

More Tomato Recipes Come Today to Mrs. Wilson's Famous Kitchen

Puree, Indian Style, Jelly and Vinegar Lend a Variety to the Preserve Closet and Spice to the Winter's Menu

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

Copyright, 1921, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. All rights reserved. FANCY packs of tomatoes always add a variety to the home preserve closet and usually prove a welcome addition to the winter menu.

Tomato Puree

This puree can be used for soups, sauces and with baked and boiled macaroni.

Wash one-half bushel basket of full ripe, but not soft, tomatoes. Cut in pieces and place in preserving kettle. Squeeze between the hands into a pulp. Now cook slowly until very soft and then let cool. Rub through a sieve to remove the skin and cores and seeds. Turn into a large jelly bag which has been made of heavy unbleached muslin and then hang up and let drip.

Then when pulp is fairly dry return to the preserving kettle and add

One quart of liquid drained from pulp. Four tablespoons of salt. Four tablespoons of sugar.

And following spices tied very loosely in a piece of cheesecloth: One quart of onions, chopped fine. One bunch of leek, chopped fine. One clove of garlic, chopped fine. One level tablespoon of poultry seasoning. One level teaspoon of allspice. One-half level teaspoon of cloves. One level teaspoon of thyme.

Stir securely. Now bring the mixture to a boil and cook slowly for one hour. Fill into sterilized pint and half pint jars and seal with covers and then seal securely. Place in hot water bath and bring to the boiling point. Boil for five minutes. Let cool in the water and then remove the jars and cool. Dip the tops of jars in melted paraffin. Store in a cool place.

Tomato Paste, Tuscany Style

Wash one basket of fully ripe tomatoes and cut in pieces. Place in preserving kettle. Mash the pulp between the hands until soft. Now add, tied in a piece of cheesecloth:

One quart of onions, sliced. Three bunches of leek, chopped fine. Three cloves of garlic. One level teaspoon of cloves. One level teaspoon of thyme. One cup of pickling spices.

Cook very slowly until soft and onions as well as tomatoes are very soft. Now let cool, remove the cheesecloth bag with the spices and turn in the heavy unbleached muslin jelly bag to drip. When done dripping, turn out the pulp and rub through a sieve. Now turn into a china or earthenware baking dish and have the pulp about two inches thick. Place in a very slow oven and leave the oven door ajar so that the excess moisture may pass off. Stir frequently and when very thick and quite dry pack into half-pint jars. Pack the jars tightly. Do not bottle the excess neck. Now cover with good salad oil. Adjust the rubber and lid, seal securely and place the jars in the preserving kettle with water just to the neck of the jar. Bring to a boil. Cook for five minutes and then let jars cool in water, then remove and dip the tops of jars in melted paraffin.

Fancy Packs of Tomatoes

Wash one-half basket of medium-sized tomatoes. Place in pans or bowls and cover with water. Let stand five minutes and then remove the skins. Cut the tomatoes into quarters, place in preserving kettle and add four cups of string beans, cut in half in pieces and cooked. Add one cup of green water, one-half dozen green peppers, remove the seeds and mince peppers fine.

Through a Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

Fibbing to Father

"What he doesn't know won't hurt him," explained a foolish mother in an aside to her little girl. "I told your father I was in the city and he was so glad to see me. He says you're a good girl, you know." In the so-called big things, this woman is honest with her husband. She does not go through his pockets at night nor would she deceive him in anything that seems to her to have a direct bearing on his happiness. But in the little things she is not so entirely free. She has learned to get her own way by hook or crook, if necessary by lies and petty deceptions, in which she does not hesitate to enlist the aid of her children.

The Woman's Exchange

How to Reduce

To the Editor of the Women's Page: Dear Madam—Kindly advise me how I can reduce about fifteen pounds. I do quite a little walking. But this doesn't seem to help. Also, tell me what to do. I'm 35. I keep active and exercise regularly in a swimming pool, and also play tennis, swimming and dancing. If possible, I'd like to have a diet every other day for a while.

Going to School in This City

To the Editor of the Women's Page: Dear Madam—I live in New Jersey, six and a half or seven miles from Camden, and I'm thinking of sending my child to school. Am I allowed to go being that I am a resident of Jersey?

Things You'll Love to Make

Metal and Ribbon Frock Trimmed: METAL-AND-RIBBON FROCK TRIMMING is exquisite on a silk crepe Frock. A double circle (bringing the two circles closer together) of two gold or silver tulle threads. The double pleated silk ribbon make bows with long ends at the top of the double circle. Scatter these at wide intervals over the skirt. Finish each sleeve with the same double circles and bows. METAL-AND-RIBBON FROCK TRIMMING is especially fetching on a evening frock. FLORA.

For Perspiring Hands

To the Editor of the Women's Page: Dear Madam—My hands perspire frequently and, as I play the banjo-mandolin, it is very inconvenient. Can you advise me as to what to do to stop this perspiring? Also, what can be done to clean a pair of light tan canvas slippers?

Metal and Ribbon Frock Trimmed

Metal and Ribbon Frock Trimmed

Metal and Ribbon Frock Trimmed: METAL-AND-RIBBON FROCK TRIMMING is exquisite on a silk crepe Frock. A double circle (bringing the two circles closer together) of two gold or silver tulle threads. The double pleated silk ribbon make bows with long ends at the top of the double circle. Scatter these at wide intervals over the skirt. Finish each sleeve with the same double circles and bows. METAL-AND-RIBBON FROCK TRIMMING is especially fetching on a evening frock. FLORA.

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

To "Somebody's Stenog"

Dear Cynthia—I have never written to you before but often read your columns and find most of the letters interesting.

In the column recently was a letter written by a girl who signs herself "Somebody's Stenog" and asks why she is wrong with the young men of today? Then she states that they are just as good as dead because they don't love the girls. I have been considered "slow" by some girls I have been with just because I don't love them with respect. If "Somebody's Stenog" really desires a good fellow it is too bad she doesn't meet one. I am sure she would not trouble her for a good-night kiss.

I am not a "sleazy" or the like and have some bad habits, but I always treat the girls I go out with generously and with respect. Sincerely yours, OPTIMISTIC.

Pay Her Back First

Dear Cynthia—You have helped so many dear young women and you are so kind to me, and your kind readers could help me, as I believe I have a very unusual case. I have a very young girl, I am a young man of twenty-one, a very neat dresser, and in brief present a neat appearance, and have seen all there is to see. I have traveled all over the United States and have had my own money and have been through the mill. Last summer I met the girl at a seashore resort. A month previous to that I lost several thousands of dollars in New York City, and to make it short, she virtually loaned me thousands of money and got me out of my own home for a period of six months. Now, Cynthia, I know that I was absolutely wrong in accepting money from her, but what could I do? I have always had very large sums of money, but I had to take advantage of her goodheartedness or else my parents are in very poor circumstances, but I always sent money home to them.

That is, when I had it. I am noted for being a big sport, have owned several autos in my day, etc. But to get back to my story, she also met a friend of mine about this time and did the same thing for him, and I could see that she had overdone it in love with him. Now, this young lady is very wealthy and her mother owns several cities, and is very well fixed up. The most important question is this: I adore my girl and would do anything in my power for her, but can she ever be my mother, as she knows what her daughter did for me?

I was in a position to repay her last winter, but as she goes to a boarding school, she could not get in touch with me. Now, she writes me all the time like to marry her but I am of Jewish faith and she is of the Catholic faith. How do you think she could get into the hotels if I were sure I could get along with her if we were married. I believe she is a very good girl, but as every one says, "It can't be said" (Jewish law, Catholic). I think it could. Now I am in a very difficult position. I have explained everything as well as I can, and hoping you will publish this and give me some answer to my dilemma. To try one out. MULTI.

Adventures With a Purse

FOR several weeks Helen has wanted a pair of sandals, not the grown-up sort that are so much in evidence, but more of a little girl sandal, with a very low and tiny heel. She made a tour of the stores but was unable to find just what she had in mind. I have seen the very thing for her, and that she will be delighted with them I am sure. They are made of the softest of black kid, with a thin leather sole and a heel about a half-inch high. Her toes fit into a piece of black leather, below which are two holes of a triangular shape. A narrow thong of leather comes down over her instep to meet a strap which buckles on the side. Confy and just as dainty as they can be. They are priced at $7.

Now that summer is almost over, it's time to think of fall decorations for the house, and you'll be wanting new candles for the various candlesticks in the house. Brass candlesticks are very desirable and also effective, but it's a question what looks best with them. It has been my experience that black candles with brass candlesticks are the best, and yet I can't always buy them. I came across some in a store the other day for 10 cents each. They are quite large and taper to a point at the top. No. 1, yes. No. 2, optional. No. 3, fancy tomato salad, new peas for vegetable. Fruit cup, orange cocktail or grape juice cocktail.

No. 4, many changes are slowly superseding the old style of dining and many persons who eat three full meals daily prefer something less substantial than soup, hence the fruits and fruit cocktail. It is all a matter of personal preference.

How many times have you told yourself that you must not forget to have the piano tuned, and must also phone the plumber, and then completely forgotten the very thing you would remember most? The busy mother has so many things on her mind that it's an excellent plan to jot down things which need particular attention. There can be had small scratch pads which can be attached to a string and suspended from a nail in the kitchen. They are but 5 cents and quite large and handy.

MRS. WILSON'S ANSWERS

My Dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you kindly enlighten me regarding the following: Is it considered perfectly proper to serve out grape fruit in short glasses for the dist course of a luncheon or dinner? Second—is it necessary to have tiny dollops on the plates under the glasses? Third—Is it proper to hold you out to a guest? For this I will be glad to pay you; there will be five persons; I am thinking of having pot-roast or fricasseed chicken with potato salad, strawberries with regular sauce, and coffee. Will you kindly suggest some sort of salad or suitable vegetable, also something to substitute for the grape fruit? It would be regular comfort food that grape fruit or a substitute may be just what is wanted for a luncheon. I have repeatedly found it served at dinners in place of soup, even at a

THIS DAINTY FROCK

IN FAIRY-LIKE CHIFFON

THIS DAINTY FROCK IN FAIRY-LIKE CHIFFON

This summer has certainly put the "chiffon" in chifferoni. Some of the most charming of the evening gowns are made of this delicate fabric developed with the aid of lace, embroidery and flowers.

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

THE NEW HANDKERCHIEF DRAPERY

THE NEW HANDKERCHIEF DRAPERY

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

By DADDY

Jack and Janet are bumped on the head by Jack's rubber ball. Bobby Bonner, until they became as short as dolls, and as roly-poly as my baby-look. They chase Bobby Bonner through a secret door into a mysterious garden, where they come to the shop of Mr. Pieman.

CHAPTER VI

A Desperate Plan

JIMMY had developed a jealous streak that did not augur well for the future. Now that he had made up his mind to the fact that he wanted Theo to leave the office he did not see any reason for delay. "Theo had been telling me you were going to leave at once?" he asked. "Because it would be fair," Theo had responded quickly. "I hate to think of you in an office where you can't look at me and eye you in a way that would make me furious if I saw it," Jimmy insisted. "You're too good-looking to be in a public place of any kind," Theo had said. "I'm not looking at you in an office where you can't look at me and eye you in a way that would make me furious if I saw it," Jimmy insisted. "You're too good-looking to be in a public place of any kind," Theo had said.

CHAPTER VII

Mr. Pieman Rolls Them

MR. PIEMAN laughed so hard as he peered at Jack and Janet that the tears rolled out of his eyes and splashed among his mud pies. "Hi! Hi! Hi!" he yelled. "You are the the queerest roly-poly creatures I ever have seen." He held a shining pan up in front of Jack and Janet, so they could see themselves. And when they looked into it, they agreed that in becoming as short as dolls and as roly-poly as toy balloons they had grown very odd-looking.

Read Your Character

By Digby Phillips

Lip lips are thin lips. At the center, this thickness indicates the exact opposite of full lips. That is to say, it indicates small capacity for conjugal love and little desire for it.

Tomorrow—Love of Life

WHAT'S WHAT

By HELEN DECIE

First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

You Never Can Tell What Your Friend Will Consider Her Prize Possession

Each Person Puts a Different Value Upon Things—The Exquisite Pearls and Sapphires May Be Only a Bar Pin to Her

SHE had taken the greatest pains to make the green necklace which everybody thought was so lovely. The first time she wore it to work at the factory she almost stopped work for a few minutes while everybody took a look at her decoration.

For several days she enjoyed the distinction of being the most dressy one in the room. Then, leaving in a hurry one day, she forgot it.

She had been hot late in the afternoon and had taken it off and laid it on the table in front of her. Later she had taken off her glasses to wipe her eyes and forehead, and had laid them beside the necklace.

Just then, as she sat there resting for a second, the closing gong sounded, and in a hurry to get her things she went out, forgetting her "valuables."

Next morning she was in a great state, looking for them, but a friend had looked out in his bag. Here it was. "I picked them up," she said, "and looked for you, but you'd gone. I didn't want you to lose that necklace, so I put it in a piece of paper and stuck it in my bag. Here it is, and I'm sorry you forgot them."

"But where are my glasses? That's what I want, my glasses. I don't care so much about the necklace." The thing that her friend would have prized most was less valuable to her than a very prosaic article.

YOU never can tell just what position another person is going to value most. The piece of jewelry that seems to you to be most desirable may be nothing but a pin to hold her collar up to the girl who lives down the street.

And the piece of literature that is just a book to you may be her most prized treasure.

The Heart Pirate

By HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR

Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company.

Theodore Caldwell had become engaged to Jimmy Black, and, to her surprise, is not being over it. She tells her employer, Richard Blakeslee, that she is leaving in order to be married, and he refuses to let her go. They have a battle of words and Theo apparently wins out.

CHAPTER VI

A Desperate Plan

JIMMY had developed a jealous streak that did not augur well for the future. Now that he had made up his mind to the fact that he wanted Theo to leave the office he did not see any reason for delay. "Theo had been telling me you were going to leave at once?" he asked. "Because it would be fair," Theo had responded quickly. "I hate to think of you in an office where you can't look at me and eye you in a way that would make me furious if I saw it," Jimmy insisted. "You're too good-looking to be in a public place of any kind," Theo had said. "I'm not looking at you in an office where you can't look at me and eye you in a way that would make me furious if I saw it," Jimmy insisted. "You're too good-looking to be in a public place of any kind," Theo had said.

CHAPTER VII

Mr. Pieman Rolls Them

MR. PIEMAN laughed so hard as he peered at Jack and Janet that the tears rolled out of his eyes and splashed among his mud pies. "Hi! Hi! Hi!" he yelled. "You are the the queerest roly-poly creatures I ever have seen." He held a shining pan up in front of Jack and Janet, so they could see themselves. And when they looked into it, they agreed that in becoming as short as dolls and as roly-poly as toy balloons they had grown very odd-looking.

Read Your Character

By Digby Phillips

Lip lips are thin lips. At the center, this thickness indicates the exact opposite of full lips. That is to say, it indicates small capacity for conjugal love and little desire for it.

Tomorrow—Love of Life

WHAT'S WHAT

By HELEN DECIE

First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 3. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 4. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 5. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place. 6. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made of the material, puffed and turned in under plain bands, which hold the puffing in place.

What's What

A Philadelphia correspondent asks: First—Are two men, father and son, always to be addressed (in writing) as Sr. and Jr.? Is the name to be inscribed on the lawn at home looking up at Bobby Bonner perched in the tree. They fell as if they had been asleep. "How shall we earn an invitation to the Toyville fancy dress ball?" whispered Janet to Jack. "That was a problem. How they solved it will be told in next week's story."

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries: 1. If it is desired to wear long, washable gloves for a long trip, what kind will keep the wrist-wash clean and at the same time be comfortable? 2. How is a dainty white belt of silk braided finished on the ends? 3. As a farewell gift to the girl who is leaving for her vacation, what useful gift would be appropriate? 4. Who was Mary Phillips? 5. Describe a charming way to finish a little girl's party dress around the bottom. 6. In what simple fashion is one of the latest black velvet hats trimmed?

Yesterday's Answers

1. For the apartment that affords only a corner of another room for a sewing room, the sewing machine which folds into its case and becomes a desk is ideal. 2. A simple but trimming that looks around the sides of a crepe de chine dress is made