Woman's Life and Love

Should a Wife Work for Wages?

MOST people nowadays in America.

France and England have accepted the fact of woman's entry into the business world. Of course, there are all sorts of con-pervative mental reservations. Englishmen and Frenchmen par-ticularly would add, "If she has meaning if There still are thousands of British old maids cho do nothing atay around their athers' houses and ornament garden parties. They that does not imply necessarily that they are without charm, for there simply are not enough men to go round!

British younger sons migrate to the colonies, and even before the war had killed off the blood of the nation, taking the choicest males and leaving the playsically unfit to perpetuate the race, as war always does—even to this, England normally had a million more women than men. Think of it—with the best intentions, men can marry but one woman, and a million British girls forchurch or scale to the will be suddenly idle, and often babies and often babies never do come.

Other women labor because they have spent thurch and earthly home. Why should not all of your dear friends know about it at once? Any young man who requests the girl of his choice to marry him, without first asking the tather for his daughter, is a despicable coase being an architect or singer or church organist or sculptor merely beweman, and a million British girls for-ever must remain unwed. Yet all the cause she is a wife, is to put a premium cause she is a wife, is to put a premium while, snobbish ideals prevent girls going into trade if their parents have any on spinsterion dearly, and will not re-

These, it may be argued, are the rare and exceptional women. Folks In France the "lady" does not work, rare and exceptional women. Folks and To be sure, the shopkeeping class works always expect a few geniuses to go on it melently, and girls retain all their chic with their life work, even when making ort of comfortable income. And so

Almost universally she is financial activities? It is the old backcensured and frowned upon. Her hus-band bears a certain obloquy; he is regarded as a man who either is unable unwilling to support his wife. Or. if it is well known that neither of these however, she is not just a female. ecusations possibly can be unde, he and eccentric spouse.

Now, in spite of all past traditions, mother often does better to pursue her to and customs, thousands of married profession and make money, if she ir cultural work and cocking, the weaving and pottery, along with baby-tending, while the adult males went forth to battle and to hunt game. Even the squaw, however, was far more consumantly independent than the modern city wife, in botels and non-house-battle, in botels and non-house-bat k. The Indian did basket-weaving over the boy's small income, that this made costumes and bendwork, and solution is possible! They wait year pottery and rugs and blankets, as well after year, dreaming of that possible as cooking for her family; she certainly "raise" Civilized families who were pioneers It is time for men and women to divided the tasks as indoor and outdoor think independently, and act as they along the same lines, the woman feel is right. It is a brave man who doing the washing and ironing, cocking, erisks having his friends think him insewing and baby-tending, while the nan did the wood-chepping, the house-tuilding, the plowing. The Pilgrim mother certainly earned her board also:

But modern life, as we have said reportant as theirs, and that they would asther branes the unkind criticisms of pentedly, has taken away woman's an-rather brave the unkind criticisms of ient industries—her tasks are light-conservatives than hamper her in her ned almost to nothingness. Often sire own development. has no children at all. Yet, she and The double salary is made are able her man trot along blissfully, keeping many young professional people are able her man trot along blissfully, keeping many young professional people are able her tradition that he should do all to maintain a charming home, travel and up the tradition that he should tenn all the have innumerable pleasures on his-andthe work, and she should reap all the have innumerable pleasures on his-and-benefits of idleness! There is no logical reason why any dulge in on his alone.

To the Editor of the Woman's Page:

Twine Handbags

Dear Madam—Will you please let me know what I can make out of twine? I have so many spools of different shades. A FRIEND.

turns over as much as you wish. A long crocheted string for a handle; lit-

WHAT'S WHAT

By HELEN DECIP

To the Editor of the Woman's Page

Please Tell Me What to Do By CYNTHIA

Does Not Encourage Acting home which is really cared for by servants cannot cover the truth that Blue Eyes—Cynthia is sorry she can-not make your letter out very clearly. All she gathers is that you are lonely and want to go into the movies. the "housekeeper" does not keep the house! One sees innumerable fat, wellgroomed women idling their lives away, supported by husbands, to whom they Unless you have a most remarkable talent, better let the movies alone.

give nothing but their society. If that is an economic factor, one may say Conveys Further Advice to Girls that the men also give the wives their society, in addition to all the support. Dear Cynthia—It well that these boor, foolish girls have such as you for a confident and adviser. They always have my sympathy because so many of them lack that Many women go into the commercial world for the reasons above; they are of them lack the true spirit of womaniscitue. Please say to "Troubled" never conscientious, and see no sense in prey-ing upon their overworked husbands. the world but winifred ing upon their overworked husbands. They have supported themselves before marrying, and do not wish to throw over their work merely because they to conceal the fact that no man a saked them to wed. Poor things:

I does not imply necessarily that lives will be suddenly idle, and often bakker with the supported themselves before mit a young man to kiss her unless shower that this pledge is in the sight of conceal the fact that no man have met and married a man they toved.

Until babies come they feel that their as you would a viper in your path. The lives will be suddenly idle, and often bakker without charm for the supported themselves before mit a young man to kiss her unless shower that this pledge is in the sight of "Would Marry in Elkton" to shun it as you would a viper in your path. The really best plan to be married is in the bakker without charm for any reason or any conditions permit a young man to kiss her unless shower that this pledge is in the sight of "Would Marry in Elkton" to shun it as you would a viper in your path. The really best plan to be married is in the bakker without charm the provent of the provent of the supported themselves before mit a young man to kiss her unless shower that this pledge is in the sight of "Would Marry in Elkton" to shun it as you would a viper in your path. The

Dear Cynthia-This is my first letter o you, but I have often read the letanswer to them. am very lonely and discouraged because it seems that I cannot find any friends. I am a girl of nineteen years old. I dress well, my looks are passable, I have am very lonely and disc recently, elsewhere), however, the fact of single women earning their living is now regarded with complacency. Parents and friends, even if they once opposed the girl's taking up a career, show pride in her success. Of course, they prefer her to do something extremely "feminine," but in any event she is respected for her achievement, if she "gits away with it."

But when a wife works—ah, that is different! Almer a wife works—ah, that is works—ah, that is a works—ah, that is works—ah, that is a works—ah, that financial activities? It is the old backfinancial activities? It is the old background of baby-bearing that sapped a woman's physical life and rendered her incapable of outside labor which prejuincapable of outside labor which prejuction wh you will soon have the righ men and you w.

To "Lieda Elizabeth"

My dear, suppose, when you were hy, and fractious, and hungry, and ross, and crying in the night, your nother had said: "That child yells so, and customs, thousands of married women are laboring in business and professions for regular salaries, and yet homes do not go to smash. The sentire system of male support of the family was based on the primitive distribution of labor, in times when conditions were whelly unlike anything existing today. Tribes that ceased wandering and settled on permanent around left the women to do the agricultural work and cocking, the weaking and pottery, along with baby-tending, while the adult males went forth to best the proposition work and pottery along with baby-tending.

There is still another reason why her desirable. Many the better of her, you think you'll leave the professions and tractious, and tr

We Apologize

Dear Cynthia— Greetings and apologies, My Lady of Solace. I come to thee in anger Righteous anger at one

To write to thee. As "De Jure" I waged Many a verbal battle Ofttimes with credit: And now cometh a stranger Who would claim my laurels. Who signs "De Jure."

Question well this usurper, Oh. Fair One. Whence he cometh And why. For I alone

Would stand or fall DE JURE. Cynthia had her doubts, De JURE.

Cynthia had her doubts, De Jure, bout the letter signed in your name, and one in answer to it. The best way find out seemed to be to print it. It d not sound like you. Perhaps we'll

CHARMING COSTUME OF SPANISH INFLUENCE

By CORINNE LOWE

Take your hat out on a leash. Tether to your costume by means of a long lace scarf. That was the millinery propaganda of "The Drags." that smartest of races which preludes the

According to report the fashionable Parisiennes were on that day small losts and large buts trimmed with searfs of large which often went around under the chin or else floated back over one shoulder. Chantilly was the prime favorite, and this Spanish lace gained most spectacular effect when affixed to a nigh comb at the back of the bat com which point it officiated exactly like a mantilla The scarfed millinery is only one more testimony to the popularity of lace, a popularity which has manifested itself impartially in almost every type of costume. For the cape backs and sleeves now so prominent in the style world ince is estecially estermed, and in the above nodel-we find this feature worked out in lace dyed to match the veile of the frock. The lace punels cor

An attractive detail of this little afternoon dress is the soft folds radi HOW TO COVER LAMPSHADES

New coverings make an old lampshade look new and festive, and the work goes quickly and easily as soon as you get the hang of it. Above are several different styles

There are so many colors, materials and trimmings one has difficulty some. Where plaited georgette is to be used. Jack or Jane to be used is about as hard as the work. times making a decision; but the stores the lining is put in last. For a twenty-always will show the colors over a light six inch shade, five widths of georgette

The wire frame is covered with rib. by a thread and seamed together. bon tightly wound on both the perpen-dicular and horizontal wires. This ribthe bolt—slip it through at the top sible, where the round and length wires meet.

frame, holding it in place around e top with pins, clip around the circular this is covered before putting the rest e at the top, and cut away, leaving on; but where it is only one inch deep, good half inch margin above the wire the top covering is brought down over frame and the colors and materials is allowed here, allowing it to go to-se one can be certain of the ef- are allowed; for smaller sizes upper edge is turned in and gathered help dicular and horizontal wires. This flo-bon gives something to sew to later. Cut a piece of the ribbon, making it three times the length of the wire to be wound—this is easier to handle than wound—this is easier to handle than georgette is sewed over and over to the grin further than Jack or Janet. and the in a hard knot, leaving a tiny end. Then begin to wind, folding the end in, and when the end of the wire a particular piece of work, laying the as flat as pancakes?" asked Bobby (4T OOK out, lady!" is reached turn in the ribbon and fasten plaits at the bottom. Each stitch at with silk twist. If the outside is to have a cover that put on plain—not plaited—the lining put in first. Lay it on the inside of plait has been pinned to the frame. Where the frame has a deep cuff to the top wire, letting the raw edge go Gold or silver or other fancy braids toward the right side. Then stretch the silk on smoothly, sticking plus in at close intervals all around the wire at usually have a deep fringe.

Sew all around the little cuff.

The Heart Pirate

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Theodora Caldwell has become engaged to Jimmy Bland and to her surprise is not quite happy about it. She even hates to give up her work as private secretary for Richard Blakeslee.

> CHAPTER III The Date Is Set

IN SPITE of herself Theo went through that first day after her engagement to Jimmy with a little dread of seeing him again. She tried b laugh at herself for this feeling, but be persisted in spite of everything she did, and it was because she realized the sunfairness of her attitude that she made up her mind to be nicer than ever to Jimmy when he came to see her that al, seemed tired and out of He had an idea that he was marry Jimmy, and it she wanted to marry him why not now as well as any time later?

Impulsively, and to punish herself for her doubt, she responded quickly. 'Of course there's no need of wait-ing. I'll marry you whenever you cause it was Jimmy, that was all.

He got up quickly and came over to where she was sitting in a corner of the couch. "Theo," he said suddenly, t know how I'm depending Bobby Bouncer, dodging back He leaned his head against forth. Jack grabbed at him.

Theodora laughed at Jimmy's tirade.
"Nonsense! He probably doesn't even know what I look like." "Perhaps not, but he knows how

ing. I'll marry you whenever you you work, and this time I'll have my inning and get the best of one of those men that think they own the earth. This time I win, eh, Theo?"

But the smile that Theo gave him was forced.

(Tomorrow—"I'm Going to Be Married!")

Two Minutes of Optimism

Smile It

T WOULD give a million dollars," Ogden Armour is reported to have said. I "for Charley Schwab's smile." And the great meat magnate probably considered it cheap at double the price

"The voice with the smile," says the telephone company, "wins." If you don't believe it, try to get a number with a voice without a smile! It is smiles that get business, smiles that get numbers, smiles that keep the sun of human kindness shining, smiles that keep homes contented, smiles that preserve the music and the poetry in life.

If you've got anything to say-smile it Every once in a while we run into one of life's squalls.

Then somebody smiles, keeps smiling; and after a time we begin to see sunrays and sunbeams penetrating the storm, growing wider and wider, stronger and stronger, dissipating the storm, displacing the storm, suddenly flooding the

You can't hurt the man who smiles, you can't rile him, unman him, unseat

No cloud can be heavy enough, no drudgery monotonous enough, no night dark enough but the smiler's smiles light up a rift and coax back gladness.

Vanderbilt, Barnum, Curran, Bunyan, Franklin, Watt, Newton, Garfield Washburn, Roosevelt, Michael Angelo-practically every face in the honor gallery of history, of science, commerce, art, literature, statesmanship-of ACCOM-

Grumpy, dreary, surly faces simply exude ill-nature, ill-health and failure. Cheery, sunny, smiling faces radiate good nature, good health and success

Children's Coats

Chestnut, our. of 17th St.

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

Bobby Bouncer By DADDY

Jack and Janet fall asleep after bouncing Jack's rubber ball into a tree. The ball, which Jack calls tree. The ball, which Jack calls Bobby Bouncer, jumps out of the tree, bumping Jack and Janet on the head. Each bump makes them shorter and fatter, until they are as short as dolls and as round as toy bullered.

CHAPTER III Bobby Bouncer Has Fun

OOBBY BOUNCER, the rubber ball B laughed when he saw how small and round he had made Jack and Janet by bouncing on their heads.

"I can squash you as flat as a pan THOOSING the shape and size of the bottom. The same width margin cake," he boasted from his perch in the

> it was a joke or not. They were much gette surprised to find themselves as short as go? four dol's and as round as toy balloons. But widths are enough. These must be cut it was rather fun, too. Jack looked so widths and seamed together. The roly-poly comical to Janet she couldn't upper edge is turned in and gathered help smiling at him, and Janet looked light blue for evening and a waist and short stitch. Take so roly-poly comical to Jack he couldn't skirt and sweater for Sunday.
>
> Would she need a hat? Well, if she —using a long and short stitch.
>
> —using a long and short stitch.
>
> these stitches so the long one will stand up on the right side when the thread is pulled up. Do not take too long party—Jack, Janet and Bobby Bouncer.
>
> Bobby Bouncer's grin was the widest of all, which wasn't strange, because the party is the party of all, which wasn't strange.

> > Bouncer, getting ready to jump from the tree. No. Jack and Janet did not want to be squashed as flat as pancakes. They were squashed as flat as they wanted to be.

"Hide!" whispered Jack to Janet. and he pushed her beneath a row of blooming asters.

Down jumped Bobby Bouncer. hit on an aster bloom. It bent be-neath him, and so, instead of bouncing back into the tree as he expected to do, he rolled upon the sidewalk.

This was Jack's chance to catch

Bobby Bouncer.
"I've got you," he shouted, and with Janet he rushed at Bobby Bouncer. But Bobby Bouncer went scurrying one would collect rust, despite the fact across the sidewalk. Jack and Janet that she rubbed and cleaned religiously. across the sidewalk. Jack and Janet were astonished to see that Bobby Bouncer, instead of being all head, as a rubber ball usually is, had a pair of bright and shiny, and Mabel groaned as she thought of the inevitable rust as she thought of the inevitable rust very spry legs.
"Catch me! Catch me!" laughed that would soon mar its polished surthat would soon mar its polished surthat would soon mar its polished surfaces. So I told her of something I her shoulder as if he were tired, and again Theo had a strong impulse. She wanted to turn and shake him into action. She wanted him to need her, but in a different way. She wanted him to crush her in his arms, to tell her how he addred her. She had no on to that somersault, and came upon his feet.

'Push me again. That's fun,'' taunted Bobby Bouncer, grinning gleetaunted Bobby Bouncer, grinning gleetau being imposed upon at the office and that the life of a working man with responsibilities was no easy one. Involuntarily Theo's mind flew to Richard like that." Theo said suddenly.

When he hears the news. What do you "Push me again. That's fun." taunted Bobby Bouncer, grinning gleefully. Janet gave him a shove. Over went Bobby Bouncer on his ear, and

Women's Statistics

One out of every twenty-five farms in the United States is operated by a hair nets last year.

It Isn't Safe for Elsie to Plan; Somebody Else Always Gets the Result

Every Time She Thinks Up Something Nice That Might Hap pen to Her It Happens to One of Her Friends

EVERY time I plan something time the policeman has turned his sem-Elsie drearily, "you know, when I think up something awfully nice that I'd love to have happen to me, why, then, it happens to somebody else!"

The love to have happens to somebody else!"

The love to happens to somebody else!"

The lo Have you ever had this discouraging experience?

Elsie dreams some dreams about how she'd like to be "where she ain't." and then she thinks along these lines: "Wouldn't it be great if Joe would call up tonight and say, "Ted and Jane are going to take mother and me up to that place on the river that we talked about the other day, remember? And tree, his round face grinning as though he thought he had played a great joke on the children.

Jack or Jahet didn't know whether tree, iche a joke over Sunday, tave a big time, come tree any, remember? And we want you to go along. Saturday. Starting about 12:30, get up there in time for a swim before dinner. Starting about 12:30, get up there in time for a swim before dinner. Starting about 12:30, get up there in time for a swim before dinner. Starting about 12:30, get up there in time for a swim before dinner. Starting about 12:30, get up there in the other any, remember? And we want you to go along. down Sunday by moonlight. Will you

She walks along the hot city street thinking this, planning to wear her brown dress in the car, taking along the wore the panama in the car it might look rather queer with the brown dress, but still nobody would see and then it would do for anything; yes, that would to waste. Shoes-they make a bag so beavy

"T OOK out, lady!"

Why will they always glare silent curses after the innocent dreamer who crosses the too slowly and up-in-the-airly to be out of their way by the wanted it to!

ing light blue and all that.

Every time the telephone rings she controls herself with an effort to be casual she answers.

And it's for somebody else every time CATURDAY arrives, Sunday goesand Monday night Joe calls up, a time Elsie's dream is shat.

tered after this little experience and Still, now and then the idea back during the days that follow.

She sees herself arriving tired of the car and dusty at the inn which

Joe says is so attractive at that place up the river.

She feels the refreshing coolness of agines the delicious dinner, the becom-and have to be yelled at!

"Gee, we had a great trip yesterday; went up to that little place up the river, remember, I told you about? Oh, it was great!" How she hates Joe! How she de-tests life in general! All that fun gone That's the way it always is

Elsie; but she goes right on making lovely plans for herself. COME day it will work out right. It

She looks up, startled, as the shout reaches her, dodges a car and pulls her hat down to prevent the to be satisfactory, and enough nicer to pulls her hat down to prevent the to be satisfactory, and enough nicer to swearing truck driver from seeing her to make up for all the lost, strayed and stolen plans that you have ever made.

And when it does come, how much

Adventures With a Purse

MABEL has bought a new gas stove and is wondering how she will keep it absolutely new and clean. Her other that she rubbed and cleaned religiously, had found while adventuring, and she action. She wanted him to need but in a different way. She wanted him to crush her in his arms, to tell her how he adored her. She had no to that.

'Ho! ho! I fooled you didn't I,'' laughed Bobby Bouncer. "Ho! ho! ho! of hers came from, but something about Jimmy's complacency irritated her strongly. She sat there stroking his hair, and he was content, until finally he sat up quickly to say, "You'll tell the did Blakeslee tomorrow that you're leaving?"

'I've been thinking it over and I've do to have you keep on with your work, and, and I'm glad you decided against it. I some sault, and came upon his feet.

But Bobby didn't stay on his nose and l'm glad you decided against it. I somersault, and came upon his feet.

'The her is a different way. She wanted which was now small, couldn't hang on to that.

'Ho! ho! I fooled you didn't I,'' laughed Bobby Bouncer. "Ho! ho! ho! An extra umbrella is a very excellent that.

An extra umbrella is a very excellent that thing to have about, and as I was badly in need of one I went peering of the case Jack by jumping in front of him. Jack didn't like to be teased, and when he saw he couldn't hang on to Bobby Bouncer, he did the next best thing—he gave Bobby a push and sent to he best, but I also did not wish to spend very much for it. I came across in Bobby didn't stay on his nose an instant. He kept right on turning over, just like a circus acrobat in a somersault, and came upon his feet.

'The best of the came the provided which that has been so greatly in favor over the wrist. It has the smart stub point that has been so greatly in favor over the wrist. It has the smart stub point that has been so greatly in favor voluntarily Theo's mind flew to Richard Blakeslee, and her lip curled. The next minute she was ashamed of herself, and tried to make up for it by being as sweetly sympathetic as possible.

She was rewarded for her efforts, for Jimmy slowly responded.

"Everything will be different when we're married," he said finally, "and by the way, Theo, there's no necessity for waiting, is there? Let's make it soon."

Theo started. Why did that feeling of revolt leap suddenly into her heart? Why had she a desire to postpone the event for the present? It was all wrong, for, of course, she wanted to marry him why not now as well as any time later?

"Electronical and the lip curled. The said suddenly.

"Well, he's not old, for one thing, and it's been proud to work for him."

"Yes, he's splendid and cuts a dash because he's at the top and is used to by the way. Theo, there's no necessity for waiting, is there? Let's make it soon."

Theo started. Why did that feeling of revolt leap suddenly into her heart? Why had she a desire to postpone the event for the present? It was all wrong, for, of course, she wanted to marry Jimmy, and if she wanted to marry Jimmy, an

Cheaper Tapestry

The problem of how tapestry may be Women's Statistics

One out of every twenty-five farms in the United States is operated by a roman.

American women paid $8,000.000 for lair nets last year.

One-fifth of all the women paying a redeeral income tax reside in New York city.

The problem of how tapestry may be woven by machine has at last been solved by a French inventor. Lace machines and Jacquard looms have brought the cost of these products within the reach of the moderately well-to-do, but tapestry has always been a hand product and too costly for the average home. The machine imitates the movements of the hand weaver exactly and will weave tapestries up to thirty square yards in size.—Popular Science.

Things You'll Love to Make Crocheted Silk Lamp Shade

While crocheting is so popular make a CROCHETED SILK LAMPSHADE. Crochet a filet insertion two inches wide that will fit around the top of a silk-covered wire shade. Leave drop-stitching enough to reach within three inches of the bottom edge of the shade. Then crochet a three-inch filet insertion to fit the bottom circumference of the shade. Finish the edge with a narrow scallop. Made of silk of a color to match the color scheme of the boudoir, with a contrasting color silk under it. with a contrasting color silk under it, this CROCHETED SILK LAMPSHADE

It stays fresh longer

Victor Bread

At all our Stores

Tired and Nervous-from the Lack of Sleep? Do You Know the Reason Why?

Sleep time is the time when the reconstructive processes in your body are busiest - turning food into blood, and nerve tissue. and living cells.

That's the reason why lack of sleep makes you irritable, inefficient and nervous; and why you lack "punch" when you don't get a proper amount of the right kind of sleep.

It has been the experience of many that the cup of tea or coffee, taken at meal-time, robs them of sleep.

In Gould and Pyle's Cyclopedia of Medicine and Surgery you'll find that "caffein is a rapidly acting stimulant to the brain and spinal cord, quickens the action of the heart, and raises blood pressure."

This makes it a very good medicine if prescribed by a doctor for cases of collapse, when a patient needs to have his system abnormally forced into activity. But caffeine is not good for people whose systems don't need to be drugged.

So if you don't get your proper sleep at night, it may be because you are being kept awake by tea or coffee.

Stop tea and coffee for awhile and drink Postum-the delicious cereal beverage.

Postum is a pure cereal product, and contains no harmful element whatsoever. Your first taste of Postum will surprise and please you. Many people prefer the flavor of Postum to that of coffee.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for ten days, and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Poetum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

There are many outbreaks of "insympatibility of temperament" which sever reach the divorce courts. Sometimes a man and wife forget themselves so far as to lose control of temper in the presence of a guest. When this happens, the well-bred visitor tries to ignore the quarrel, becoming so absorbed in a book or in a letter as apparently set to notice the explosion of anger. If the strife continues, the thing to do is to withdraw as quietly as possible from withdraw as quietly as possible from place of contention.

visitor worthy of the proverbial salt visitor worthy of the proverbial salt hospitality never mentions any unantness heard or seen in the house are he or she has been a guest. It is built to have ears and not hear distinct to have eyes and not see "scenes," It is easy for a thoroughbred to yall these impressions so that not word or look will any evidence of in be revealed by the treachery of trying the outside of the house, the rets of triich should be held sacred an honorable guest.

The Woman's Exchange

The double salary is indeed a joy, and on spinsterhood, for many a girl loves nounce it for the work of kitchenmaid.

dices the public. Until she has bables, is a human being, with all the activities

Extreme feminists claim that even a that will make marriage a her brothers.

reality.

tle woolen roses of various colors make the bag very, very artistic.

Posthe Editor of the Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Seeing that you give advice to every one, I thought I would ask you for some advice. I am a minor, but am very, very fat. Can you please tell me what to eat and what exercises to take in order to lose about twenty pounds of my flesh in as short a time pounds of my flesh in as short a time the middle of August, and I am very much puzzled as to what clothes would be appropriate.

Give up fattening foods like potatoes, rice and starchy foods of that kind, candy and rich foods and do not drink milk if you are accustomed to it, unless you are not eating anything else. Swim play tennis and basketball dance and walk in order to help the reducing along.

Twine Handbags

ANXIOUS-TO-APPEAR-RIGHT. A suit is always practical to wear in a city, but a panne velvet one would be more comfortable for the early fall. I think A cool crepe dress for the street, an afternoon and informal evening frock sport clothes or ginghams for morning wear and your wardrobs will be complete for the visit to New The other day I saw the prettiest handbag and asked the lady carrying it how she made it. She replied. With twine"—so this is just the thing for you to do. Use a crochet stitch, putting on afty, and make the bag like a square envelope, narrowing the point which twing over as much as you wish. A

York. You will not miss your suit The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries remarkable experience is Mrs. William Smith, of New Jer-

In a green kitchen, what kind of paper olding would be pretty for the shelves of the dresser? To those who suffer from seaickness what new style of steamer berth will be a welcome relief For what reason is Rachel Donel son a famous name? Describe the latest fad in Paris

How is a striking white costume fashioned for early fall wear? Yesterday's Answers After coming in from bathing. shake talenm powder plentifully against the high footboard of a bed and covered with cretonne and piled with cushions, it can be into a comfortable seat with bnek. Japanese rattan furniture is the best for a porch that is occa-sionally exposed to the rain, since to prolong its life.

a wetting helps rather than harms it. Mrs. Martha Skelton was widow who became the wife of Thomas Jefferson.

An interesting new sleeve on a fall frock of silk and chiffon is a short, close affair of silk, with a long, loose belt sleeve of the chiffor hanging from it.

A piquant new headdress for evening wear is fashioned out of ma-line in the shape of a visor, with flower petris forming the band which encircles the ad-into and over your bathing can spend in color.

