Nancy Wynne Tells of the Gymkhana at Narragansett Pier—Grown-Ups and Children Take Part in Races Together—Other Bits of Interest

THE Gymkhana at Narragansett Pier last Saturday must have been terribly exciting. I hear that Gertrude Conaway was captain of the Yellow Birds, and Gertrude Denny, of Dedham, Mass., captain of the Point Judith Reds, in the women's polo game, and although the game was most thrilling and quite evenly matched it was won by the Reds.

Mr. Phillip Stevenson, who was Emily Randolph, won the potato match, while young Henry Mills, the little son of Mrs. Paul Donckla Mills, coming in second. Some who took part in the event were: Johnny Pelt, Mrs. Stevenson, Francis Beard, Philip Randolph, Jr., and John Converse. Other races included the bending race, which must have been a scream, the polo ball race in which the rider was expected to drive through four goals around the entire stretch of the field, and the hand-hill race with the contestants riding on horseback. Each year the Gymkhana becomes more popular and is one of the most interesting affairs of the season.

I SAW Louise Anshurst Smythe in town yesterday looking very well. She had on a stylish dark blue dress with a narrow waist and a long, straight skirt and held in the waist with a narrow sash. Her hat was a large, picturesque affair of a dark shade of red, almost black, with a wide brim and a large bow. She has been in town a great deal this summer, but spent several weeks at Cape May and also at Bar Harbor, with her mother.

I HEAR that Marjory Large, who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mr. Robert H. Large, at her cottage in Cape May, has just returned from a visit to York Harbor, where she stayed with Mr. and Mrs. S. Boyer Davis. She is entertaining as her guest Walburga Reilly, who arrived there on Saturday, and will spend a month. Mrs. Reilly has a great deal to tell, and she certainly has a good time together, as both girls are attractive and popular. They will be introduced to society in the fall.

THEY had been down at the shore for some time with father and mother and there had been visitors and quite—whose escape was to be surprised and been down at the shore just lovely and—else who is three never missed a trick, believe me. She and Jean were building sand piles under the sand, and Elsie, her two-year-old sister, was patting the little sand piles all smooth and pretty. A very busy little person to be sure.

Suddenly she stopped a newspaper blowing over the sand. She ran as fast as her plump little legs would carry her and caught the fluttering paper. Then she smoothed it out carefully on the sand, and the bright sun lit her face as she looked at it full length, face turned toward the baking sun. "What are you doing Elsie?" called mother. "Oh," replied the child, "I'm reading."

Mr. Rodman Wanamaker, 2d, who with his mother, Mrs. Archibald G. Thomson, of Maryland Woods, Radnor, have been spending the summer traveling in Europe, has returned to Philadelphia after a trip to Biarritz and has joined his mother at the Hotel de Ville.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Strawbridge, of Woodside, Germantown, who are traveling in Europe, are spending some time in Paris. They will return to this country September 10.

Mrs. Harry F. Curtis entertained at luncheon on Tuesday in honor of her daughter, Miss Margaret E. Curtis, at her cottage at Cape May. The guests included Miss Lizabeth Boyd, Miss Helen Swell, Miss Margaretta Harrison, Miss Amelia Schick, Miss Kathleen Miller, Mrs. Edwin Sprankle and Mrs. John S. Sweeney. The engagement of Miss Curtis to Mr. E. H. Taylor Bookmyer was recently announced.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Stout and their son, Mr. Frederick S. Stout, of 214 Glenn road, Ardmore, who have been spending the summer at their cottage, Northeast Harbor, Me., will return home September 5.

Mrs. J. C. Morris Small, who is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barton Retz, at Cape May, left on Friday for Belgrade Lakes.
