

DEAD-LINE AGAINST GAMBLERS FORMED

Most Notorious Will Not Even Be Allowed in City, Tempest Asserts

PLAIN-CLOTHES MEN LOOSE

Known gamblers will not even be allowed to stand on the street corners of Philadelphia in the future, according to a "deadline" principle established today by Assistant Director of Public Safety Tempest and Superintendent Mills.

The police department is determined that the men driven from the streets cannot come to this city and resume operations. Most of the men caught in the Chestnut Hill raid and most of them are well known to the police.

In order to prevent their coming back to town a special squad of sixty plain-clothes men has been turned loose in the city with no other duty than to watch for gamblers and not only prevent them reopening their dives, but to stop them from congregating in groups anywhere.

These men will be watched and any attempt to gather in groups will be a signal for a raid. In the cases of some of the more notorious the cases will not even be allowed to come into the city.

Tempest's Statement Assistant Director Tempest said yesterday that we have driven out the great gambling fraternity in shown in the list of names of those arrested at Chestnut Hill and at Chester.

Mayor Moore first decided to get rid of these human leeches, certain persons tried to make him change his plans, saying the attempt would be useless. How well we have succeeded is shown by recent results.

"Some gambling in chartered clubs and the like may be going on, but when we are furnished with sufficient proof we may feel assured that we will put a check upon it."

"Conditions among the professional gamblers of Philadelphia today are such that many of the old timers have either closed up shop for good or else packed their belongings and gone elsewhere.

Many of the younger gamblers kept kidding themselves that things were going to loosen up this fall on account of the election campaign. If they still think such is the case, I am sure they will have a sad awakening the first time they try to do business."

Mayor Moore has decided that the lid is down to stay down and we are going to see that his orders are carried out."

Police Chief Suspended An echo of the Wheel Pump Hotel raid sounded yesterday when Chief of Police James A. G. Bysher, of Springfield Township, was suspended because of dereliction of duty and incompetency were lodged against him by the Township Commissioners. It is alleged that living as close as he did to the old hotel, it would have been impossible for such large gatherings of gamblers to assemble without his knowledge.

Harry Eastman was made acting chief, pending investigation of the charges.

Assisting District Attorney Van Rosten, of Delaware County, one of three men in the secret conference which planned the Chester raid, was asked why Magistrate Berry was so lenient in the matter of fines, and why he did not hold the gamblers for court as Magistrate Lenhardt did in Norristown.

"Montgomery County may want to rope in the poor devils, the common gamblers, together with the leaders and operators of the dives, but here in this county we are after the big fish and are getting them. We let the small suckers go with a fine as a chastisement, but the big ones we hold."

Continuing their assault upon the supposedly impregnable gambling houses of the city, county detectives laid yesterday afternoon raided the establishment of Thomas J. "Tucker" Welsh, at Seventh and Peter streets. No patrons were found inside, but sufficient evidence had been secured ahead of time for Magistrate Thomas C. Berry to hold the proprietor under $200 bail for a further hearing before Squire F. F. Williamson in Media at 11 o'clock this morning.

Other gambling paraphernalia were confiscated. Warrants have been issued for the proprietors of five other widely known casinos of the city. Monday's roundup, which included the arrest of the Paddock, was a knockout job.

"FINE" MILL WAR OVER

Victims of Justice of Peace Yerkes Allowed Appeals

"The war is over," Robert W. Beatty, counsel for the Keystone Automobile Club said today, regarding the recent arrests of members of the club in the Millbourne "fine" mill run by Dr. Martin Yerkes, Justice of the Peace S. P. Millbourne, and Constable Joseph Sapp, of Delaware County.

Last week Yerkes caught twenty-four motorists in a speed trap on the West Chester pike and fined them $14.20 each.

Yesterday attorneys for the auto club appeared before Judge Johnson, in Media Quarter Sessions Court, and made appeals from the decisions handed down by the "flying squire." The appeals were allowed and the cases of the motorists will be tried before a jury and the merits of each case will be tested.

When you find it necessary to come from 50, from 40 or from 20 miles an hour to a dead stop, and do it quickly, you will find Marmont brakes as dependable as Marmont power.

THE HATCH MOTORS CO. 720 N. BROAD ST. - PHILA.

OPPORTUNITY

For a Manufacturer or Group of Manufacturers to have a modern fireproof concrete building erected to suit their needs.

We have clients with desirable sites in Phila., Camden and surrounding districts, willing to erect such a building plant and either lease to responsible manufacturers or assist in financing.

Let Us Explain THE BALLINGER COMPANY Architects Engineers S. E. Cor. 12th & Chestnut Sts., Phila. Phone 76-61

Now a "Dry" Agent

BOB FOLWELL Former All-American fullback and coach of the University of Pennsylvania team, who has been appointed a liquor enforcement agent in New Jersey. He will serve without pay.

BOB FOLWELL TAKES JOB AS NEW JERSEY DRY AGENT

Former U. of P. Football Coach to Fight Rum Without Pay

Bob Folwell, former All-American fullback and coach of the University of Pennsylvania team, is a sure-enough prohibition agent.

He has been sworn in as a New Jersey dry enforcement man and announces he will serve without pay.

Charles H. Brown, head of the dry agents, will be his right hand man. Folwell made the University of Pennsylvania varsity football team all four years. In 1907 he was All-American fullback and captain of his team. Later he became coach of the University of Pennsylvania squad, and remained as such until 1920, when he took his present position at the Naval Academy. He will continue as coach there.

Deaths of a Day WILLIAM C. GAMBLE

Death Claims Chicago Bachelor Noted for Practical Jokes

Chicago, Aug. 24.—William C. "Bills" Gamble, sixty-one years old, one of the best-known bachelors in Chicago, who won fame among friends in the Casino, University, Huddle and Cycle and Chicago Golf clubs as a practical joker, died yesterday. He originated the "butchers and bakers" burlesque of the annual bachelors' and bachelorettes' dances and amused with his "Widows and Widowers" parties. He also launched the "society farce publication, Almanach de Gotha Street," devoted to Gold Coast celebrities of the North Side Gothic street neighborhood.

At the time of the coronation of King Edward he caused a furore by sending elaborately engraved invitations to the ceremony to a selected list of friends, to the deep chagrin of those who were omitted.

His latest stunt was the "Humdrum Club," a bridge-playing group of bachelor friends whom he fed at their weekly meetings on lettuce, radishes and green onions raised in window boxes.

Burial will be in Louisville, the family home.

Captain Howard C. McCall

Included in the shipment of bodies of 5728 American war victims which arrived in Hoboken last Saturday was the body of Captain Howard C. McCall, former all-around University of Pennsylvania athlete and graduate of the institution in 1900. The body is expected to reach this city next week.

Two hundred of the bodies in the last shipment are said to be those of Philadelphians, and will be forwarded to their homes in groups of twentys.

Theodore Quentin

Theodore Quentin, of 1717 West Passunk avenue, a retired policeman, died on Monday of paralysis after a five weeks' illness. He was stationed at Eighth and Market streets for twenty years while on the police force. He resigned from the force in 1904 and was placed on the pension list.

Rees L. Jones' Funeral

Rees Lockwood Jones, son of Mrs. Samuel Howell Jones, of Chestnut Hill, who died on Sunday at the summer home of his mother in Kennebunkport, will be buried this morning in Woodlands Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted in Kennebunkport yesterday.

Mr. Jones, who was twenty-nine years old, married Miss Katharine C. Newbold, daughter of the late Dr. Henry A. Newbold and Mrs. Newbold, of 2219 St. James place, this city, ten months ago.

Town Marks Centennial

Pleasantville, Pa., Aug. 25.—(By A. P.)—This Venango County town, once the center of the oil industry of Pennsylvania, opened today a centennial celebration of its first settlement. It will continue tomorrow and Friday. Many survivors of the old rush day period are here.

When you find it necessary to come from 50, from 40 or from 20 miles an hour to a dead stop, and do it quickly, you will find Marmont brakes as dependable as Marmont power.

THE HATCH MOTORS CO. 720 N. BROAD ST. - PHILA.

OPPORTUNITY

For a Manufacturer or Group of Manufacturers to have a modern fireproof concrete building erected to suit their needs.

We have clients with desirable sites in Phila., Camden and surrounding districts, willing to erect such a building plant and either lease to responsible manufacturers or assist in financing.

Let Us Explain THE BALLINGER COMPANY Architects Engineers S. E. Cor. 12th & Chestnut Sts., Phila. Phone 76-61

1000 MOTORISTS IN PIKE PARADE

Will Celebrate Opening Road to West Chester to Traffic Free of Tolls

MAYOR TO PARTICIPATE

More than 1000 motorists, headed by Mayor Moore and J. Horton Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club, will parade over the West Chester pike this afternoon, formally opening it to traffic.

Distributed in the long line of spick and span automobiles will be models depicting the progress which has been made in vehicular traffic in the last half century.

Picturesque floats, mounted on motor-trucks, will present scenes and incidents in the historic development of the famous old pike, recently freed of toll and the larger part of which was once the Strasburg road.

Built of concrete, the highway stretches out from Philadelphia to West Chester as a constant invitation to motorists. It enters this city by way of Newtown Square, Lanserch and Upper Darby, and is by three miles the shortest route between West Chester and this city.

This afternoon's parade will form at the Green Tree Club at West Chester at 2 o'clock. Proceeding over the pike, the procession will be joined by a band at Sixty-third and Market streets.

With the band blaring the announcement that the pike is formally opened, the parade will then proceed down Chestnut street to Broad, turning north on Broad street, to Lancaster avenue, to Fifty-second street, to Walnut street, to Sixty-third street, to Market street, thence back over the pike to West Chester.

City officials of West Chester and Philadelphia and members of the Keystone Automobile Club will attend a dinner to be given in honor of the formal opening of the pike this evening in West Chester. Mayor Moore and Mr. Weeks will be among the speakers.

The publicity committee of the West Chester Board of Trade, the Keystone Automobile Club and other organizations have joined in arranging the ceremonies. Thousands of road maps will be distributed to acquaint motorists with the new route.

Later it is expected that much traffic now using the Lincoln Highway will be diverted to the West Chester pike.

Among the men who participated in plans looking to today's celebration are Herbert P. Worth, president of the West Chester Board of Trade; Albert C. Whiteaker, president of the West Chester Rotary Club; and Fred J. Wohl, chairman of the West Chester Board of Trade's parade committee.

Sent to Jail on Drug Charge Before Judge Crane, in the criminal division of the Municipal Court today, John Ricci pleaded guilty to having drugs illegally in his possession and to carrying a concealed pistol, and was sentenced to six months in the county prison. He was arrested at Ninth and Callowhill streets by Detectives Eiselman and Walsh, of the Central Station.

HEARING ON SOLDIER FARES

Mayor Will Get Opinions on "Buddle Week" Ordinance

A public hearing will be held in the Mayor's reception room on the second floor of City Hall this afternoon on the ordinance providing for appropriations for the former members of the Seventy-ninth Division, Society of the Fifth Division and the Philadelphia Autumn Fair and Negro Exhibit Association.

The measure authorizes $2500 to pay the train fare of Philadelphia veterans of the Seventy-ninth Division to and from Baltimore, where the divisional reunion will be held during the first week in September, in conjunction with "Buddle Week"; $10,000 to defray the expenses of the annual reunion of the Society of the Fifth Division, to be held in this city September 10 to 12, and a similar sum to assist Negro citizens in promoting a fair to be held in the Commercial Museum in October. This fair is to be the first of a series arranged for the purpose of making possible a suitable exhibit by the colored people of the world at the Sesqui-centennial celebration in the city in 1926.

WANTED—A CHANCE

To make an organization that will offer a thorough and serious training course in the drug field coupled with ability to inject enthusiasm in men working with, not for him, 24-hour college-trained and non-employed. Credentials as to character and past successes will best demonstrate ability. I want a partner to talk with some executive whose business needs restraining. H. 612, LEDGER OFFICE

Hold-Up Suspect Arrested

Edward Bradley, seventeen years old, of 2342 Alfred street, Germantown, was arrested last night on suspicion of being one of the two men who late Sunday night shot and seriously injured John A. Wood, of 57 East Branghurst street, in an attempted hold-up, at the Germantown Hospital. Wood was unable to identify Bradley positively. He was held without bail today after declaring himself innocent.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

SAYS HUSBAND'S NOT A GROOM

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

Ed Keystone View

The wedding of Miss Edith Beaver Webb, daughter of the wealthy J. Beaver Webb, to George Miles, an employe in the stables of Benjamin Hehr at Lake Forest, has surprised society. The bride denies Miles is a groom, as reported, and terms him a professional horseman and a gentleman. Her sister created a sensation a year ago by marrying a Central Park policeman.

PENNA. MEN WIN SHOOTING MEDALS

Forty-seven Win Reward for Marksmanship and Twenty-two as Sharpshooters

HOLD BAYONET PRACTICE

Special District in Preparing Public Ledger Citizens Military Training Camp, Camp Meade, Md., Aug. 24.—A total of sixty-nine Pennsylvanians men, seven of them from Philadelphia, qualified in the target instruction course B as marksmen and sharpshooters, according to the official figures which have just been made public.

Forty-seven of the medals were for marksmanship and the remainder sharpshooters.

The Philadelphians who won their medals are: Melvind Roach, 2905 Columbia avenue; Nelson W. Goodwin, 235 West Rittenhouse street; Roland F. Harper, 244 Queen lane, Germantown; John G. Hand, Edwin S. Fry, 1015 South Forty-eighth street; John C. Weeks, 2218 Estauah street, and Philip Saturen.

All these men are members of Company A, and all of them received medals as sharpshooters. Company D and Company N, Pennsylvanians, are tied for high total with eighteen each, but the latter has seven sharpshooters against two in the former.

In order that the men in the camp may carry away with them something to remind them of the days they spent in the camp here, a souvenir book, consisting of about fifty pages, has been published, and will be ready for distribution in a few days. It is profusely illustrated and contains brief sketches of the various phases of work done.

Medals for the first, second and third place winners in the athletic meet Monday have been received. They are of gold, silver and bronze. Philadelphia's representatives in the games, who will number about fifteen, are planning to take a number of these home with them.

Were some one uninitiated in the work being done here to wander onto the drill ground these days he would start at the noises which he would hear before he gets to see the men in training, for the officers are now instructing the men in the rudiments of handling the bayonet.

Ridley Park Residents Aroused at Quays War on Birds

Residents of Ridley Park are aroused to the necessity for some drastic action if the robins of the borough are to be saved from the east. A number of cats are systematically attacking the birds, and unless something is done it is feared the robins will be exterminated.

Mrs. Charles G. Hazel, East Ridley avenue, has provided an elevated sanctuary for the birds, with water and breadcrumbs, to make it unnecessary for the robins to go to the ground in search of food. One large black cat is said to be an especially serious offender.

Richard Campion III Richard Campion, prominent manufacturer and member of the Union League, is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James H. Emack, 3374 Lancaster avenue. He is seventy-nine years old. Mr. Campion was formerly president of the New Jersey Society and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Fire Association. He is an expert on tariff matters and has several times been called upon to serve the Government in an advisory capacity in tariff problems.

FINE FRAMING PAINTINGS CLEANED AND RESTORED THE ROSENBACK GALLERIES 1320 Walnut Street

WANTED AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN Must Have Selling Experience Commission and Traveling Account. CALL AT 1000 PEARL ST. SEE FOR MR. DODDGE

Yours for Service?

The people of Philadelphia and of a wide territory outside have come to know that Perry's is a Good Place — to put it mildly — to buy Men's Clothes. Anyway, we're more interested in maintaining the place we hold in men's minds, than we are in merely selling clothes.

Clearaway Sale of Men's Woolen and Worsted Suits

medium and light weights for Spring or Fall Wear. $33, $38, $42, $48 Regular Prices, $45 to $60

Fall Overcoats ready for chilly evenings, and for mountain or seashore trips at the turn of the season.

FALL SUITS and new 4-piece Combination Sports Suits have been coming in for some time back — and many have already been sold. Our windows will show you some of the newest styles.

PERRY & Co. 16th & Chestnut Sts.

Write or call for our new "Looking Into Your Own Eyes" A Series of Eye Talks No. 251

By Joseph C. Ferguson, Jr. Our Next Talk Wed. Sept. 7

Everybody knows the fable of the hare and the tortoise being far ahead in the race the hare took the time to stop and yawn to find the tortoise crossing the line the winner.

Eye trouble like the tortoise may be slow, yet it is often a steady traveler.

If you are to keep ahead of the crowd, you must know the conditions to better them.

As soon as it is noticed that help is needed, get it once in a while, a physician's prescription for an examination.

Working only tends to aggravate the trouble and sometimes makes it impossible to bring about a normal condition.

Whether glasses are prescribed or not, they should be fitted by a prescription optician.

Jo. C. Ferguson, Jr. Prescription Optician 5, 8 & 10 South 15th St. We do NOT examine eyes. This Talk has a copyright. All rights reserved.

San Souci Broad and Arch Philadelphia's Most Beautiful Restaurant Special 90c Luncheon Served from 12 to 2

Only Two Weeks More of 30 to 50% Saving

Linde August Furniture Sale

Please bear in mind that these are not merely paper savings, but real, actual bonafide reductions below the present-day market value of these goods. Other sales have merchandise reduced in price, of course, but we guarantee to undersell every other large store or return your money.

Our buying and selling for cash, inexpensive location and enormous volume of business make it possible for us to sell for at least 20 to 30 per cent less than the stores in the high-rent district.

The Linde Store is known throughout the trade as being most particular about the quality of its merchandise. Comparison will prove Linde values. Every piece of Furniture, every Rug and every yard of Carpet and Linoleum is reduced 30 to 50 per cent below today's market value. Don't think of buying anywhere until you see how much we can save you.

$26, worth $45. This beautiful mahogany library table, latest design, is 48 inches long, 24 inches wide and has six handsomely turned legs.

$150, worth $225. Walnut or mahogany. Exceptional materials and workmanship. Full-size box-and-tile table, 36 inches.

$275, worth $400. Very handsome Queen Anne bed room suite, in walnut or mahogany, with artistic carving; full-size bureau, dressing table with triplicate mirror.

$350, worth $550. Four-piece walnut dining-room suite, including buffet, 66-inch buffet, 48-inch china cabinet, serving table, 19 inches long; extension table, 34-inch top.

$400, worth $500. Ten-piece Italian Renaissance in walnut or mahogany. Buffet, 22 in. wide; four chairs; 17 in. serving table, 28 in. extension table; dining table, 60 in. long; and one arm chair.

$180, worth $275. Three-piece living-room suite, Mahogany frames and rath backs. Spring seats and loose cushions, covered in blue or mulberry velvet.

$175, worth $225. This fine three-piece living-room suite has beautifully artistic lines and is covered in high-grade tapestry. Full spring seats and back and loose spring cushions.

$11