XXXXXXII I WAXXXXXX

What a cozy, comfortable window seat! And what a useful one!

Its upholstery matches the color scheme of the room, with contrasting pillows to add bright touches, and the sateen, silk, plush or cretonne curtains which hang down over its edge cover a multitude of things.

A place for your favorite books, a place for shoes, a place for your best hat and extra room for any odd or end you want to put there are arranged beneath the wooden seat. Any carpenter could fix this up for you, or, if you are clever with saw and hammer, you could do it yourself

Are Especially Appetizing—Try Them and See

Prepare For Triple Holiday Early;

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

opuright, 1921, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson,

ABOR DAY is the closing of the Li summer season and vacations are harvest. Is an ideal time for family out-near the shore or even near a park, by

FRIDAY EVENING DINNER

Baked Stuffed Peppers Cheese Sauce

SATURDAY BREAKFAST

Grapes
Grilled Ham with Saute Egg
Hashed Brown Potatoes
Coffee

LUNCHEON

DINNER

Lettuce

Coffee

SUNDAY MORNING BREAKFAST

Cantaloupe

DINNER

Sponge Cake Apple Sauce Coffee

SUPPER

MONDAY BREAKFAST

Baked Apples Minced Ham and Green Pepper Omelet

Butter

LUNCHEON

DINNER

Baked Tomatoes with Grilled Ham

The marker basket will require

One ten-pound basket of grapes, One-half basket of apples, One-quarter basket of potators, One-quarter basket of tomators, Three cantaloupes,

Young onions or scallions

Nine-pound baby pig ham.

Small frying chicken about one and three-quarters pounds,

And the usual weekly staples.

Market early on Friday morning and then place the ham on to cook early in the afternoon.

To Boil Ham

thin slices. Place the following mixture

One teaspoon of cinnamon, One-half teaspoon of allspice,

One-half teaspoon of nutmeg.

Wash the ham well in warm water

Leftuce Sponge Cake

Sliced Tomatoes

Baked Ham, Champagne Style aked Potators Lima Beans

Pickled Onions

Aked Stune. Mashed Potatoes Coleslaw

Baked Apples

Tomato Canape

Baked Potatoes

Ginger Layer Cake

Spanish Omelet Cree Rudishes

Cold Cuts of Ham Per Sliced Tomatoes

Ginger Layer Cake

Lyonnaise Potatoes

Cup Custards

Mashed Potatoes

Radishes.

Corn.

Parsley.

Cucumbers.

Lima beans. String benns Green peppers Lettuce,

Bread

Ham Sandwiches

Radishes

Young Onions

Potato Salad

Grapes

Sliced Tomatee

Sliced Tomatoes

Cheese Toast Chilled Cucumbers

Make It Do Double Work

Woman's Life and Love By WINIFRED HARFER COOLEY

WOMEN are only for lighter mo- slink back into triviality, abandoning ments of relaxation, for sweet the world of creative act. They-witha few brilliant exceptions-are hopelessly trivial! ime; never to

That sums up the regard men universally had for us until recent years. We were back into dark ages of learning or intellectual learning jeered at because we did not pro-

ee masterpieces

lection of women will carnestly go into the cut of their clothes, or their own women in business, it does seem that ready to marry me until two or three servant problems, or their own babies' diseases. Is this so?

than the average men?

Attend a card party in a small town. do they speak of the latest book of this season. or Einstein's theory of rela-The women vividly and breathand frequent goings of their maids. The ailments of the children and matters domestic domestic and personal are their

But how about the men? Do not they talk interminably of business—their own business—and of golf—their the local man's world?

cation to girls. When feminists exciaim in horror at his medieval sentiments, he retorts that he does not for A character in one of George Eliot's

Are Women Trivial?

Of course, you are an exception, if he talking to you. Now, this man is one of the best. There are men who deny the right to women to prove that they have pro-found thoughts. There are those who oolly assert that the divine plan or-tained that women exist merely to young men's company. Yes, even that cater to men and that fley must re-main trivial. Mr. S—only says "Brown Eyes" belongs very properly to likes to take life easy. Few Napoleons becoming to a young woman. One step and Edisens are willing to slave twenty in the wrong direction soon is followed WINIFRED and sleep but four hours a night. Few flesh-and-blood persons struggle on against every handleng, laboring from in art, music and literature! We were dawn till midnight, and conquer ob- Emphatically no-no young woman dancing girls to parade our physical stacles and change the shape of the should kiss or permit a young man to charms before men, whether kings in world. Few women have labored kiss her until she was engaged to be

Byen many very modern men, who are products of universities and have no fundamental objection to their sisters atending college or going in for acconomic independence, nourish a deep-rooted belief that most women are should be advented solely to amuse men, they rooted belief that most women are should be educated only with this in trivial and light-headed. Any group of view, it must have been rather discouraging to the brilliant French women all the time. I cannot part with him, for external subjects, if only crops or who led conversation in salons with a haseball or local politics. But any collection of request we have been rather discouraging to the brilliant French women will extend the property of the property

our conversation cannot be wholly trivial. In one trade, in which perhaps Is it impossible to interest the aver- you have not thought of women as age woman in the great world prob- prominent, that of hotel managing, lems? Or in abstract philosophy? Or there were 14,235 running such hostelthe speculations of the few deep think- ries in America at the last census, that ers on life and death, and heredity and of 1910. And feminine restaurant-immortality? Are women more personal than men? The average women rearly 25,000 women were executives of the control of the contr public hotels and eating-places. this time, the number must have dou-bled. It is probable that they have Attend a card party in a small town.

If is perfectly true that the guests do not show any knowledge of the Irish something to talk about besides the fact that skirts are being worn short

When we listen to the chatter of the tivity. The women vividly and breath-lessly take up the fashion changes and devote some time to the shortcomings and frequent goings of their maids. the young men of equal age and status. Their talk is of the eternal ball game. and the prize fight and all of the light themes of youth. What really is sur-prising, often, is the serious and techconversations one hears from own recreation—and of the gossip of they sit in ten-rooms or summer garyoung woman of business offices, as Main street is peopled by male and self-interested men, mortals quite some of the day's business happenings or some phase of the work that they think could be improved. Main street is peopled by male idlers any besses, but are earnestly discussing

I know a man who is highly educated and very charming. He looks upon his mass, for all folks are not celebrities or gentuses. Perhaps we must grudgingly that womankind is a bit more and very charming. He looks upon his fellow-mortals with a kindly, tolerant eye. He never would deny to women any educational or professional privileges, and is delighted when they write good books, or paint miniatures, or land some prize in the political or business world. Yet he is profoundly cynical as to their seriousness. He sometimes broadening amazingly. Since the war will drop a skentical remark about the will drop a skeptical remark about the we are unwilling to creep back into our ments, he retorts that he does not ter a moment object to girls having the chance at education, but that it only means that it is a sheer waste, as women do nothing but get married and match the men!"

A character in one of George Eliot's novels long ago (Mrs. Poyser) declared: "I ain't a denyin' as women is feolish; the Lord Almighty made em so, to match the men!"

nonchalantly: "You thought of every-with that sudden flashing smile of his that somehow softened the sternness of his features. "I thought of her as soon as I decided what I wanted to do."

"Why, yes," he snapped,
"Oh, but Mr. Blake-lee, I'm not

"May we have it on deck?"

Tomorrow-"A Sudden Reaction."

Using Soap Scraps

ated soan add one and a half cupfuls of cornmeal and put through the food hopper again until reduced to a cause meat. This may be facilitated by rubbing between the hands to loosen the particles. When all will pass readily through a meal steve add one source of dive oil to each two and a half cupfuls of the soan and cornmeal mixture.

Table Oilcloth

The Heart Pirate

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company

Theodora Caldicell has become engaged to Jimmy Bland, and, to her surprise, is not happy about it. She tells her employer, Richard Blakes-lee, that she is leaving her job in order to be married, and he refuses to tet her go. They have a battle of let her go. They have a battle of words, and Theo apparently wins out, but then the unexpected happens and Blakeslee kidnaps her and carries her off on his yacht. Of course she is furious, and then because there is nothing clse to do, she decides to refuse to work and to pretend she is merely a guest.

CHAPTER XI Theo, the Woman

OW a woman who is worthy the himself up. Tomorrow we'll begin work, he said evenly. The had a tibly the change in a man's attitude typewriter installed, and we'll pull toward her; and so it was with Theo, things together a bit, so as to get the That momentary lightening of Richard thing well in hand.

Blakeslee's face, his start as he had glimpsed her, gave her confidence in herself. It was with a certain air of in it.

assurance that she rose slowly to her.

ssurance that she rose sown.

feet prepared to play the game for all it was worth.

She was no longer Miss Caldwell, the private secretary; she was a guest, and her strange clothes and the sense of ment, and met a pair of amused green strange lapping her about, all served to ish-gray eyes black inshed. Her head the sense of ment, and met a pair of amused green ish-gray eyes black inshed. luxury lapping her about, all served to inti-help her and give her a feeling of power. was

The dining salon with its round table set for two, its shining glass and silver, and shaded lights, was an ideal setting. At that moment a steward entered the salon with a shining silver tray, and with her sense of playing a fascinating game. Theo was quite unself-conscious. They were waited on deftly "Coffee, sir?"

"May we have it on disk?" Theo by two immaculate stewards, and Theo-ate strange and delicious food with a sense of being in a dream, of acting a part in a play. She had a certain air of diableric about her, a droop of the eyelashes, a quiek movement of her mouth, a way of saying unexpected things, that her present environment seemed to bring out in her, and when across the dessert she looked straight into Richard Blakeslee's eyes and said

WHAT'S WHAT By HELEN DECIE

Some girls, unaccustomed to social usages, and with no other motive than a good-hearted, if mistaken idea of hospitality, do not hesitate to ask young nen to visit them at their homes, even hough they may have met these men at two or three times in mixed comany. The average young man requires o "encouragement" of this sort, and any man to provide the property of the sort, and any man requires of encouragement of this sort, and any man if a diverging the sort of the sort to seem to pursue a man. If a man is really anxious to become racquainted with a girl he will it easy enough to follow the control way of paying his respects to To make table oilcloth more satisfactory and durable, clean it well and rub it occasionally with liquid wax, always polishing well afterward it will be easy spik the mother's permissionally keep clean, and its lifetime will be max wait for the nine Co-clonged indefinitely. If polishing it is, in no instance sections.

Please Tell Me What to Do By CYNTHIA

To "Temptation"

No, do not go anywhere with a married man, whether his wife approves or not. It's a dangerous pastime, and no girl should do so.

Says "Brown Eyes" Is Too Young Dear Cynthia-Kindly say to "Anxlous Brown Eyes" for me that she is entirely too young in mind to have The vast number of human beings to have the least idea of that which is by the second, then the third, fourth, etc., until the final one is reached. No charms before men, whether kings in world. Few women have labored kiss her until she was engaged to be biblical narratives or travelers visitting the geisha houses of Japan, on because fewer have had the chance. emn bond meant. "Anxious Blue Eyes" emn bond meant. "Anxious Blue Eyes"

DAVID L. W.

Family Opposes Match Dear Cynthia-I have a sweetheart I ove dearly and he toyes me, but my When we think of the millions of like him. He told me he will not be come over to my house because they dis ready to marry me until two or three years and he tells me, "Dear, how can you wait for me that long and be home, suffering for me all the time?" I am eighteen years old, he is nineteen years old. He was my first real love and I cannot part with him. His folks tell him he is too young. I am always working and when I go home my folks are very mean to me. Just for my brothers he does not like to come to my house.

I loved him before, then my folks found out and they told me I should not speak to him or else they would mistreat me. I did not speak to my honey for ten months. Then he would come in the place where I work, so that is how we speak again. He is so good I cannot help loving him. Well, he always tries to do anything to please me. But he is disgusted with the way my folked treat me and he told me to drop the matter. When he told me that I cried for many hours. So please tell me what to do. The only place I have to speak to him is where I work. I am walting patiently for an answer as soon as possible, for it is very disagreeable at home. I cannot go out to movies with him or walk with him.

BRIGHT EYES OF LOVE.

BRIGHT EYES OF LOVE. The young man is right. Better not e engaged to him until you are older the family opposes you so. It is a distake to meet clandestinely. Be friends when you happen to meet, and if in two or three years you find you still love each other marry then, when you will both be of age.

usually over by this time. This triple holiday, coming just before the autumn Father Objects to Marriage Dear Cynthia—1 am a girl nineteen ears old and engaged to be married. ings. If you are living in the country. have some money in the bank and my all means take full advantage of this flance has a very good position and a large bank account. I know that he could support me very readily. He comes of a very good family, and I have known him for years. last summer holiday. Here is a suggestive menu from Friday night to Tuesday morning:

Now here comes my problem. We both love each other dearly. My mother is glad that I have chosen such a fine man for a husband. But my father insists that I do not marry him. My mother and I have both argued with him to tell us reverse why he had each. nother and I have both argued with him to tell us reasons why he doesn't like George. All he says in return is that it will be better if I don't marry him. My nerves are completely on end and I don't know what I shall do if I don't get some advice.
Should I take mother's advice and marry George, or should I do as my father says and break the engagement. The latter I would dread to do, as I see The latter I would dread to do, as I see no reason except my father's. My father and I do not get along very well together, so do you think that would have anything to do with it?

If the readers would give me any advice on the matter I would appreciate it very much. Thank you, Cynthia, for giving me all this valuable space. thing didn't you. Mr. Blake-lee? I feel as if I had suddenly been given a fairy godinother." she had the satisfaction of seeing his dark face flush.
"Perhaps that is a new role for you." she added, with a soft little laugh.
"Mrs. Breen helped me." he returned

DISTRACTED If your father refuses to give any reason for not wishing you to marry, it would not be fau to your flance or to yourself to break the engagement. Tell your father unless he will give you a good, honest reason for his refusal you will marry the man you love.

Lace Chiffon Frock Draped Over Satin

By CORINNE LOWE It was some seasons ago that we changed the glass of fashion to the glaze of fushion, and still the rage for waxed and polished surfaces goes on. Of cire and polished surfaces goes on. Of cire braids and ribbons we see more than ever on the early fall frocks of Poiret twill and gabardine. And the cire laces which Callor, in particular, launched so enthusiastically last spring, will probably pass from the experimental stage this autumn.

and then place in a large pot with sufficient water to cover. Bring to a boil, then place on the simmering burner and cook slowly, allowing one-half bour perpound. Let cool in water over night and in the morning lift, remove the fut and cut, sufficient ham for breakfast in this autumn.

The fact of it is that lace has been thin slices. Place the following mixture on the subject of much laboratory work on the part of the designers. Not only do we find its surface glazed, but that glaze is sometimes carried out in the jeweled tints of the Chinese Jacquer jeweled tints of the Chinese lacquer work that has taken such a hold upon the imagination of the dress smiths.

In the accompanying model we encounter lace an naturel, a form persevering through all recent experiments. It is used to drape a frock of apricot chiffon which, in turn, wells a foundation of apricot satin. The popular cape effect is exploited, and the law girdle is formed of three strands of coral

One-quarter teaspoon of cloves. Mix and then score the fut in the to of the ham and pat in the sugar mix-ture. Baste while cooking with One cup of water, One cup of vinegar, To Make Champagne Sauce girls are making several heavy dresses. roadcloth.

has been accepted as "quite the thing," the "sterling" mark, for twenty-nine cents and fifty-nine cents. Initials were cut in the center and I'm sure that the masculine members of your family would welcome one of these as a pres-out a wrap of some kind. One of the stores is selling the large woolen is limp fear that the baby has failen off the was one of blue, with a darker the occan, gives him the quarter. blue border around the edge of the searf, the pockets and belts. Another was a combination of tan and brown, and both were very effective.

For names of shops address Woman's Page

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips

and physical features are not the only signs by which character tendencies may A Complete Menu Given by Mrs. Wilson be judged. The scientific character now analyst can tell almost as much about go. Some Recipes for Champagne Sauce and Ginger Layer Cake

Of course judgment becomes more

One-quarter tenspoon of nutmeg. Ginger Layer Cake Place in a mixing bowl One cup of brown sugar, Three-quarters cup of molasses, Seven tablespoons of shortening.

Cream well and then add Three cups of sifted flour, Two level tablespoons of

One-half cup of rinegar,

Three-quarters cup of scater.

Three tablespoons of cornstarch.

boil and cook for ten minutes. Add Dissolve the starch, then bring to

One-quarter traspoon of cinnamon,

One-half level teaspoon of salt, One level teaspoon of ginger. One level teaspoon of cinnamon, One-half level teaspoon of allspice. One cup of cold coffee, Reat to a smooth patter and bake in two well-greased and floured deep layer-cake pans in a newderate oven. When cake pans in a moderate oven. cold spread with jelly and put together. Now cover the top of cake with icing made as follows:

One-half cup of confectioner's sugar, One tablespaon of lemon juice. Sprend over the cake. Bake cakes on Friday afternoon, Boil sufficient potatoes for salad and for fry-ing and when cold place in the lower compartment of the icebox. Use soft tomatoes for the soup and se a little water in which the ham was

To grill ham, cut thin and then brown Creamed Potatoes fat. Use the rough and ragged portions shes

To stuff peppers and tomatoes, mince about one-half cup of ham fat and cook

Clear Tomato Soup
Home Made Pickles Chilled Cucumbers
Grilled Ham Fried Chicken
Cream Gravy
Botled Rice String Beans
Tomato Salad
Spanse Cake Apple Sauce Coffee Two cups of prepared bread, One-half cup of finely chapped onions, One tenspoon of poultry seasoning. and when ready to fise fill the peppers.
Add three hard-boiled eggs rubbed through a sieve. Season to taste and place in baking pan. Add one-half cup of water to prevent the skins bursting. Bake in moderate oven for one-half hour. Lay thin slice of bam on top of each pepper and tomatoes about five minutes before removing from the oven.

Things You'll Love to Make

flower made of loops of the ribbon. These RIBBON-TRIMMED CURTAINS are vely in their simplicity.

Another Week-End cut in price of Butter

Sold in our Stores only

EACH season increases the number of women who are making their own clothes, and it's really astonishing to look about and see the many smart dresses which were made at home at very little cost. Some girls I know have agreed to make all their winter clothes themselves, and twice a week they get together and, while sewing Industriously, they discuss the various fall styles which have been displayed in the stores and shop windows. The wise men tell us that we are in for a long and bitter cold winter, and so these One of the shops is selling all-wool serge, fifty-two inches wide, for $1.48 a yard. It comes in dark blue and brown and one of the girls is planning to buy brown dress and trim it with tan

Adventures With a Purse

If it's a small boy, he wants to dress in uncertain contralto, in sweet soprano like his daddy, and if it's an older and the deep bass or shallow tenor of on, well, he just must have the same things the other fellows have, and it keeps Mother busy keeping peace all around. Of late the silver belt buckle but it is expensive. But today I saw a display of silver belt buckles, bearing

No. 41-Large Handwriting

Conformations of bodily structure a person's character by a mere inspec-tion of handwriting as by observation of the person himself.

difficult where there is a deliberate atceive, much more difficult than in cases person can actually be observed. Still, no matter how the subject tries to avoid it, guiding clues are unconsciously embodied in his or her Take as an example the person who habitual'y writes a large hand, and for some particular purpose writes a small one for the inspection. It may fool the analyst. But the chances are that the latter will run across some other characteristics that contradict the small writing and start him on the right

Mountain House to the dance tonight, and I said I'd get our car. See, Jim can't get his because his Dad wants to But what does large handwriting in Paradoxically, it indicates an appreciation of that which is small and dainty. It indicates that the writer is quick at observing details, and inclined to take big meanings from little things. It indicates in addition a cious of opinion. Such persons like to have things their own way, and are likely to be overly concerned when they

Tomorrow-Big and Small Hips

The Woman's Exchange

Black Silk Braid Fashionable To the Editor of the Woman's Page Dear Madam-Is there anything that can be done to take "shine" off black shirts? Also, can black silk braid be used for trimming a skirt?

Vinegar has been the time-honored remedy for "shiny" cloth skirts. Sponge the material with the vinegar and press it on the wrong side.

Black silk braid will be the correct trimming for this year and can be used very well on skirts.

Too Young for Night School To the Editor of the Woman's Page:

One-half cup of finely chopped onions.
One tenspoon of poultry seasoning.
Cook slowly and turn frequently. Cool and when ready to use fill the peppers.

One tenspoon of poultry seasoning.

Must I be sixteen years night school. Must I be sixteen ; old? Please tell me the name of slocdes thain

MISS WANTS-TO-LEARN-MORE. Yes, you are too young to go to night school. You will have to wait until you are sixteen, unless you can make specia arrangements. Call the Board of Edu cation, Spruce 1940, to find out where to go to see about this. All the business schools have night classes; you can find the list of them in the business directory of the telephone book, under "Schools and Collegen"

September Maid of Honor

o the Edstor of the Waman's Page; *Dear Madam—I am a girl of fifteen years of age, five feet seven inches tall, light complexioned and light brown hair and weigh 111 pounds.

Now I am to be maild of honor (the wedding will take place in September) and don't know what to wear. What style dress would be suitable to wear and how should I wear my hair and what kind of hat? HAZEL EYES. RIBBON-TRIMMED CURTAINS are easy to make and look so charming on bedroom windows Make simple curtains of voile or marquisette. Draw sufficient threads to have the hemstitching three-eighths inch wide. Make double hemstitching. Use one-fourth inch ribbon of a color to harmonize with the color scheme of the room. Run the ribbon through the hemstitching on the side and bottom. Finish the corner with a flower made of loops of the ribbon. These

Everywhere You Go in Summertime You Hear Children Cry for "Daddy!"

Vacation Is His Time to Rest and Play and Every Child From the Baby to the Young Man Shouts for Him

He has been very busy.

Not with business; no, indeed. This has been his time to "rest." He has had a month, three weeks, two weeks, a week or a few days' vacation, and he has been spending them with his family.

But, from the 1st of June the uni versal cry of seashore, country, mountains and home has been "Daddy!" In baby silvertones, in shrill treble, seventeen, the name has sounded eternally, incessantly. "DADDY!" purrs the baby, fondling his fishy clothes upon his return, late for dinner.

"Daddy!" shricks the eight-yearold, rushing into the bathhouse. "What?" shouts Daddy, sticking his head out of the door in alarm. "What's happened?" "Oh!" says Eight Years calmly, ig him. "I was afraid you'd September means chilly evenings gone—why, gimme a quarter, will you?

They're goin' t' the movies."

a darker the ocean, gives him the quarter.

of the Another d brown, you make us a swing today? You promised!

"CAY, dad," remarks fourteen in Sconventional excitement, "Youghta seen that baby dive today. Gee whiz!"
"Oh, Alfred!" rebukes mother, "can't you talk better than that?"
"Uh-huh." replied Alfred, "but say. Dad, what'lk we do after lunch? Go fishin' 'r stick around here and swim

No more delightful drifting into afterlunch sleep for Daddy, He's on vacation now and this "Sunday stuff" doesn't "DADDY!" sings Nancy, Janeing

D up to him. "We want to have a hay ride—could we, Daddy? And will you and mother chaperon if I get up the party? Will you. Daddy, please?" And Daddy makes arrangements for the wagon, pays for the hay, engages the driver and goes down to the village to buy the horns. In fact-well, it sert of reminds him of the hay rides they used to have, and like old times, being pulled along by horses and singing that way "DAD," his oldest son informs him.

WELL. Daddy's time is about over use it. So I said I'd get ours. And I've got on your pumps—well, mine are busted and I can't dance in those brown things and I got the white ones wet this afternoon when we went overboard out of the cance." Dad takes no part in this conversation beyond a grunt now and then. It is disconcerting to have a wor-shipful toddler grow so tall that you have to look up at him, and so old that he tells you instead of asking you. LL the rest of the year is mother's. A and she answers questions, gives permission, hears confidences, joins enertainments and receives advice about what to wear. But that time in summer belongs to Daddy, that is his vacation from the cares and worries of business.

It is up to him to "play," and the fields and woods and streets and beach re-echo with the universal summer cry of "Daddy!"

> The Question Corner Today's Inquiries Describe a striking, realistic pos-ter designed by a New York artist for advertising purposes. In a girl's or boy's room what novelty makes a very artistic shade for an electric light? What is a neat and useful way of saving the postal cards received during the summer? When reference is made to "cut-ting the Gordian knot" what is meant?

By what method can insertion be put into a dress in half the usual time?

How is a pretty linen blouse with Peter Pan collar trimmed? Yesterday's Answers Mrs. J. B. Newman, of Washington, D. C., has been appointed to the interesting and responsible to the interesting and responsible task of helping to draft new banking laws for Cuba.

A new type of flypaper which can easily be opened without getting the hands sticky is a narrow strip, coiled into a cube, with a hook by which to grasp it, pull it we and hang it in the room. up and hang it in the room. Instead of small tacks which are often unsatisfactory, use adhesive tape to fasten a shade which has come off its roller,

"Crocodile tears" are insincere ones, the significance being that a crocodile sheds tears as it cats its

Ribbons of a contrasting color run through embroidered cyclets in the side of a short jacket will attach it in a decorative way to the foundation of the dress t 6. A stylish taffeta street dress is trimmed with rows of narrow bro-caded velvet.

Two Minutes of Optimism By HERMAN J. STICH

Meet and Greet—A Gypsy Stogan

THEY had just returned from their vacations, and the glint of gladness and A rejuvenation and re-youthified energy and vitality and enthusiasm was in their eyes and bearing and handelasp. "How are you?" one asked. "You're looking fine,"

'First rate-you're looking fine and dandy yourself," replied the other; Soon they were wrapt in each other's joys, jokes, disappointments and antics that sensible humans indulge during vacations—reliefs, reactions and exhausts of over-conventionalized, under-exercised lives Before their vacations they had exchanged scarcely a perfunctory "good norning." infrequently a careless, unknowing nod-seldom a word of cheer or sympathy They spoke about the office, about their play, about their work, about the Bolsheviki, about the mountains, about the seashore, about the weather, about the heather, about the old year and about the new year, about everything and

And as they talked they discovered they could like each other, these quondam strangers, who before the summer, though they brushed elbows in the same establishment, exchanged hardly half a dozen words in as many weeks, After that they smiled at one another, occasionally hunched together, soon coled their ideas, discussed their purposes and their plans, increased their store of knowledge and method. Slowly but inevitably it showed in their work. Returns grew, progress could but accrue, things went well, the vacation had had uts humanizing influence. "Meet and greet"-it is one of the oldest gypsy mottoes-the gypsy's tent or is always open to the wanderer.

There are few finer, sounder slogans, few whose practice would do more to warm and cheer and inspire in this workaday, frequently needlessly cold world.

> No extra cost; no extra words; all extra quality. Instead of saying "corn flakes" say-

> > Post Toasties -best corn flakes

It's an extraordinary fact that this extra precaution is usually followed by particular people.

SPESHUL

if any of yer want to remembur that jelly layer cake that yu used to fill up on when yer was a kid jest hand yer grocer six cents fer a Jelly Junior TASTYKAKE.

it's no wunder the bakery's busy.

Yours truly, TASTY

