

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of the Philadelphians Who Have Gone to Forest Hills for Tennis This Week. She Chats About Debutantes

I THINK the world and his wife have gone to Long Island this week to the tennis, and incidentally a great many Philadelphians are there too and have entered into the tournament. The tennis is at Forest Hills, and I suppose you of course every one is much interested to see Suzanne Lenglen play. Every one says that we have no one who can beat her, but that remains to be seen. And it was seen, Mrs. Malloy beat her yesterday. Mrs. Gilbert Harvey, of Chestnut Hill, is taking part in the tournament and she is playing with Deborah Seal and Virginia Carpenter. I have not heard positively if Molly Thayer is there, too, and I suppose she is. She is so crazy about playing. Everybody smart in Long Island is at the club watching the games, and it certainly bids fair to be a most exciting week there.

HAVE you seen the grand stands that are being built out at Manheim for the great tennis week here? The stands are very high and built right in the middle of the cricket arena. It looks like an old-time arena, only the ends of the arena are not up yet. Some one who said she thought the players would feel like early martyrs being led in, because there is just the one court and the players will come in in pairs to show what they can do. It's going to be a great time methinks. Perhaps you wonder why I do not say methinks. Well it just seems as if it might be a good idea to say something different once in a while.

To return to Manheim: I told you, I think, that Sir Auckland Seddon and Lady Seddon will attend and others of the diplomatic circles are expected. The excitement starts September 10.

I HEAR that Lydia Clotier will make her debut this year. She is the daughter of the Morris Clotiers who built that beautiful house at Villanova just a couple of years ago. Her sister Emily came out just about two years ago and the opening of the new house and her debut were celebrated at a large tea on October 1, 1919. The following October, Emily was married to Fred Strawbridge. They went abroad for quite a trip after their wedding and have been living in apartments at Fifteenth and Locust streets since their return. She spent last winter at Foxcroft School, in the South, and has been visiting in the North for several weeks this summer. The date of her debut has not been set, but I understand the party will probably be given in October.

ANNA NEWBOLD is to be a debutante this season, too. She expected to make her bow last season, but her uncle, Mr. Arthur Newbold, died suddenly in July; and as her father, Mr. Clement Newbold, was thereby thrown into deep mourning, it was decided to wait a year. Emily was married and Anna has been in Europe for five or six months and only recently returned. Marian Taylor, who is engaged to Charles Willing and who was Mr. Newbold's niece incidentally, went abroad with him and has been studying singing in Italy for several months. She has a sweet voice, I doubt not that she will do a great deal with it on her return home.

Anna Newbold is to be introduced at a tea and there will be several falls given in her honor during the winter. Her sister, Mrs. Steve Colman, will chaperone her at a good many of the parties which will follow her debut. Mrs. Beauveaux Borie, Jr., Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. John S. Newbold, to take her about. She will have a good time, am sure.

JOE, who is six, is very fond of his mother, and he has been taught that obedience and respect are essential things. The other day he was playing in a room that did not suit his sister Elizabeth, and she called to her mother, who had not been paying much attention to what they were doing. "Mother, make him say please," mechanically mother said. "Joe, say please to your sister."

Now, Joe had said it, and he saw no fault with his manner, so without thinking he answered: "No, mother, I won't." There was a hushed and horrified silence. Father and sisters all looked at him in amazement! He realized what he had done and, "Oh!" he said. "Now I'll go to the bad place sure, please, I said I won't say to my mother, I didn't mean it! I'll say please to anybody you want me to; I'll even say please to the cat."

NANCY WYNNE.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES
An engagement of interest to this city, as well as New York and Boston, is that of Miss Audrey Townsend Sherrock, which is announced today, when her father, Mr. Arthur Outram Sherman, of New York, to Mr. John Lawrence Bice, of New York. Miss Sherrock is a member of the Junior League, and graduated from Chapin School in New York and the Porter School in Washington. She was introduced to society last winter.
