them up son! Suppose his treatment of her had been due to his struggle against this caring for her this thing that had leaped unbidden into his life. It was improbable, but not entirely impossible. And did she want him to care? This was improbable want limit to care? This was improbable, but not entirely impossible. And did she want him to care? This was significant. to you as long as you live! tirely impossible. And did she want him to care? This mad singing of her blood, this ecstatic leap of her pulses answered that question only too well. She did want him to care, but never in all the world would she give in to this feeling. Her pride would forbid such a thing. She would never admit the truth even if such a thing happened to be true, and she doubted it. But she found herself dallying with the thought to the exclusion of everything else. What the exclusion of everything else. What was to be the end of all this, and why Tomorrow-"Nancy, I Want You!"

One cup of thick sour cream.

ned with the pan. Have the butcher cut a stew

Styrian Gulyas

ing chicken as in the usual manner and water. Bring to a boil and add

Two cups of stewed tomatoes,

Three tablespoons of water.

One teaspoon of paprika.
Two tablespoons of melted butter.

One teaspoon of baking poseder boiling water and boil for ten minutes.

Shred one medium-sized head of red and then turn on a cloth to absorb the excess water. Now mince two ounces of salt pork very fine. Place in a saucepan and cook very slowly until a

The cabbage.
One cup of finely chopped onions,

Cover very closely and cook until the teliente brown. Now add

One-half cup of rinegar. One cup of sour cream.

One teaspoon of salt.

Reat to mix and then add pared as directed.

Clove of garlie

One egg.

seeds.

Mince very fine one-quarter pound of

Please Tell Me What to Do By CYNTHIA

To "Lonesome J. M." If this young man plays fast and one with you now, as you say, you had better not waste time over him. He would not be constant as a betrothed man or as a husband, and you would be very unhappy.

Says Marriage Ends Good Times Dear Cynthla-As my first contri bution to your column may I answer "Almost a Woman-Hater"?

I can hardly blame the girl in question. If the girl was young her mother was perfectly right. Probably the girl thought of you as a good friend, but as soon as you started getting serious (if you did) the girl dropped you because she had no idea of getting married and had no wish to spend maybe two or hree years more going around with one man and then finding out after all that she could not marry him. It's foolish for a girl to do a thing like that, especially if she's young, for then she loses the best time of her life. The only time a girl has is between the ages of eighteen and twenty-three or twenty-four, and if she marries then she loses it. She has all the rest of her life to be married, but only those few years when she can really enjoy herself—so go to it, girls! I can hardly blame the girl in ques

"Almost Woman-Hater," if the girl treats you that way, wise up, she doesn't want anything to do with you; let her alone. DORA. Such a point of view as yours, my dear Dora, is what makes for the un-happy married life. Why say after mar-riage a girl loses her good times? With ringe a girl loses her good times? With marriage she enters into the fuller meaning of life. The very fact that she cares for some one more than herself and has some one to care for her more than himself makes for a greater happiness than she has ever known. It is a happiness even to make sacrifices for the loved one of her dearest wishes for the loved one of her dearest wishes it is looked in in the right op and think a bit, my dear, a t be so ignorant and cynical.

"De Jure" Asks "McWizzburgh" to Write

Dear Centhla—An outrage has been perpetrated. When Right sat back and viewed the seething world about him and uttered wisdom to hungry seekers of truth, Envy stepped in and crushed him. There is a persistence of maliciousness that wearies the best of men, and I for one erry out against it. clousness that wearles the best of men, and I. for one, cry out against it.

There was one who wrote to this column on topics of everlasting interest; wrote with a force that revealed a mind of far-reaching broadness to cover any problem in existence by analysis, and commanded attention even from those who were jealous of him; sweeping through life with an assurance and loguacity that moved us of an inferior trait to reverence his apparent omniscience and caused us to praise him for it—and now, doubtlessly weary of waging a petty war with those who accursed him of affectation, he has ceased his efforts. s efforts It is obvious that I refer to "Mc

It is obvious that I refer to Mc-Wizzburgh." Mr. "McWizzburgh." I believe I am personally acquainted with you. Won't you send in a personal description of yourself to ease my suspicions? Or will you commission some one else to do so if it is contrary to your principles? Or will any one do so who knows our commanding writer? Doubtless quite a number of people would be interested.

However, to return to his disappearance from the column: It is, indeed, bad. Letters of his kind made the column worth reading; I'm sure every one will agree with me.

Please, Mr. "McWizzburgh," continue

Please, Mr. "McWizzburgh," continue them. You always held an appreciative audience. Won't you broadmindediy overlook the abuse (if that is hindering you, and start in once more solacing the lovelorn? It gives one a thrill of pleasure to realize that such a one as you exists in this unsteady world.

Lastly, I warn the former dissenters. to sidetrack their clever (?) remarks, There is a much worthier haven for those who can only be happy while misernble. Letve "McWizzburgh" alone; he is too fine for such as you to touch! down from the early Tartars and that it consists of meat cut in blocks of bacon and brown very lightly in frying suitable size of easy eating, a mess of pan. Lift and drain the fat back into

"DE JURE." WHAT'S WHAT

In the Eighteenth Century Lady St. George, mother of the Duthess of Leinster and grandmother of the famous Irish patriot, Lord Edward Fitzgerald, had six grandchildren when her appearance was so extraordinarily youthful that, as a contemporary annalist puts it, "no one would have taken her to be more than fifteen years of age." Yet it is not recorded that her Ladwship made any attempt to dress in juvenile fashion or to try to deceive any one regarding her age; she was prouder of her grandchildren than of anything else in the world. One tablespoon of grated onion. One-fourth teaspoon of caraway Three tablespoons of cornstarch dis-like a noodle dough. It usually requires about one cup of flour. Divide Bring quickly to a boil and then add into pieces the size of a walnut and Three-fourths cup of thick sour roll out under the hands on the table world. Mature women who dress like flappers until thick as a lead pencil. Then cut and keep twenty-year-old daughters in "little-girl frocks" so that onlooker; may not credit them with the possession and when all are ready drop in pot of may not credit them with the possession of grown-up children, do not take one hour from their age by these palpable tricks. Rather do they add to their years by the contrast between their unsophisticated looking clothes and their sophisticated faces. Not affected juvenility, but serene acceptance of the passing years prolongs the springtime and summer-tide of life. Drain. Add to the prepared chicken and sprinkle one-half cup of finely The farm people prepared gulyas as follows: When ready to serve, and while the gulyas is cooked, mince fine:

Chapter of the country.

With the gulyas is usually served Hungarian cabbage, a salad and destollows: When ready to serve, and while the gulyas is cooked, mince fine:

Three country.

Hungarian Cabbage With the gulyas is usually served

Green georgette looks so cool. It is a pleasure to the wearer and the onlooker, especially when elaborately embroidered and braided. The skirt is short, but the panels put on with a heading at the side of the waist hang just a little below to form the uneven hem which is so much worn this year. A delightful frock for summer and early fall

Through a Woman's Eyes

"Good Riddance!"

Another cloping couple The woman, known of the situation for over a year. the wife of a pastor, thirty-five years The wife, thinking at first that it was As a result, you'll find that such people get a good bit accomplished in a old, takes her two children and goes ferred her to his wife. No. it wasn't sudden. In fact the

Today's Inquiries

1. What important position is held by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton?
2. When a pair of gold slippers wears out beyond repair, what useful little article can be made t of the two uppers? Describe a large handbag which would be as useful upon arrival as it is during a journey.

4. How can all fresh fruit and berry silk and cotton? What removable addition will give a slightly different and more dressy appearance to the straight-down one-piece dress of solid 6. If a hat has a parrow effect in the crown, what attractive style of covering the defect also adds charm to the hat?

Yesterday's Answers

Madame Anie Mouroux, a French woman who is now visiting this country, was the first woman to win the Prix de Rome, upon its being opened to women this year. If it is impossible to find a bathing cap that will keep water our of the cars, use convenient little rubber car stoppers which are made for that ourpose. The nice little boxes in which wedding cake is distributed can be enameted to match the bedroom making a pretty decoration for the dressing table.

No. it wasn't sudden. In fact the discarded side partners of both had better deliberately to acquire this habit along to "cure them of their sickness by Christianity." The straying couple to the decisions.

The Ouestion Corner

The Ouestion

interest in each other and made repeated promises to act accordingly Now finally they are gone. And what seems to have aroused most comment over the case is the fact that neither the wronged wife nor the deserted husband is running after the second with the second sec band is running after them.

The pastor, it seems, is expected to take his truety rifle, charter an airplane, and, overtaking the fugitives, subject the despoiler of his marital happiness to the unwritten law. The lady, of course, he would carry fondly back to the home she disgraced and the name she dishonored. The descried wife is assigned

The weak woman knows nothing of guns and airplanes and wreaking vengeance. She is expected merely to follow the example of those two worthy wives, whose prominent eloping husbands recently came before the public eye. They stayed at home the public eye. They stayed at home and wept. And at the proper time they sent their forgiveness and an urcaps them severely. gent plea to return to their welcoming

That's what is different about this case. No tears are being shed; there's no crepe on either door. The pastor The pastor announced that he "felt deep regret" but would do nothing to interfere with his wife's changing partners. The spouseless wife says, "Don't ask me where he is. I am not trying to find out. It is the divorce I am looking for

I don't blame them-do you? seems to me that if I were either of them I'd just say a little prayer of thankfulness and resurrect that homely, but comforting old saying of school days—"Good riddance to bad rubbish."

Making a Lamp Shade

Did you know that the way you take your gathering stitches in the top of a silk lamp shade makes a difference! If you want that accordion pleated look take first a small stitch then a long one and keep this up uniformly all the way round. When you pull up the string the long gathers stitches make that deep pleat which stands out in corrugated style and looks so delightfully un-home-made.

Adventures With a Purse

soap bubbles that even we "grown cannot resist. I can remember being perfectly fascinated watching little girl I know blowing multi-colored bubbles into the air. Fairy creations they seem, and the children love them. In their excitement, however, the clay pipe sometimes slips through eager with an enlightened sniff.

WELL, I'm not sure I can go," They are not informal, cozy places where a girl can relax at the end of the day, and unburden all her cares and worries, share all her fun and with an enlightened sniff. the pipe stem is tin, with a wooden piece to blow through. The pipe has a double bowl and blows fancy bubbles. Large ones, small ones, uniform ones dancing one merrily after the other in She has a fairly comfortable room.

The Independent Girl just couldn't stand the restrictions, the stifling oppression of her own home, so she left into defiance.

ONLY a tolerant smile greets attempted comradeship, a stern scold. a string of bubbles. The pipe is but ten fairly good food and not very congenial cents, and think what it would mean on a rainy day when the children are rest-fair sisters, are without them? I have the glad light of freedom shines in an unsightly bunch which I try to her too-eager eyes when she proclaims curl and keep out of the way, but the her g orious situation! real short ends fall out of the grasp of the big iron, and try as I will, I cannot eatch them. While adventuring and she is so well cared for, so sur-I came across a miniature curling-iron rounded with affection and understand--looks like a toy, but acts like a and easily catch the shortest of ends. The iron sells for ten cents.

I ran across a table full of blouses and saw at least five different ones I should like to have had for myself. There was a tan one, trimmed with narrow tan lace, but the one I liked particularly was just as pretty and dainty a blouse I have seen for some time. Plain white voile, made with short sleeves and plquant Peter Pan collar. A narrow frill of fine net reached from the collar to the bottom of the waist, and embroidered in the of the waist, and embroidered in the collar, cuffs and the frill was a small, blue figure. To be worn with the suit skirt or the popular sleeveless dresses, the blouse would be ideal, and it is but $2 reduced from $5.

For names of shops address Woman's Page ditor or phone Walnut 3000 or Main 1601.

Read Your Character By Diaby Phillips

No. 26-Slanting Forcheads By the slanting forehead, of course, meant that which slopes backward as t rises from the evebrows. It is chiefly an indication of iveness and quickness of thought. People with such foreheads have characters and liabits of the kind that we call de-cided. At least they're decided in so far as they form their conclusions without upon available information. though whether they are obstinate or tenacious in the views formed is a matter for a decision of which you must look to other indications.

band was worth fighting for, did every-thing in her power to hold him. The pastor husband, a very sick man when his wife deserted him, says he tried natively small time. They're practical. They don't, as a rule, lay a thing aside for decision tomorrow, unless, perchance, they have found it comparatively small time. unless, perchance, they have found hoping all better deliberately to acquire this habit takes on their decisions, even though made quickly, for their mental vision is keen and quick.

vious and take it at its face value. He esn't waste time speculating whether his senses deceive him or not, nor does he deem it necessary to think out justifications and argumentative supports of any actions he may see fit to take. Such persons, whether men or yomen, live in a world of fact rather than fancy. They're inclined to take life as they find it, and to make the best of bad bargains rather than to bewail them. On the other hand, however, they are not so likely to be tenarious in their beliefs, nor to be excepionally deep thinkers. Then, too, their weak point lies in a certain impatience of detail and painstaking care, which under some circumstances handi-

Tomorrow—Sloping Foreheads Plus Slanting Chins

The Independent Girl Betrays One of Two Secrets by Her Manner

THERE is a something about blowing Either She Is Selfish in Her Ambition for Freedom or the Family Which Has Kept It From Her Is Wrong

She has a fairly comfortable room.

sympathetic family, no responsibility to Bangs! How many of ye, oh my any one about when she comes in, when regular" iron. The prongs are small home.

WHEN you hear one of these Independent Girls who have been "oppressed" at home, you either wonder just what kind of place it could have been which called itself a home, or else fingers and crashes to the floor. There can be had a bubble-blower that is break-proof; the bowl is wooden and the pipe stem is the with a wooden that is the pipe stem is the with a wooden that is the pipe stem is the with a wooden that is the pipe stem is the with a wooden that there?"

with an enlightened snift.

"Oh, you're tied to your home, too.

"No," replied the Business Girl, dinner" is thrust casually into the outpouring of the day's events, bottling on the property of the process of the late comer who is delayed by a block on the trolley; when the wild enthusiasm of extreme youth breaks out over some question of the day it is frowned down instead of guided, and grows larger and more wild under the unnecessary restraint.

You can understand how Freedom became the great goal of a girl who head came the great goal of a girl who lived in a house like that. Eut, oh, the poor family which has to lear the ravings of an independent girl who has seen the Light and writes the news in capital letters!

Sympathy does not reach her; she is "above" it. Restraint has no power. Force only adds to the fury, and pleadings merely prove to her the inferiority of her superiors. of her superiors.

She gets off phrases like "tied to your home." "held down by petty fam. ily responsibilities." "restricted by narrow, old-fashioned ideas."

But, if she is normal and seems releved about something, then you can be sure that it is she who should be congratulated.

For there are some homes that are more like prisons.

For there are some homes that are more like prisons.

The Woman's Exchange

Exercise for Stout Legs To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam-I have extremely stout legs and am very anxious to make them thin. I would appreciate it if you could tell me a method. WAITING.

Swimming, playing tennis and dancing are the best and surest remedies for stout legs. Do not eat starch, fat or sweet foods. Keep to your diet regularly and you will soon become lithe and thin. To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—I have some human hair to sell. Will you please print in your column if I can do so and who buys it?

MRS. K. A.

Short Plush Coats o the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—Please tell me if short lush coats trimmed with fur will be ush coats trimmed, uch worn this winter.
A CONSTANT READER.

The coats you mention will not be Things You'll Love to Make

A novelty in the way of a POWDER PUFF CASE is made of two filet medalitions. Cut two circles of doubled-faced silk of any pretty colors you choose; make each the size of the medallions. Join the circles of silk, having the color you want for the lining on the inside. Leave an opening large enough to slip your powder puff through. Baste the two medallons together. Crochet a narrow scallop Joining the two medallions; leave an opening for the puff. Slip in the silk lining. Turn in the open edges and continue the crochet scallops, Joining the sides of the lining to the medallions. Sew on a snap fastener and your charming POWDER-PUFF CASE is complete. This makes a nice Christmas gift.

By inquiring at the hair specialist shops or beauty parlors listed in telephone directory you may find a market for human hair. Very few hairdressers buy it, but perhaps they would tell you of a firm which makes hair nots which would buy it.

worn a great deal this winter—that is they are not the latest fushion, but will be worn by some who bought them last season. However, if you are thinking of purchasing a new coat I should advise a different style.

Selling Human Halr

The pick of the nests! Gold Seal

At all our Stores MEDICAN MERICA

luscious

Remember, you can always fall back on canned pears when unexpected guests drop in!

You can economize, too-for preserves are so nutritious and delicious that they take the place of expensive winter foods.

Use Franklin Granulated for preserving. It comes to you clean, packed by machine in convenient sturdy cartons and strong cotton bags, proof against flies and ants.

SAVE THE FRUIT CROP

The Franklin Sugar Refining Company "A Franklin Cane Sugar for every use"

Granulated, Dainty Lumps, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown,

Some people are indifferent and say Corn Flakes, and get what they ask for. Others want the better kind, and demand—

> Post Toasties best corn flakes

Post Toasties are in a class alone—but you can't get them unless you say "Post Toasties" to your grocer.

. Carbon tetrachloride will remove all tee cream stains from silk or A white chiffon skirt is daintily veiled in strips of georgette crepe, edged on both sides with white sequins, to form an exquisite evening dress of which the bodice is ning dress of which the bodice is also georgette. Cut leaf-shaped pieces out of a faded duvetyn bat, embroider them around the edges with gold thread and use them as triuming for the new felt bat which takes the place of the duvetyn.

cabbage is tender. Turn the cabbage Three-fourths cup of flour, sifted frequently, then remove the lid and allow the cabbage to cook dry. Season with salt and paprika. It goes without saying that eye bread with either kum-Work to form a dough and then form mel or carraway seeds is caten with the MRS. WILSON'S ANSWERS work to form a dough and then form the balls the size of an egg. About twenty minutes before serving the gulyas drop the dumplings in the farge pot of boiling water and cook for twenty minutes. Lift and then drain on a cloth and serve with gulyas. MRS. WII Dear Mrs. Wilson-I am living where good corned beef is not to be obtained. Would you kindly give me a recipe for this brine and the method for making the home cured beef-fresh? A small quantity sufficient for five or six pounds of fresh beef at a time. Can the brine be used more than once? What kind of con-tainer must it be kept in? How long should it be left in the brine? Mrs. H. E. H.

Make a brine of One pound of salt, Four pounds or two quarts of water,

Three red peppers, prepared as di-One-half tablespoon of saltpeter. Dissolve the salt in the water and hen bring to a boil and cool. Use over Allow the mixture to cook very slowly nd stir frequently. Cook for one and one-half bours and then add the bring to a boil and cool. Use over the meat. A small wooden tub, deep china bowl or a glazed crock may be used. If you like spices one tablespoon of mixed spice may be used. About ten days to two weeks is sufficiently long enough for small amounts of meat.