

UNITS SEPARATED FOR MANEUVERS

Gretna Cavalry and infantry to Work Out Different Problems in Field

HORSEMEN TO SKIRMISH

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Camp Sigetons, Mount Gretna, Pa., Aug. 18.—Late this afternoon the members of the infantry, cavalry, engineer and auxiliary units in camp here will start out upon two different maneuvers which will continue until early tomorrow morning. The Fifty-second Cavalry Brigade, commanded by General John P. Wood, of Philadelphia, will stage its war problem without the assistance of the Provisional Infantry Brigade, as was originally planned. General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the infantry brigade, has been ordered to take his men out on a day and night hike and work out scout and patrol tactics without having a bloodless battle as during the other two periods of the encampment.

General Wood has received the consent of Major General William G. Price, division commander, to hold his maneuver on a more highly developed plan than ever before at a cavalry camp. The troopers will be equipped with rifles and pistols and a fake skirmish will take place early tomorrow morning in the Valley of the Conewago.

The cavalrymen comprise two cavalry regiments, the 103d and the 104th, and the Fifty-second Machine Gun Squadron. The regiments will be known as the Red and Blue armies, while the machine gun squadron will take neutral stands. The machine gun squadron is mounted.

Must Locate Enemy
The rival armies will devote most of their time tonight, prior to bivouacking, in locating the position of the enemy. Then the men will erect their "pup" tents and spend the night in the open. They must cook their own meals while on the march. Early tomorrow morning a battle will be fought on horseback similar to the infantry battles earlier in the encampment.

Equipped with full marching pack the infantrymen will set forth on their all-night expedition in a different direction than the cavalrymen. The 103d Engineers, commanded by Colonel Jackson W. Study, and the Twenty-eighth Division trains will bivouac for the night in the vicinity of Fountain Head Field. The provisional infantry regiment, commanded by Major Quinton Reitzel, and the 103d Motorcyclist Company from Philadelphia will make their headquarters near Cherry Hill, a town five miles from here. The feature of this maneuver will be the absence of dummy firing. The march is largely for the purpose of instructing the men in scouting and signaling and to give them the experience of making their own meals. All of the guardsmen are expected to return to camp by 3 o'clock tomorrow morning.

First Guard Mount
Late yesterday afternoon the first formal guard mount was held at the camp of the 104th Cavalry Regiment, Colonel Edward J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg, regimental commander, witnessed the ceremony with his staff officers. The regimental band, Frank P. Hollinger, leader, furnished appropriate music. A picturesque touch was added to the event by having the band mounted. A similar guard mount will be held at the camp of the 103d Cavalry, Colonel George C. Thayer, commanding, tonight.

The men of the various organizations in camp are practicing daily during the spare hours for the two big track and field meets to be held Friday afternoon. The cavalry will hold a meet of its own which will be featured by events on horseback, together with hurdling and Roman races. The other units will hold a meet similar to those conducted during the other two periods of the encampment by the infantry regiments. As many of the guardsmen are college men it is expected that strong competition will be entered in the different running events.

MEADE ROOKIES TO HEAR CORBETT

Former Heavyweight Champ Is Center of Interest Among Philadelphians at Camp

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Citizens' Military Training Camp, Camp Meade, Md., Aug. 18.—"Now, Corbett never done nothin' like that. He never stood with his feet like that. To hear you tell about it, you trained him for the championship, and you don't know anything about it a-tall!" "Where d'ya get that stuff? Ain't I heard the old man tell about the time he saw Corbett fight, and didn't he show me how he stood. Ask me, ain't I?" "Why, you don't even know who Corbett fought to get the title and who took it away from him." "I certainly do, too. He knocked out Corbett to appear. But there is quite a bit of connection, and it is this: Corbett will address the rookies this afternoon on the value of physical education. Thus the reason for these arguments is made clear. Corbett's appearance is not going to be the only thing that is to occupy the attention of the rookies today, for when the former scrapper gets through, they are going out on the artillery range and watch the big guns speak for a while.

Hudson and Essex Prices Again Reduced

Hudson Super-Six $1895 Essex - - - $1375

Effective August 17th

"These Are the Lowest Prices at Which These Models Have Ever Been Sold"

You will understand something of the value this gives to the Hudson Super-Six when you remember that at $2600 it was the world's largest selling fine car. Today's price saves you $705.

Essex Further Leads All in Its Class

Everybody has always classed Essex with costly cars in performance, endurance, and appearance. It combines with those qualities the economy of light cars in fuel, oil, and tires. Thousands of owners report as high as twenty-five thousand miles of service with scarcely any maintenance cost.

More than fifty thousand Essex cars are in service. For the performance and endurance given, Essex had no rival at its last year's price of $1795. What can approach it today with this saving of $420?

At lower prices than they have ever sold for you can get either a Super-Six or an Essex this year and have the best months in which to enjoy it.
